Withheld for Months by Franco's Army.

BY SAM BREWER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, Aug. 15.—How 2,000 of Gen. Franco's soldiers and sailors died in a battle that lasted only a few minutes off Cartagena just before the end of the Spanish war can now be told for the first time. Those who knew about it dared not talk without permission.

Arrow locates port where ship was sunk.

Nearly six months after the disaster, as preparations are being made to raise the ship in which the men went down, Spanish authorities have allowed details of the disaster to be published.

All on Board Perish.

On March 7, 1939, the crew of the transport Castillo de Olite and all the troops it was carrying perished when coastal batteries sank the ship as it tried to land men in Cartagena, Spain's most important naval base. Cartagena had been in Republican [Loyalist] hands throughout the war, but was reported to have been taken over by Nationalists [Franco's followers] in a revolt on March 6.

On Sunday morning, March 6, a Franco army radio operator in Cordoba picked up a message which at first he took for a hoax.

"This is the Nationalist [Franco] fleet in Cartagena," the voice coming over the air said. "Station at the service of Franco's Spain."

The operator verified the wave length as that of Cartagena and replied. He then took down Cartagena's message.

Fifth Column Rises.

Cartagena reported the city in the hands of the Nationalist "Fifth Column" [Franco sympathizers], which had risen within the city. Cartagena appealed to Cadiz and other Franco naval bases to send aid as quickly as possible to hold the city. Franco sympathizers in nearby cities were urged to go to Cartagena.

The news was transmitted to Franco's general staff and the Cordoba station broadcast the word to Cartagena that aid would be sent as quickly as possible.

Suddenly Off the Air.

Meanwhile, after four hours of broadcasting to Franco stations, the Cartagena broadcast was suddenly cut off. Franco stations calling Cartagena could get no reply. What really had happened in Cartagena was learned some time afterward.

Meanwhile inside Cartagena the "Fifth Column" leaders, in control of some of the shore batteries, with which Cartagena was heavily fortified, warned the Loyalist fleet lying in the harbor that it had fifteen minutes to surrender or be fired upon by coastal batteries.

The fleet refused and the shore batteries in "Fifth Column" hands opened fire, sinking two naval tugs and driving the rest of the fleet out to sea.

City Apparently Quiet.

When the Castillo de Olite arrived on the morning of March 7 it found Cartagena apparently quiet and started into the harbor. Suddenly it was fired upon, holed and sunk by a battery on the shore. It was not until the shelling of the Castillo de Olite began that the Franco forces learned that one of the forts had remained in Loyalist hands. All the 2,000 on board the ship went down with her.

Franco's staff, learning of the fate of the transport, hastily got word to two other transports which had left Malaga to return to that port.

Actually the struggle for Cartagena went on for three days before the Loyalists finally won. When the rising broke, Loyalists called for help and three Loyalist divisions started marching on the city to storm the points held by the Nationalists.

When the Loyalist divisions arrived they crushed the last resistance.

Must Have Danzig by Aug. 27—Nazis

PREDICT HITLER WILL ESTABLISH RULE OVER CITY

Estimate Chances of War at 80%.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 15.—"Danzig must return to the reich before the anniversary of the battle of Tannenberg on Aug. 27," staunch Nazis declared today. These spokesmen, though not outstanding leaders, are usually reliable because they hold key positions in the Nazi party machinery, enabling them to echo statements of their leaders.

Dotted line shows direct route from Berlin to Tannenberg.

These subleaders voiced a firm conviction that Danzig will be reunited more closely with Germany than it is now before the end of the month.

Hitler to Speak at Battlefield.

"The Fuehrer plans to go to Tannenberg for the twenty-fifth anniversary of the battle," they said. "It is unthinkable and intolerable for us to have him proceed to this old battlefield by the sea route. Only if Danzig and the northern part of the Polish corridor again are under our control can he travel directly to the battlefield and address the hundreds of thousands who will assemble there."

The number of theories and inside reports of what Adolf Hitler plans to do, as advanced by Nazis, are increasing as the apparently crucial days are nearing. Persons who returned from Italian-German conference at Salzburg said high officials asserted that Hitler will be satisfied with resuming full control of Danzig without touching the question of the Polish corridor at the moment.

Vision German Supremacy.

"It will be sufficient if we take Danzig now," they said. "This will mean such a tremendous increase in prestige that all resistance against German leadership in the southeastern countries of Europe and against active economic coöperation with Germany in Moscow will be wiped out automatically.

"When Germany then steps forward to take the territories still remaining in Poland's hands which Germany claims as her own, nobody will oppose her. German supremacy on the European continent will be incontestable."

"The chances of Danzig returning to the reich without an armed conflict should be estimated at 20 per cent—the possibility of an armed conflict with Poland about Danzig stand at 80 per cent—but you must not underestimate the importance of the 20 per cent," officials said in private conversations.

Want Polish Officials Ousted.

The "peaceful solution" as described by Nazis would involve the voluntary withdrawal of Polish officials from Danzig and the resignation of Dr. Karl J. Burckhardt, the league of nations commissioner in Danzig.

Burckhardt wanted to resign some time ago but Joachim von Ribbentrop, Nazi foreign minister, urged him not to precipitate matters. He told Burckhardt the time would come when his resignation would be welcomed.

That Germany is trying to move into the positions she craved by threats and peaceful means was indicated in a letter which a high German official sent in the name of the German government to Foreign Minister Georges Bonnet of France last week. Friends of Bonnet said the writer told him that if Poland resisted Germany's wishes, Poland would be "pulverized."

The letter explained Germany's stand on the Danzig issue.

Sophie Tucker Wins Decision in Actors' Row

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 15 (AP).—The American Federation of Labor's executive council tonight ruled that Sophie Tucker's American Federation of Actors had been too cruelly punished when the Associated Actors and Artists of America turned it out into the cold.

Sophie Tucker.

The executive council called on the AAAA to reinstate the union and ordered the International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employés, which had adopted the orphaned body, to withdraw the charter it gave the A. F. of A.

Compliance Is Expected.

The A. F. of L. lifted all suspensions issued by the various local and parent unions until questions involved can be solved by a joint committee of ten selected from the AAAA, Actors Equity, Chorus Equity, Radio Artists, Screen Actors, and the A. F. of L.

"This decision," said William Green, A. F. of L. president, "has been submitted to the AAAA, the A. F. of A. and the I. A. T. S. E., and we assume it will be accepted by all parties.

"This controversy was dumped in our laps as an extraordinary affair and it will be the purpose of the American Federation of Labor to have this decision carried into effect."

Assails Duplicate Levies.

Another actors' problem which the A. F. of L. council investigated was the question of actors who perform in the several mediums of stage, screen, and radio, and have to pay union dues for each medium.

"It impressed the council," Green said, "that it was an injustice for an actor to be compelled to join one union after another, even though he sang the same song or did the same act on half a dozen different mediums."

Miss Tucker, president of the A. F. of A. and champion of its cause since the A. A. A. A. expelled it, said she was pleased with the decision.

FATHER DIVINE AND 300 ANGELS TO VISIT HEAVEN IN CHICAGO

Father Divine will bring 300 of his "angels" to Chicago on Sept. 15 for a week's visit with members of the local branch of his heaven, it was disclosed yesterday. Daniel Travis, chairman of a committee which has been urging the Negro evangelist to make the trip, said yesterday that Father Divine has accepted the invitation.

The Harlem messiah and his followers will travel aboard a "Father Divine Special," Travis said. Nightly meetings will be held on the south side during his stay, and several boat trips have been arranged.

Travis said Father Divine had intended to visit Chicago during August, but the press of his heavenly duties in New York made the trip impossible.

DE VALERA TO BE IN CHICAGO FOR PARLEY ON UNITY

DUBLIN, Aug. 16 [Wednesday].—The government organ, The Irish Press, announced this morning that Premier Eamon de Valera has accepted an invitation to attend a meeting of the American Congress for the Unity and Independence of Ireland at Chicago in October at the conclusion of his projected good will tour of America.

The congress will be attended by delegates from all over America. It adjourned last May when Sean T. O'Kelly, deputy prime minister, addressed it. The congress, the Irish Press continued, will proclaim that the people of America support the demand of the people of Ireland for unity and independence.

Thus far there has been no definite announcement that De Valera would go to America, but it is felt in Dublin that unless there is some unusual development here he will go there this autumn.

Girl's Memory Trips Couple in $8,000 Theft

Day time burglars took securities valued at $8,000 and $150 in cash from a strong box in Mrs. Sidney Horn's apartment at 1322 Sherwin avenue last Dec. 1.

Police never were able to discover the identity of the thieves. It was suspected they were persons who had a key to the apartment, because they did not break into it.

Several days ago Mrs. Horn's maid, Josephine Gurka, 23 years old, said she wanted to quit her job. She seemed to have no good reason for leaving. Puzzled, Mrs. Horn asked police to question her to learn whether her leaving might be connected with the burglary.

Spurns Robbery Plot.

A man's suit was found in the maid's room. The suit proved to belong to the maid's brother. Detectives William Owens and Morgan Gardner asked the maid whether she had robbed the apartment. She said she had not. They asked her whether she had any idea who had committed the robbery.

The maid said she recalled something that might help: Two friends once had asked her to help them loot the apartment and she had refused.

The maid said they were Frances Licatto, 24 years old, a night club 26 game girl, and Mrs. Licatto's husband, Sebastian, of 4640 Drexel avenue, a mandolin player.

Admit Looting Strong Box.

The detectives questioned the couple yesterday. They said the Licattos confessed the burglary and confirmed the maid's story that she had refused to help them.

They came to visit the maid, they said, stole a key, had it duplicated, and then replaced it. They said they telephoned the maid on her day off and learned that she was going to the movies and the family would be away. Then, they confessed, they let themselves in and looted the strong box.

Licatto and his wife were locked up at the Rogers Park station last night and the maid was held as a witness. Licatto said he burned the securities, believing them to be valueless.

Dies Will Probe Drive to Draw U.S. Into War

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15 [Special].—Foreign propaganda, designed to involve the United States in a European war, will be investigated by the house committee on un-American activities, which will resume hearings tomorrow.

This announcement was made today by Chairman Martin Dies [D., Tex.] upon his return after recuperating at home from an appendectomy.

"One side in Europe wants our active participation," Dies said, "or, failing that, our sympathetic help. The other side wants us to remain neutral. There is a well organized plan to influence public opinion to involve us in war, either actively or financially."

England and France Want Help.

On the basis of his own research, the committee chairman asserted, England and France appear to be propagandizing with the hope of obtaining American military or financial support in case they go to war, while the Rome-Berlin axis nations are active in propaganda with the objective of keeping us neutral.

Representative Dies expressed the opinion that at least 80 per cent of the American people want to stay entirely aloof from any foreign wars. His committee was recreated and provided with new funds at the recent session of congress after a year's work for the previous congress. It held some hearings this spring, but has been in recess while Dies recuperated from his illness. However, his investigators continued digging up new material.

All Isms to Be Scanned.

Dies said the committee will delve into Fascist and Nazi activities in the United States and then continue its inquiry into communism here. The war propaganda study will come later, he said.

During its inquiry into communist activities, the chairman related, the committee will go to the west coast, as the former committee planned but never was able to do.

A charge that the administration is seeking to sabotage the investigation has come from a committee member, Representative J. Parnell Thomas [R., N. J.]. He said he had heard reports that certain committee members, whom he did not name, recently had discussed discontinuing the committee's hearing.

Hearing Schedule Protested.

Thomas described as an effort to "hit Dies below the belt" a telegram which he said had been sent to the chairman and other committee members by Representative H. Jerry Voorhis [D., Cal.] protesting Dies' decision to start committee hearings tomorrow.

The telegram, bearing Voorhis' name, said he could not be in Washington before Aug. 25 and added a protest against hearings before that date.

SOUTH WILL GET MAJOR SHARE OF ANNUAL BOOST

Average Increase to Be $2.50 Monthly.

BY WILL O'NEIL.

A new pay scale adding $60,000,000 a year—$5,000,000 a month—to the wages of most of the nation's 2,000,000 WPA workers was announced yesterday in Washington. The biggest increases were given unskilled laborers in southern states, while workers in some cities in the northeastern part of the country suffered small pay cuts.

Col. Harrington.

The new scale was announced by Col F. C. Harrington, WPA commissioner, who estimated that it will raise the average WPA wage from $53 to $55.50. He was ordered by congress at its last session to readjust WPA wages so that the only differences in pay between workers doing the same type of work in different geographical areas would be based on the differences in cost of living.

Small Increases in Chicago.

Harrington also announced a new classification of unskilled laborers based on whether they work indoors or outdoors. The classifications for semi-skilled [such as carpenters' helpers], skilled workers, and professional and technical workers were continued as they have been in the past.

The chief beneficiaries here of the new wage code are to be those in the semi-skilled and skilled classifications. The pay of the former was increased from $65 to $68.90, and that of the latter from $85 to $89.70 a month.

Unskilled Rate Increased.

All unskilled laborers in Chicago have been receiving $55.90 a month. After Sept. 1, when the new scale is scheduled to go into effect, the indoor laborers are to receive $52 and the outdoor laborers $57.20 a month.

Local WPA officials said that they were not notified of the new classifications of unskilled laborers and that they were unable to give an accurate report on how many of the laborers were indoor or outdoor workers. One official estimated, however, that the number of outdoor laborers would be at least triple the number of those working indoors.

The new scale removes pay differences between Chicago and cities in the east. Some of these, such as New York City; Buffalo, N. Y., and Cleveland, O., have been paying all unskilled labor $60.50 a month. All such cities will now be forced to pay the same rates for all types of WPA workers as those in Chicago.

Three New Regions Set Up.

Region No. 1 [wage range, $39.30 to $94.90 per month]—Connecticut, Delaware, District of Columbia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Maine, Maryland, Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, West Virginia, Wisconsin.

Region No. 2 [wage range, $44.20 to $94.90 per month]—Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Utah, Washington, Wyoming.

Region No. 3 [wage range, $31.20 to $81.90 per month]—Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia.

Maximum $94.90 a Month.

Wages are to vary from region to region and from county to county within each region, depending on the county population. The maximum relief wage will be $94.90 a month for professional and technical workers in counties of both region 1 and 2, where the largest city in a county has more than 100,000 people.

The maximum wage of $31.20 a month will be paid to indoor unskilled laborers in counties of region 3, where the largest town has a population less than 5,000. Those in the same classification in region 2 will get $44.20 a month and those in region 1 $39.30 a month.

Outdoor unskilled laborers in region 1, which includes Illinois, will receive $57.20 a month in counties with a city of over 100,000 people, $52 in counties with a city of from 25,000 to 100,000, $48 in counties with a city of from 5,000 to 25,000, and $42.90 in counties with no municipality of 5,000.

Greatest Boosts in South.

The greatest increase in wages was made among the unskilled laborers in southern states who have been receiving $26 a month in some of the sparsely populated counties. Those who are working outdoors will find their pay increased to $35.10 a month.

Harrington made no explanation of how the new rates were determined. During a recent visit to Chicago he said it would be necessary to reduce wages in the north if those in the south were increased. How he made major wage increases for the half million workers in region 3 without material decreases for those in regions 1 and 2 could not be determined last night.

Reports from Washington were that President Roosevelt's inner circle of advisers already is talking about a demand for increased WPA funds when congress reconvenes in January. The WPA appropriation act specifically provides that funds already appropriated must be made to last until the end of the fiscal year next June.

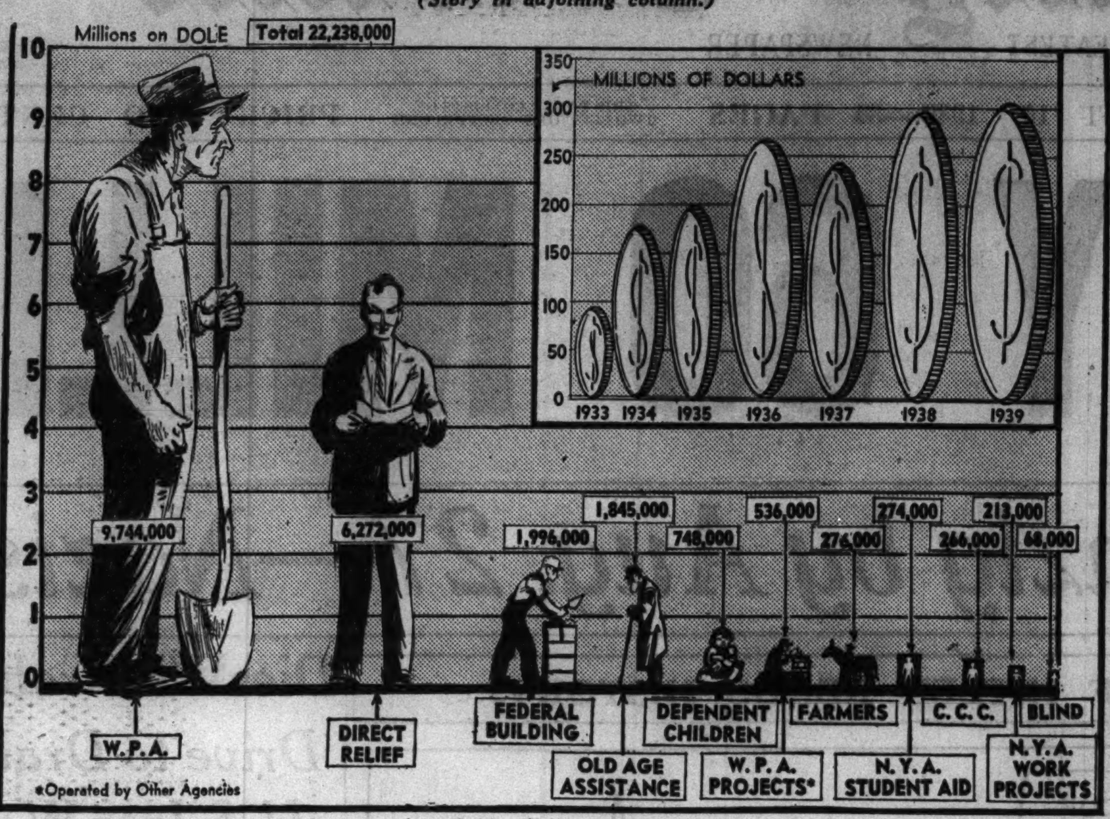
Appeals for More Millions.

The bill for the year ending last June carried the same provision when passed the preceding year. Despite this, Harry Hopkins, then head of WPA, appealed to congress for additional millions last spring and got them.

Charles E. Miner, Illinois WPA administrator, said last evening that he had not received copies of the new wage schedules and that he was unaware Col. Harrington had announced them.

How 22 Million Are Supported by Various Forms of Dole

(Story in adjoining column.)



Division among the various agencies of 22 million persons being supported by government dole. Amounts in the large chart and the inset, which shows costs for various years, are for the month of June only. The total supported by each agency is arrived at by multiplying the number receiving aid from the agency by four, which is the average number of persons being supported by each monthly payment.

22 MILLIONS GET PUBLIC DOLE IN MONTH OF JUNE

Cost $305,219,000; Tops 1937 and 1938 Figures.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15.—More than 22,000,000 persons in the continental United States received public assistance at a total cost of $305,219,000 during the month of June, according to a report issued today by the Social Security board.

The total of $305,219,000 for public assistance and federal work programs in June did not include administrative costs and costs of materials and equipment. The federal government's share of the $305,219,000 burden was approximately $250,000,000. At this rate, the federal government's yearly expenditure for public assistance and work relief would be 3 billion dollars.

The $305,219,000 total is substantially higher than the total of $294,353,000 for June, 1938, and the total of $244,204,000 for June, 1937.

Division of Costs.

The $305,219,000 total included general public relief, financed entirely by the states; special types of public assistance [old age assistance, aid to the blind and dependent children, etc.] financed jointly by the federal and state governments, and public assistance programs financed entirely by the federal government.

The items included are shown by the following tabulation:

Special types of public assistance	$ 47,090,000
General public relief	36,930,000
Subsistence grants to farmers	1,292,000
Civilian Conserv. Corps earnings	18,637,000
Earnings of WPA workers	134,241,000
Earnings of persons employed on WPA financed projects operated by other fed. agencies	7,189,000
National Youth Administration student aid and work projects	5,858,000
Earnings on other federal work and construction projects	53,983,000

The federal government bore the cost of all these items except the first, which it bore jointly with the states, and the second, which was borne entirely by the states.

Who Gets the Dole.

Individual recipients of public assistance and work relief included:

Old age assistance	1,845,000
Dependent children	748,000
Aid to the blind	68,000
Civilian Conservation Corps	266,000
NYA student aid	274,000
NYA work projects	213,000
Total	3,414,000

Recipients of public assistance and work relief on which families were dependent included:

Direct relief cases	1,568,000
Subsistence payment to farmers	69,000
WPA workers	2,436,000
Workers on WPA financed projects operated by other agencies	134,000
Persons employed on other federal work and construction projects	499,000
Total	4,706,000

The Work Projects administration estimates that four persons depend upon each WPA job. Using the same average for the other families, a total of 18,824,000 persons are dependent upon the public assistance and work relief programs in the last table. Added to the 3,414,000 individual recipients of public assistance, this gives a total of 22,238,000.

This number does not include unemployment compensation or old age insurance payments financed by pay roll taxes.

28 STATE-SPONSORED PWA PROJECTS UNDER INQUIRY IN LOUISIANA

New Orleans, La., Aug. 15 (AP).—Investigation of twenty-eight state sponsored Public Works administration projects into which the federal government poured many millions of dollars was announced tonight as a new phase of the government's many sided inquiry into state affairs.

William G. Elliott, special PWA agent, said eleven agents have been called into the investigation, which is centering on the $13,000,000 charity hospital project here. Sinking of the hospital buildings already has resulted in extensive cracking in some places, with repair estimates running up to $60,000.

Humidity Gets a Break; It Was the Heat City Felt

It was the heat you felt yesterday—not the humidity. Hot breezes from the south sent the mercury up to 90 degrees at 4 p. m.—within one degree of the all time record for Aug. 15, set in 1922 when the thermometer registered 91. Forecaster H. A. Downs said to keep cool. The forecast for today is partly cloudy and slightly cooler.

ROOSEVELT OFF FOR SYDNEY ON VACATION CRUISE

Halifax, N. S., Aug. 15 (AP).—The navy cruiser Tuscaloosa, with President Roosevelt aboard, weighed anchor at 6 p. m., Chicago time, today and sailed up the coast on an overnight run to Sydney, N. S., on Cape Breton Island.

The President, on a vacation cruise, did not come ashore at Halifax, but was visited aboard ship by Clinton MacEachran, United States consul general; Highways Minister A. S. MacMillan, acting premier of Nova Scotia; Mayor Walter Mitchell, and other officials.

Spectators crowded the waterfront as the Tuscaloosa and the Lang slipped downstream to sea after a seven hour stop.

4 BABIES BORN TO A KANKAKEE WIFE; ONE DIES

Kankakee, Ill., Aug. 15 [Special].—Quadruplets, two girls and two boys, were born here tonight to Mrs. Bertha Deschand, 23 years old. One of the boys died soon after birth but the attending physician, Dr. J. R. Wilkinson, said the other three seemed sturdy and had a good chance to survive. Each weighed between three and four pounds.

The first of the infants, a girl, was born at 8 p. m. A boy, another girl and the last boy, who failed to survive, arrived at short intervals, the multiple birth being completed in less than a half hour.

Virgil Deschand, father of the babies, is a spot welder in a plow factory. He and his wife have one other child, a girl a year old. Mrs. Deschand's condition was regarded as favorable.

WILMETTE VOTES ANNEXATION OF NO MAN'S LAND

Wilmette's village council last night approved a resolution annexing No Man's Land, a twenty-two acre tract fronting on the lake north of the present Wilmette boundary. The resolution will be published at once and the annexation will be complete when an official copy is filed with the county recorder ten days after publication. Under the new arrangement the area, now unincorporated, will pay village taxes to Wilmette and will have the services of the village fire and police departments. The annexation, which was made possible by special legislation passed by the Illinois general assembly, was approved by some of No Man's Land's business men.

Communists in N. Y. Plan Drive to Raise $250,000

New York, Aug. 15 [Special].—The New York state committee of the communist party announced today a campaign to raise $250,000 in a hundred days starting Aug. 23. The fund will be used, according to Israel Amter, communist state chairman, to "combat the treasonous program of the big financiers who plan to seize the reins of government in 1940."

STOCK HANDLERS GIVEN ARMOUR STRIKE WARNING

Livestock handlers in the stockyards were notified yesterday that unless Armour & Co. signs a contract with the Packinghouse Workers' Organizing committee there probably will be a strike in all Armour plants within ten days.

The notices were distributed to members of the Livestock Handlers' local 44, which together with the P. W. O. C. is a C. I. O. affiliate. The notice was signed by Ben Brown, president of the Livestock Handlers' union. It instructed handlers that they are to stay on the job if a strike is called but are not to handle Armour & Co. stock.

A delegation of 25 P. W. O. C. members left yesterday for Washington, D. C., where they will confer today with Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins. They are to present their proposal for an agreement with Armour. The P. W. O. C. has demanded that Armour bargain with it on a nationwide basis. Armour officials say they will bargain with individual union units in each plant.

PROTESTS GROW AGAINST SWITCH IN THANKSGIVING

Many States Will Keep Traditional Date.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15 [Special].—Mounting protests against President Roosevelt's plan to advance Thanksgiving day a week indicated tonight there may be two Thanksgivings in some parts of the United States this year.

Led by the rock-ribbed traditionalists of New England, numerous governors announced their states would observe the semi-religious festival day on the old date, the last Thursday in November, which falls on Nov. 30.

Other governors, most of them Democrats, said they would fall in line with the President's precedent breaking idea and do their gorging on turkey, cranberries, and football a week earlier, on Nov. 23.

For the last seventy-five years Presidents have proclaimed the last Thursday in November as Thanksgiving day and governors have issued conforming proclamations. However, there is no statutory provision for the day and governors are not bound to follow the President's lead.

First Proclaimed in 1789.

Celebration of a dual Thanksgiving would be the first time that has happened since nation-wide observance was proclaimed by George Washington in 1789.

Across the country swept the pro and con arguments, with contradictory attitudes being expressed on every hand. While a football rebellion grew against the disruption of schedules in the multimillion dollar gridiron industry, many mercantile leaders said the change would give the help to business which the President planned.

Lew Hahn, general manager of the National Retail Dry Goods association, in a statement in New York, approved the President's advancement of the date. "With a four week shopping period before Christmas instead of three," Hahn said, "the prospects for a strong advance in business activities during the rest of 1939 are considerably enhanced." His organization represents some 5,700 department, specialty, and dry goods stores.

Business Figures Cited.

Dr. David R. Craig, president of the American Retail federation, said in Washington that advancement of the date would logically help in the effort to increase the national income. Records show, Craig added, that retail stores do a greater amount of business in years when Thanksgiving falls four full shopping weeks ahead of Christmas. The interval is unusually short this year because there are five Thursdays in November.

The proposed change, however, left the football people both amazed and flabbergasted over what to do with games scheduled for Nov. 30. Some of the season's oldest and biggest grid games are scheduled for that date, which the schedule makers thought would be Thanksgiving day.

Moving the games back to Dec. 2 or up to Nov. 23 will be impossible in some cases because the teams already have games on or near those dates.

Colleges Plan Appeals.

Business managers of many colleges indicated they would prevail upon their governors to keep Thanksgiving day in their states on the old date so as not to interfere with traditional games which climax the season and bring old grads back for homecoming.

The greatest opposition to the change was expressed in New England. Residents of Plymouth, Mass., where the Pilgrims initiated the festival, were shocked.

The board of selectmen of Plymouth went into special session and declared absolutely that the rest of the country might do as it please but that the hearthstone of Thanksgiving was firmly planted—the Plymouth Rockers would have their turkey on Nov. 30.

Similar announcements were made by most of the New England governors. Also in favor of observing the old date were the executives of Wisconsin, Iowa, and Oklahoma.

Others Voice Disapproval.

Disfavor with the change was expressed by numerous other governors, both Republican and Democratic, who indicated they would withhold opposition for fear of making a bad situation worse.

Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel of Texas said he would proclaim two Thanksgiving days in his state, one Nov. 23 and the other Nov. 30, if the President carries out his plan.

In expressing disapproval, Gov. Nels H. Smith of Wyoming said: "This is the first time the President has done something that hasn't cost the taxpayers a lot of money."

"The President has the power to make this nation thankful, if he would, by improving the lot of its people," said Gov. Ralph L. Carr of Colorado. "He could better speed the time for Thanksgiving in that way than by changing the calendar."

In the absence of the governors of Minnesota and Indiana, no one in their offices would comment on the matter.

HORNER NOT INFORMED.

At the Highland Park, Ill., residence where Gov. Horner of Illinois is spending the summer seeking to regain his health, it was said that he had not been informed of the Thanksgiving change proposal. It is the policy to bring nothing to his attention except pressing state business.

The Inquiring Reporter

The Question.

Do you approve of President Roosevelt's decision to advance observance of Thanksgiving day from Nov. 30 to Nov. 23?

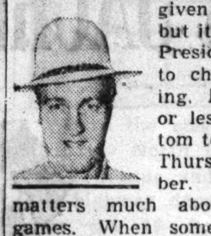
Where Answered.

In the loop.

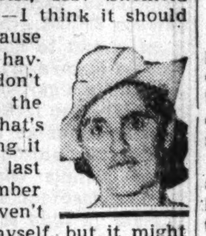
The Answers.

Mrs. Helen Pinn, 1734 South Artesian avenue, housewife—I think it's a good idea because Thanksgiving usually has been too close to Christmas to suit me. It will give us another week to get ready for the big day. I suppose it's true that it will mix up a few football games, but then I don't go to them. It will help merchants by giving them more time for the Christmas trade.

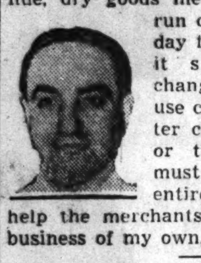
Frank A. Hochwarter, 5301 South Talman avenue, bank clerk—I haven't given it much thought, but it seems to me the President has no right to change Thanksgiving. It's become more or less a holiday custom to have it the last Thursday of November. I don't think it matters much about the football games. When some one throws a monkey wrench into the machinery some one else will always complain.



Mrs. Sarah Parisi, 2127 Sheffield avenue, housewife—I think it should be left as it is, because we're so used to having it then. I don't think it will help the merchants, so what's the use of changing it when it's been the last Thursday in November for so long? I haven't made any plans myself, but it might upset those of some people.



Alex Savage, 1458 Washburne avenue, dry goods merchant—It's been run on the last Thursday for so many years it should not be changed. There's no use changing it to better conditions for one or two persons; we must look out for the entire public. It won't help the merchants. I have a little business of my own, and I know.



Mrs. Mae Kahoun, 9436 South Leavitt street, dressmaker—I think the change is a good idea because the holidays are too close together. It's quite a coincidence that you should ask me, because I was discussing it with my father-in-law last night, and he agrees with me. The President has the right to make the holiday whenever he wants it to be.

NEW YORK FAIR ASKS $4,820,000 TO MEET DEBTS

Bondholders Requested to Give Up Funds.

New York, Aug. 15 [Special].—The New York World's Fair corporation, finding itself in financial straits because of lagging attendance, $2,700,000 in unpaid contractors' bills, and overtime labor costs, today appealed to its bondholders temporarily to sacrifice returns from their investment and approve a drastic three-way refinancing plan which will enable the fair to pay pressing debts.

The plan was disclosed as the fair published its financial statement for the period of April 30 to August 2.

The keystone of the plan is a plea to bondholders to surrender at once to the fair management $1,270,000 on deposit in a segregated fund at the Manufacturers Trust company for their protection under present terms by which forty per cent of all gate receipts must be set aside.

They are asked to permit this fund to be applied to the contractors' debts.

50 Per Cent Approval Needed.

Transfer of these funds requires permission of more than 50 per cent of the debenture holders. The transfer, however, would not be binding on those refusing permission. Their money would remain in escrow.

The fair corporation asks, as a second step, that the bondholders likewise waive their immediate right to $2,800,000 more as it accumulates in the segregated fund, and allow the fair to use their funds for debts also.

The third step is a request for permission of the bondholders to borrow $750,000 from New York banks to help tide the fair over its present difficulties. This is in addition to outstanding bank loans of $1,710,000.

The total amount the fair hopes to raise is $4,820,000.

The letter to bondholders blamed the fair's predicament in large part to the necessity of paying extra wages for overtime work to enable the fair to open on time, April 30. It placed the added cost of these wages at $1,450,000.

Congress Rejects Bill.

In addition, the fair had to spend $1,250,000 for construction which it had not planned. It spent $1,558,000 for the halls of nations built for foreign governments invited by the United States to participate.

The fair had believed that it would be reimbursed by the government, but an appropriation to cover this expense was rejected by congress.

In another official pronouncement, made separately from that directed to the bondholders or the financial statement, Grover Whalen and Bayard F. Pope, the fair's treasurer, said the plan, if adopted, would strengthen the position of the exposition and would put it on a permanently sound basis if total gate receipts amount to 25 million dollars by the end of the season, Oct. 31.

This is a much lower estimate of total admissions than any made previously. In the past official estimates of the total have ranged as high as 60 millions and never below 40 millions.

Added to the construction woes of the fair, according to a financial statement, is a serious lack of attendance. Up to Aug. 2 12,866,000 paid admissions were recorded, or 5,821,000 less than the estimates made before the fair was opened.

Miss Spreckels was on hand to defend the suit, in which Faye Dodd Wheeler is suing over a real estate lease.

FEDERAL AGENTS HUNT WRECKER OF STREAMLINER

Reno, Nev., Aug. 15 (AP).—Federal officers today took over investigation of the wreck of the streamline train City of San Francisco, and direction of the search for the maniac who, trainmen say, deliberately derailed the train, killing 23 persons and injuring 109.

The search was spurred by clews toward the identity of the man, or men, who moved a rail and thus plunged the seventeen-car train into a Nevada canyon Saturday night.

The Southern Pacific, which operated the train jointly with the Union Pacific and the Chicago and Northwestern, reported today thirty-seven of the injured still were in hospitals, most of them in Elko. These included Albert Johnson, of Chicago, who was reported dead yesterday. Doctors described his condition today as serious.

There were 194 persons aboard the train when it crashed into Humboldt river 250 miles east of Reno.

4 SURVIVE CRASH IN COSTA RICA OF U. S. ARMY PLANE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Aug. 15.—An American army B-10 bombing plane, en route to Duncan field, Tex., from France field, Panama, crashed today four miles from the new United Fruit company banana town of Parrita on the Pacific coast, 60 miles south of Puntarenas.

The four occupants of the plane escaped death. Lieut. Frank P. Smith suffered a broken nose. Second Lieutenant Leon W. Gray's face was cut; Staff Sergeant Merrill suffered broken ribs, and Corp. Payeski bruises.

Blame Motor Trouble.

Lieut. Smith and Sergt. Merrill were treated at the United Fruit company's hospital at Parrita. The others were brought to San Jose by a local plane. The bomber was a total loss.

The bomber was flying in formation with four others along the Pacific coast near Boca Naranho when it was forced down by motor trouble. The other planes returned to search for it and when they could find no trace they returned to San Jose. Commercial planes then took up the search.

While the hunt was on, the men made their way to a banana plantation of the United Fruit company. From there they telephoned their location and a plane was sent for them.

American Among 5 Killed.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Aug. 15 (AP).—Five men, including an American and a British member of parliament, were killed in the flaming crash of a British Airways airliner today in the straits of Storstroem, about 60 miles south of Copenhagen. Pilot C. F. C. Wright, the only survivor, smashed a window and escaped. He was picked up by a fishing boat.

The victims were Lieut. Samuel J. Simonton, Allentown, Pa.; A. C. Crossley, member of parliament for Stretford district, Lancaster; Herr Beuss, a German; C. A. Castello, a Mexican, and A. S. M. Leigh, radio operator.

[Simonton was graduated from West Point in 1927 and was commissioned in the army air corps. Until 1930 he was stationed at Fort Worth and Galveston, Tex. In 1930 he was employed by Standard Oil Company of Louisiana in its aviation division. In 1936 Standard Oil Company of New Jersey sent him to Europe as an engineer and lubricating oil expert with headquarters in London.]

STOREKEEPERS LOOK WITH FAVOR ON NEW DATE OF THANKSGIVING

President's Roosevelt's decision that Americans shall celebrate Thanksgiving day a week early this year—on Nov. 23—is satisfactory to many Chicago business men. Comments yesterday:

Maurice L. Rothschild, clothier: "I don't think it a bad thing to have more time between Thanksgiving and Christmas, since shoppers will benefit." Elmer T. Stevens, president of Charles A. Stevens & Co.: "I think the plan will be beneficial. I think the present Thanksgiving date of Nov. 30 is hard on stores, shoppers, and clerks. I should rather have it changed to a Monday, though, to afford a longer week-end." Frederick D. Corley, president of Marshall Field & Co.: "From the standpoint of merchants and Christmas shoppers, the new plan seems to have many advantages. Christmas shoppers will have six extra days. Many thousands employed as extra help for the Christmas season will receive an extra week of employment."

Michael Fox, executive of a firm that distributes turkeys, looked at it from the viewpoint of the man who eats them. Turkeys hatched for Nov. 30, he said, may be scrawny on Nov. 23.

AGAIN— THE CITY SINGS!

By CALEB

TODAY is "Day of a lifetime" in the career of a little lady who, some weeks earlier, was as surely one of the world's obscure as any of the world's millions could be. Then, she was merely a clerical worker in Barclay's Bank, in Middlesborough, England. Today, she voyages demurely excited, in the luxurious cabin of the Dixie Clipper, en route to Chicago as the famous Marjorie Farrage, adjudged, in contests sponsored by the London Daily Sketch, "the best and most charming young soprano in the British Isles."

Marjorie's is only one of scores of "talent discoveries" initiated by the Chicagoland Music Festival, whose tenth annual performance is scheduled for Saturday night next. Stories that read like Grimm or Hans Andersen have accented the great purpose behind this great pageant of a city singing. Such as a young housemaid, who had never sung publicly—signed for a concert tour. Another awarded a long-time radio contract. A young man, once unknown, now instructor in voice in a university. Another enabled by his Music Festival success to marry years before he had hoped . . .

Despite serious doubts that Soldiers' Field could be filled by the initial festival event of August 23, 1930—not only was its 100,000 capacity exhausted, but 25,000 more enthusiasts crashed the gates to see John Philip Sousa conduct the massed bands. In the years since, approximately 900,000 attendance—the participation of 50,000 singers and musicians from 35 states and two Canadian provinces—and steadily widening popularity—have stamped the project as an unqualified success.

Applauded by past assemblages have been such stars of voice and instrument as John Charles Thomas, Homer Rodeheaver, Al Jolson, Margery Maxwell, Alec Templeton, Marion Claire, Giacomo Rimini, Wendell Hall, and similar celebrities. Saturday night features, among many attractions, John Carter, of the Metropolitan Opera Company; Carrie Jacobs Bond, former Chicagoan, and beloved composer; a 3,500-voice Reunion Chorus singing the "Hallelujah" from Handel's Messiah; a thousand negro voices under the direction of J. Wesley Jones; the Illinois Rural Chorus of 500 voices; a square-dance pageant of nearly 2,000 persons; and the crowning felicity of fireworks.

The fact that proceeds of this splendid event go to augment the Chicago Tribune Charities, for support of Camp Algonquin, the summer Free Ice Fund, Good Fellows, and other beneficent works, renders the spectacle not only that of a great city singing—but of a great city giving, in true Chicago fashion, to the needy among its population.

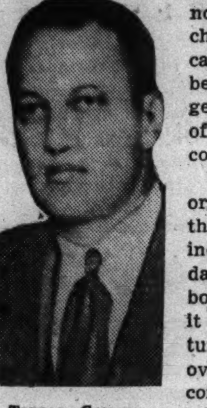
BAR ASSOCIATION WILL OPEN 'FIX' QUIZ TOMORROW

Charges Against M'Garry to Be Scrutinized.

The board of managers of the Chicago Bar association will meet tomorrow afternoon to consider charges that a case was "fixed" before Judge Eugene L. McGarry of the Felony court.



Tappan Gregory.

Tappan Gregory, president of the association, indicated yesterday that the board, if it deems it necessary, may turn the inquiry over to a special committee.

The procedure the bar association can take if it finds a judge guilty of unethical practices was explained last night by attorneys. The association could recommend the judge's impeachment by the legislature, recommend his disbarment by the Illinois Supreme court, or publish a report censuring him.

Commission Cites Charges.

The Chicago crime commission, in a bulletin issued Monday, demanded that the bar association, Chief Justice John J. Sonsteby of the Municipal court and State's Attorney Courtney take whatever action is believed proper in the charges against Judge McGarry.

The bulletin said the judge has been accused by the state's attorney and if there is provable evidence of judicial misconduct he should be removed from the bench.

Courtney's only comment yesterday was: "It looks as if the bar association is going into the matter." Judge Sonsteby is out of town on a vacation.

The case out of which the accusation grew involved Frank Klakowicz, charged with the theft of radios valued at $1,900 from a store where he formerly was employed. When tried originally before Judge McGarry, he was sentenced to a year in the Bridewell. It was alleged that the judge later vacated the sentence without knowledge of the state's attorney's office.

Prisoner Placed on Probation.

He granted Klakowicz probation last Thursday. Klakowicz was rearrested by the prosecutors and was indicted on a charge of burglary of tools from the radio store.

According to Emmett Moynihan, acting first assistant state's attorney, Judge McGarry said he had granted probation on the request of Ald. Joseph Rostenkowski [32d]. Rostenkowski denied asking the judge to "fix" the case and McGarry then denied mentioning the alderman's name in connection with the matter.

Klakowicz is scheduled to go on trial today on the burglary charge before Judge Joseph Sabath in Criminal court.

SLAYER OF GIRL DIES IN CHAIR AT INDIANA PRISON

Adrian Miller, 31 years old, was electrocuted early today in the Indiana state prison at Michigan City for the murder of Miss Alice May Girton, 18, in Fort Wayne last May 6. He was placed in the electric chair at 1:04½ a. m. and was pronounced dead at 1:11 o'clock.

Miller went to his death unassisted. Since his conviction he refused to seek an appeal or ask for executive clemency. Yesterday he spent the day studying chemistry, engineering, and philosophy, and in conferring with the Rev. E. H. Vurpillat, his spiritual adviser. In the evening he consumed a hearty steak dinner.

While a student at the Indiana State Technical school Miller lived in the same rooming house with Miss Girton, who had come from a farm at Winchester, Ind. He assaulted her in her room and then strangled her with her underclothing.

TENNES QUIZZED IN ANNENBERG, SKIDMORE CASES

Mont Tennes, one-time Chicago gambling overlord, testified yesterday before the federal grand jury investigating alleged monopoly phases of the affairs of M. L. Annenberg, Philadelphia publisher and New Deal critic. Later in the day he appeared before another federal jury investigating the income taxes of William R. [Billy] Skidmore, reputed collector of the present day gambling syndicate.

Tennes, now 60 years old, once controled the General News Bureau, racing information service later absorbed by Annenberg. His place in the gambling world is said to have been taken over subsequently by Skidmore. The appearance of Tennes before the Skidmore jury was interpreted as an indication of the wide scope of the inquiry into Chicago gambling.

Subpenas were reported yesterday to have been issued for the appearance in the Skidmore case of a number of former underworld figures, including Frank Nitti, reputed brains of the old Capone gang; Jack Guzik, Capone business manager; Paul Ricca, reputed former Genna gang member, and Murray Humphries, one-time Capone aid.

Mother, 17, Shot to Death as She Sleeps with Baby

Narrows, Va., Aug. 15 (AP).—A 17 year old mother was killed tonight by a shotgun blast fired through an open window of her home near here while she slept in a bed with her 6 month old baby. Giles County Prosecutor J. L. Dillow said he was seeking Clarence Epling, 22, the woman's husband, for questioning. The baby, shielded by the mother's body, was unharmed.

GIRL, 10, WITNESS IN WIFE SLAYING, REPORTED HIDDEN

Seek Delay in 2d Trial of Father Set for Today.

Martha Jean Matter, 10 years old, the state's principal witness against her father, James K. Matter, an industrial engineer charged with the slaying of his wife, is believed to have been hidden somewhere in the east by her paternal grandmother.

Martha Jean Matter.

This information will be presented this morning to Judge Michael Feinberg of the Criminal court by Assistant State's Attorneys Emmett Moynihan and Morris G. Meyers. Matter's long deferred second murder trial is scheduled to begin today.

Freedom Up to Judge.

As on previous occasions the state will ask for a continuance, because it is unable to produce its chief witness. It will then be up to Judge Feinberg whether Matter remains in jail awaiting trial, or is released a free man tomorrow.

Tomorrow is the deadline for the legal provision that a defendant in custody must be tried within four terms of court after the date a new trial is ordered. But the law specifies that the judge may grant additional time if he is convinced the state has made diligent efforts to locate a missing witness or has reason to believe the witness may be found. In that case a continuance of sixty days may be allowed.

Conviction Voided by Court.

Mrs. Matter was fount shot to death in the Matters' Brookfield home last Oct. 1. At the first trial Martha Jean was the chief witness against her father. He was convicted and sentenced to twenty years in prison, but the conviction was overruled by the Illinois Supreme court.

Martha Jean and her brothers, Robert, 4, and James, 2, were placed in the custody of their aunt, Miss Marion E. Matter of Harrisburg, Pa., after the trial. On June 10 Miss Matter reported that Martha Jean had been removed from her custody and that she did not know she child's whereabouts.

"After Miss Matter brought Martha Jean here for the first trial, all the other relatives apparently turned against her," said Detective Sergeant Bert Gray, who has just returned from Harrisburg. "She tells me that Martha Jean was missing when she came home from work on June 10, and that since then she has not spoken about the girl to her parents.

Mother's Visit to Son Told.

"Her mother, who is about 79 years old, made several trips to Chicago, for long conferences with her son. After the first trial he ordered his sister to give custody of the children to his mother. Mrs. Matter and Bobby left home more than two weeks ago. I believe they are somewhere in the east with Martha Jean, probably at another relative's."

Sergt. Gray said he believed Miss Matter when she told him, "If I knew where Martha Jean was I would bring her to the trial. If my brother is guilty of murder he should be punished." A report on Sergt. Gray's investigation will be presented in the state's petition today.

TWO ROBBED OF $376.

Two employés of a wholesale notions concern at 1426 South Halsted street were robbed of $376 yesterday by a man who halted their car at 18th street and Union avenue. The victims are Sam Robin, 947 South Leavitt street and Charles Reznick, 4111 West 15th street.

Gun Fight Staged in Bank; 2 Bandits Flee with $500

Middleburg, Ky., Aug. 15 [Special].—Two robbers and the cashier and bookkeeper of the Farmers' Deposit bank fought a gun battle in the bank today, but none was injured and the holdup men got away with less than $500. Cashier R. B. Young said he and his nephew, George Young, the bookkeeper, leaped into a vault, got pistols, and came out shooting as the robbers scooped up the money. About fifteen shots were fired.

4 PICKED TO TRY LABOR LEADER IN WIEBOLDT KILLING

State Qualifies Jurors to Inflict Death.

Four jurors, qualified to inflict the death penalty, were chosen yesterday at the beginning of the trial of Oscar Kofkin, 37 years old, labor union official.

Kofkin is business agent and vice president of the Taxicab Chauffeurs union. He was indicted for the murder of James Lawrence, an employé of the Wieboldt stores, who was slain by gunmen last April 12 during a labor dispute in which the stores were picketed.

Gunmen Fire Into Truck.

Lawrence was riding in a Wieboldt truck at Walton and Paulina streets when an automobile drew alongside. There was a burst of gunfire, and Lawrence was shot down. Arthur Bondel, former policeman and federal narcotic agent who was a witness, has identified Kofkin as one of the men in the automobile, but not as the one who fired at the truck.

Kofkin, according to one witness, leaped from the car with a baseball bat and chased the truck driver, Roy Rodgers. He did not catch him, according to the witness, but shattered the bat on the pavement in making a wild swing.

When the case was called before Judge John Sbarbaro yesterday, State Senator A. L. Marovitz and his brother, Harold, the defense attorneys, waived a jury. Assistant State's Attorney Richard Devine, however, demanded that one be impaneled.

State Loses Plea for Delay.

Devine had asked a delay in opening the trial because two state witnesses are missing. They are Frank Walsh and George Lawton, helpers on the truck on which Lawrence was riding. Devine did not press the point when Judge Sbarbaro ordered the trial started without them.

It was said that the possible testimony of Walsh and Lawton is considered unimportant as they did not see the man who fired the gun. Other witnesses are available to describe the shooting.

The prosecutor last saw the missing witnesses three weeks ago, but when policemen tried to serve them with subpenass Monday they could not be found.

NEW TRAFIC CODE BAGS INDIANA J.P., TWO CONSTABLES

Trials Will Test Curb on Fee Grabbing Officials.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 15 [Special]. —Two constables and one justice of the peace are facing criminal charges in courts within this county in cases testing the constitutionality of laws enacted this year to protect the motoring public against fee grabbing officials.

The three defendants are Constable Clarence R. Davidson of Penn township, Constable Walter Clements of South Bend, and Justice of the Peace Albert Walter of South Bend.

Davidson has been charged with five violations of the new code, the most serious of which is impersonation of a state policeman. He is awaiting trial in Mishawaka court.

Clements and Walter face charges in South Bend. Clements allegedly violated a provision of the new code that bars constables from making a trafic arrest except in serving a warant.

Appeal to Supreme Court.

Circuit Judge Elmer Peak sustained a plea of abatement in this case and the prosecution has appealed directly to the Indiana Supreme court to test the constitutionality of the provision.

Walter is out on bail after being charged with making a trafic arrest while not wearing an approved uniform. He also is in trouble in Michigan, according to the St. Joseph county prosecutor's office. Deputy Prosecutor William Plodowski today said Walter was charged with making a false arrest by Michigan state police after he stopped a truck near Niles, Mich., a week ago.

"Justices of the peace and constables of northern Indiana have organized to finance the defense of these men," said Plodowski this afternoon. "I am informed that they adopted a resolution for the constables to attend the trials in a body, wearing uniforms and side arms.

"They have hired able defense lawyers, Joseph Talbot of South Bend and Robert Proctor of Elkhart. They intend to fight any interference with their activities."

Work in Close Harmony.

All three of the defendants worked together in arresting, trying, and fining motorists who drove on U. S. highway No. 20 near Bendix airport, just west of South Bend, Plodowski said today. Both constables brought most of the cases developed during their patrols to Justice of the Peace Walter for disposition.

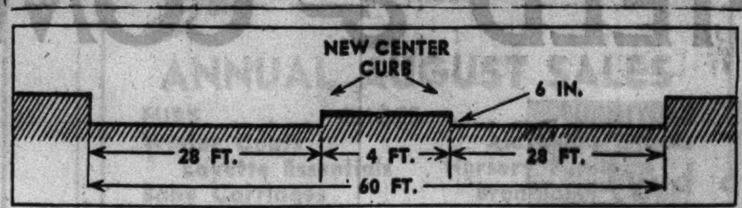
Trafic arrests are a main source of revenue for Indiana justices of the peace and constables. They are paid on a fee basis. They receive no money for acquittals. In convictions they share court costs exacted from the defendant. This is in addition to the fine, which goes to the public treasury.

Indiana state highway police are investigating activities of constables all over northern Indiana. Fremont Lemler, detective of the state police, is preparing information which will allow the department to proceed against a number of constables if the Supreme court sustains the new trafic code.

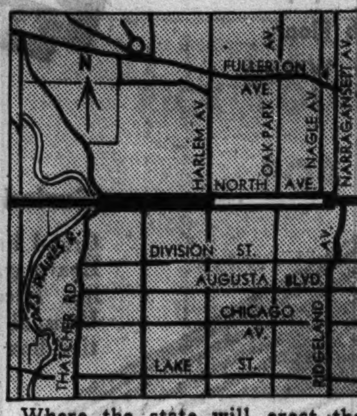
Boat Upsets as Fishermen Change Seats; One Drowns

John Martin, 40 years old, 349 East 81st street, drowned yesterday while fishing in Osterhout lake, near Grand Junction, Mich. While attempting to change ends in their rowboat, Martin and Harry Wulfer, 7471 Prairie avenue, fell into the water when the boat overturned. Martin could not swim. Wulfer tried to swim ashore, but was rescued by other fishermen.

State to Erect Curb in North Avenue



Cross section diagram of type of curb to be erected in North avenue between Thatcher and Nagle avenues by the Illinois highway department.



Where the state will erect the curb in North avenue between Nagle avenue and Thatcher road. The highway department first will pave the 18 foot center strip (white) between Harlem and Nagle avenues.

The Illinois highway department yesterday awarded a $53,778 contract for the construction of two miles of center curb in North avenue between Thatcher road and Nagle avenue. It will be the state's first undertaking of this character, an extended physical separation of opposing streams of trafic. Functionally similar is the center curb on the approaches to the outer link bridge as built by the Chicago park district.

The North avenue job will be of unusual design. It will consist of a concrete center strip four feet wide raised six inches above the pavement level. At present this busy highway consists of a single 60 foot slab between Thatcher and Harlem avenues. From Harlem to Nagle avenue, there is an 18 foot earth center strip which will be paved incorporating the broad curb.

"This raised center strip," said Kendrick Harger, district state highway engineer, "will serve as a safety island for pedestrians, as well as preventing head on collisions, haphazard U turns and left turns. There will be openings at regular intervals."

2 CARS COLLIDE WITH FREIGHT TRAIN; 4 HURT

Two automobiles collided with a Chicago & Eastern Illinois freight train yesterday at 95th street and Eggleston avenue. Four of the five persons in the automobiles were injured slightly and the fifth was unhurt, although the automobile in which four were riding was carried 150 feet by the locomotive.

It was said that the accident occurred because the gateman was absent from his tower. The gateman, Thomas J. Burke, of 5608 Normal boulevard, told police he had left his post on an errand. The injured are Charles Mazoucha, 3729 Arthur avenue, Brookfield; his wife, Sylvia, and their sons, Charles Jr. and Robert, 12. They were treated at the Little Company of Mary hospital. Their car was struck by the locomotive. The other car was driven by John Carr, 10212 Lowe avenue.

Pasquale Coczone, 89 years old, 2851 Flournoy street, died early today in the Mount Sinai hospital of injuries received Monday when he was struck by a truck at Roosevelt road and Mozart street. The driver was Henry Buker, 26, 427 St. James place.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 509 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these 395 were killed in Chicago, where 13,257 were injured in trafic accidents in the same period.

115 LABORATORIES AUTHORIZED FOR MARRIAGE TESTS

Dr. Herbert E. McDaniels, coördinating bacteriologist for the state health department, said yesterday that 115 diagnostic laboratories in the state have been authorized to make venereal disease tests for couples desiring marriage licenses. He said 225 of 250 laboratories in the state applied to the state health department for approval and that 110 are under inspection. Dr. McDaniels also said that applications for approval of diagnostic work are being received from many physicians who conduct their own small laboratories. Under a new law which went into effect Aug. 1 couples desiring licensing must show reports of tests made by approved laboratories.

FOUR MOTORISTS JAILED; LICENSES OF 5 IMPOUNDED

2d Driver Defies Court; Forfeits Bond.

Four motorists received jail sentences in Safety court yesterday. Drivers' licenses of five others who gained continuances on trafic charges were impounded by Judge Francis Borrelli.

The current campaign to make the streets safe moved forward with these developments, but was checked in another sector. For the second time in recent weeks a driver defied the court and failed to appear to answer to a charge of reckless driving.

He is Joseph Sircusa, 23 years old, 405 South Ashland avenue. He forfeited his $50 bond and became a fugitive. The other driver is Mrs. Joan Meriault, 26 years old, who has eluded police searchers for more than two weeks.

Seized After Police Chase.

Sircusa was arrested Sunday by Park Policeman Frank Goldthwaite, who commandeered two automobiles to pursue him for ignoring a trafic light. Sircusa stopped at Ogden avenue and Washington boulevard after he had rammed another automobile.

He was sentenced to a year in the Bridewell in 1937 for carrying concealed weapons.

One of the drivers sentenced yesterday was Leonard Grieger, 33, of 7110 Cornell avenue. He got ten days in the county jail for leaving the scene of an accident, and his driver's license was revoked for one year. Grieger's wife, Viola, fainted when sentence was imposed.

Fined for Lacking License.

James Wallace, 42, colored, 3532 Wabash avenue, had been in jail 8 days awaiting trial and this was allowed to go as his sentence on a charge of reckless driving. He was fined $5 for failing to have a driver's license. The others sent to jail:

Wyatt Porter, 43 colored, 5147 Calumet avenue, reckless driving and driving while intoxicated, ten days. License revoked one year.

Thomas Salamone, 22, of 512 North Monticello avenue, five days, reckless driving. License revoked for one year.

Louis Galik, 3916 South Ridgeland avenue, Berwyn.

William Peterson, 2657 Fullerton avenue.

Jacob Levin, 1526 Komensky avenue.

Maurice O'Connell, 4041 Maypole avenue.

Joseph J. Fick, 824 North Paulina street.

All except Levin are accused of reckless driving. He is charged with leaving the scene of an accident.

TWO RECAPTURED PRISONERS FACE TRIAL ON SEPT. 8

Two prisoners who were recaptured after they had escaped from the administration building of the County jail last Thursday were arraigned before Judge Charles S. Dougherty in Automobile court yesterday. They are facing fifteen charges of automobile larceny, to which they pleaded not guilty. Their trial was set for Sept. 8.

The recaptured prisoners are Peter Dutkiewicz, 22 years old, of 4250 South Knox avenue, and Stanley Puzio, 22, of 5107 South Lorel avenue. Arraigned with them were Sarafino Savaglio, 19, of 5651 51st street, and Anthony Fronczak, 28, of 4331 South Knox avenue. Police said all are members of the same automobile larceny gang.

Another alleged member of the gang who escaped but was shot and recaptured is Joseph Salecki, 22, of 5840 South Harlem avenue. He was in too serious a condition to be in court.

WORKMAN DIES OF BURNS.

Frank Suski, 50 years old, of 4330 South Hermitage avenue, died last night in the Loretto hospital of burns suffered Monday when he fell into a vat of oil used in tempering metal axles.

REPORT ON WIDOW SLAPPED IN CHINA SENT TO AMERICA

Halted by Japanese Guard at Tientsin Concession.

TIENTSIN, Aug. 15 (AP). — The American consulate was reported to have sent Washington, D. C., a full account today of the slapping of a 59 year old American widow by a Japanese sentry after finding a Japanese explanation unsatisfactory.

It was understood the report was made after a visit by Japanese Vice Consul N. Nishida to the consulate to attempt adjustment of the incident. It involved Mrs. Mary Frances Richard, who was slapped and detained for an hour yesterday when she sought to enter the Japanese blockaded French concession.

The Japanese consulate said the differences arose because of language difficulties and Mrs. Richard's alleged arrogance when she was called upon to produce identification papers.

Native of San Francisco.

Mrs. Richard, a native of San Francisco who has been a resident of China for thirty-four years, said the slapping took place when she tried to enter the concession with vegetables and fruits which are virtually prohibited in the blockaded area. She was carrying the produce into the foreign area for use in her small canning business which she operates to supplement her income as a teacher of English. Her account follows:

The sentry ignored her identification card written in Japanese and issued by the American consulate and ordered her into a shed where another Japanese ordered her to dump her baskets.

Sees Chinese Undressing.

She was about to comply when she saw a Chinese in front of her removing his trousers while undergoing search by the Japanese. Thereupon she turned and dumped the vegetables and fruit in another place. This apparently angered the sentry, an argument ensued and the Japanese slapped her hard with his open palm. She said she was dazed by the blow.

Mrs. Richard said Vice Consul Nishida appeared later, apologized, and offered to take her home in his car but that she declined.

She said that Nishida accused her of being "very angry" and that she retorted:

"Young man, I'm not angry but humiliated and insulted. I only want justice."

Mrs. Richard said the sentry kept one pumpkin, but returned her other vegetables.

Report Consulate Set Afire.

HONGKONG, Aug. 15 (AP).—An angry mob of anti-British demonstrators was reported today to have attempted to set fire to the British consulate at Swatow. Domei, the Japanese news agency, said the demonstrators, identified as Chinese, were brought under control only after the Japanese army posted guards around the building.

Domei said the mob sought revenge for the injury of a Chinese last Thursday in a clash with British sailors during another demonstration.

Japan Delays Alliance.

TOKIO, Aug. 15 (AP).—Holding the door open for a possible deeper entry into European affairs at some future time, reliable sources said tonight that Japan had determined to confine her present major activities to the far east.

The decision, it was reported, was reached on Aug. 8 after an exhaustive discussion of recent international developments by Premier Baron Kiichiro Hiranuma and his ministers of war, navy, finance, and foreign affairs. The development left Premier Hiranuma on top in the latest controversy. The most serious policy problem has been the question of a military alliance with Italy and Germany. The three powers already have agreed to exchange information to combat international communism.

HUNGARIANS PLAN TO SEND EXPORTS THROUGH POLAND

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Aug. 15 (AP).—The newspaper Magyar Nemzet today said that Hungarian exports will be routed through Poland instead of Germany unless the German railways rescind an increase in freight rates.

The newspaper estimated a new German order required shippers to pay in the currency of the countries to which their goods are consigned boosted rates 50 per cent. Hungarian trade with the Netherlands and England would therefore be adversely affected.

Boy Scout Climbs for Cat, Gets Stuck; Both Rescued

BISHOPSTOKE, England, Aug. 15 (AP).—Boy Scout John Williamson, 15 years old, did his good turn today by climbing an ivy-covered, sixty foot church tower to rescue an imprisoned cat. Parishioners did theirs by splicing ladders together and rescuing both Scout and cat after the boy got stuck at the top.

POLES JAIL NAZIS AS SILVER COINS VANISH IN GDYNIA

BY ALEX SMALL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WARSAW, Aug. 15.—The city of Gdynia, Poland's lone all Polish port on the Baltic sea, has been forced to issue token money to take the place of the small change, which has disappeared. This is the latest feature in what the Poles here claim is a deliberate German attack on Polish currency.

Gdynia's token money consists of slips of paper issued by the municipal savings banks which are described as "bonds"—meaning each slip is good for one zloty and redeemable at that figure as small change becomes plentiful again.

No Change Back.

American travelers, who arrived here from Gdynia and who used these tokens, say that smaller coins than the zloty—about 20 cents—have disappeared in Gdynia. For prices which represent a fraction of a zloty, the purchaser is out of luck. He does not get any change on the odd zloty.

In Warsaw small change still is abundant. The issuance of tokens is reported nowhere else. The explanation given here is that it is easy to smuggle Polish coins from Gdynia into the Free City of Danzig. Polish authorities declare it is significant that the greatest shortage of silver should be at Gdynia, which is in the Polish corridor and only a few miles away from Danzig.

To support their theory, Polish political circles allege that the German wireless station at Breslau, which broadcasts propaganda every night in the Polish language, issued a warning to Poles Sunday night that their money soon would be no good and that they had better hoard silver.

Hundreds Reported Seized.

German agents, according to Polish sources, have been discovered by Polish police to be buying up silver and alloy coins, offering approximately 20 paper zlotys for 16 zlotys of coin. Hundreds of arrests are reported to have been made. Those seized have been sent to the Polish concentration camp at Kartuza Bereza. According to one report, a raid on a German branch bank at Kattowitz, in Upper Silesia, disclosed hoarded coins worth 92,000 zlotys.

Trouble with small change began about two months ago when the three coins of silver, which are of two, five, and ten zloty denominations, suddenly became scarce along with the one zloty pieces which are made of a cheaper alloy. Their places were taken by smaller coins which are worth fractions of one zloty. The result is that in change for a 20 zloty bill—the smallest denomination of paper money—a person might receive as many as 90 coins.

To remedy the situation, the treasury announced it was going to strike off new silver coins to the value of fifty million zlotys.

WAR OVER DANZIG PROBABLE, PRESS WARNS ITALIANS

[Copyright: 1939: By The New York Times.]

ROME, Aug. 15.—Italians observing "Ferragosto" [Feast of the Assumption]—the greatest holiday of the year—read in their newspapers this morning grave warnings that war is possible and even probable over Danzig. The press made it clear that in such a conflict Italy will be at Germany's side.

Giovanni Ansaldo, a close friend of Foreign Minister Galeazzo Ciano and who ranks with Virginio Gayda in his importance as a government spokesman, wrote in the Turin Gazetta del Popolo that the holiday makers should not delude themselves by the peaceful atmosphere of their resorts.

"The Salzburg meetings and the informative German note which followed constitute the last warning to all the interested parties that they must adapt themselves to acceptance of a natural and just solution of the Danzig question and renounce the policy of encircling the axis powers," he said. "It may interest the powers to understand this warning which is made to them for the last time looking them straight in the eye."

[The "informative German note," mentioned above, was linked last night in some diplomatic circles with the mysterious reports of a proposed four power conference and a thirty day truce on the Danzig row, which stirred European capitals Monday.]

AUG. 20 IS FOCUS OF WAR DANGERS, REP. FISH SAYS

OSLO, Norway, Aug. 15 (AP).—Representative Hamilton Fish [R., N. Y.] said tonight "we are drifting toward war" and "if something is going to be done to prevent war it must be done immediately."

The American congressman, who is a member of the house foreign affairs committee, arrived for the Interparliamentary Union congress here in a plane lent by Germany's foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop, whom he visited yesterday. He is chairman of the American delegation of twenty-five.

"My impression after having seen leading men in England, France, and Germany is that the international situation is more grave now than at any time since September of last year," said Fish. Declaring "the only result of war will be ruin and communism," Fish added. "I have seen men on both sides of the two camps. I fear war may break out on Aug. 20."

Fish said he would urge the conference here to approve a resolution proposing to the big powers a thirty day political truce during which "the foreign ministers of Germany, Italy, France, and Britain should meet and see if there is a way out."

POLAND BLASTS PEACE HOPES IN DANZIG CRISIS

Denies It Approved Plan for Negotiation.

WARSAW, Poland, Aug. 15 (AP)—Official circles tonight sharply denied reports that Dr. Karl J. Burckhardt, league of nations high commissioner to Danzig, took with him to Berchtesgaden Friday a suggested solution to the Danzig dispute which had the approval, or knowledge, of Foreign Minister Josef Beck.

It was stated that Poland "has no knowledge of the various widely rumored solutions to the Danzig question" and that the visit of Burckhardt to Adolf Hitler "has no connection whatsoever" with this country.

Polish circles took the same attitude to reports from Geneva that the league is prepared to abandon its "protection" of Danzig if Poland would agree to such a move.

Direct Negotiations Demanded.

"Such reports cannot be taken seriously, and must be viewed against the background of the present glut of German propaganda," it was stated.

"It can only be reiterated that Poland is prepared to negotiate only directly, and on the basis of the principles enunciated by Foreign Minister Beck in his speech to the sejm [parliament] in May."

In this speech, Beck told the Polish parliament that Danzig must remain a free city, with its present economic ties with Poland preserved and with the rights of the Polish minority respected. He insisted that negotiations over Danzig could only be conducted on this basis.

The Polish telegraph agency reported that German authorities closed all border trafic along that part of their Silesian frontier facing the Polish district of Rybnik.

The agency added that all telephone communication between this German district and Poland had been cut off.

No reason for this action was given although the impression in Polish circles is that it is a move to provide secrecy for German fortifications or troop movements in this area.

Poland enjoyed a holiday today on the occasion of the 19th anniversary of the battle of Warsaw in which Poland defeated the Bolsheviks in 1920.

The camp of national unity, a movement initiated by Marshal Smigly-Rydz, commander-in-chief of the Polish army, held a mass meeting in Warsaw. A resolution was passed pledging "complete resistance" to any "active aggression against Poland."

Tries to Stem Strife.

FREE CITY OF DANZIG, Aug. 15 (AP).—Dr. Karl J. Burckhardt, high commissioner of the league of nations in Danzig, today tried to stem mounting German-Polish strife over the free city's future.

Although Burckhardt conferred with Adolf Hitler at Berchtesgaden last week, there was uncertainty what other steps he would take. The commissioner denied, in a communique, that he intended to go to London to present reported plans for a peaceful settlement of the crisis.

"I was not in Geneva," the commissioner's communique said. "I have not had any meeting with the general secretary of the league of nations, and I shall not go to London. I have had, in Germany, a short conversation about internal Danzig questions."

Confers With Nazi Chief.

One Nazi party leader ridiculed the idea that Burckhardt could serve as a "mediator" in the dispute.

Responsible circles believe that "protective measures" or, as is frankly admitted, the militarization of Danzig are completed. The police force of Danzig, a city of 400,000 population, is believed by many observers to number 12,000 men.

Hitler Guards Carry Rifles.

Practically no effort is being made to conceal the military nature of the so-called protective police force. Black-uniformed Hitler guards carrying rifles and field packs can be seen nightly riding out of the city in army trucks. A squad of young policemen in green uniforms marched through the center of the city today pulling three mounted machine guns.

Airplanes are observed with increasing frequency over the city. There are more army trucks and more field cars driven through the streets than in previous weeks.

There are concrete impediments on some border roads and concrete implacements on many culverts for cutting off roads which lead to the border. The pontoon bridge over the Vistula river, which will provide better communication from Germany's east Prussia, will be opened to trafic Saturday.

Hotels are crowded to capacity and an increase in the number of smartly groomed young officers of military bearing—like those seen in Berlin—is apparent on the streets and in the cafes.

BRITAIN RECEIVES REPORT

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 15.—Viscount Halifax, British foreign minister, today received a report from Dr. Karl J. Burckhardt, league of nations high commissioner to Danzig, on his conversation with Adolf Hitler at Berchtesgaden, Bavaria, last Friday.

It was reported in London that Burckhardt has communicated a plan given to him by Hitler for settlement of the Danzig and Polish corridor questions between Germany and Poland. It was said the scheme was decided upon last week in discussions at Berchtesgaden by Hitler, Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano of Italy and Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop of Germany. The plan, according to leftist circles here, constitutes an eastern European Munich.

Report "Strictly Confidential."

Though it was denied that the British government had any previous contacts with Burckhardt or the Germans, these circles said the plan was connected with another phase of the appeasement movement. Official sources, however, disclaim any deal is being made behind the backs of the Poles. Nevertheless, the Poles were reported to be furious about Burckhardt's visit to Hitler.

The information sent to Halifax by the league commissioner is being treated by the British foreign office as strictly confidential. British officialdom insisted that Burckhardt did not give Hitler any message from Prime Minister Chamberlain.

British foreign office officials declared that any attempt to change the present status of Danzig by force or threat of force which Poland felt compelled to resist would call into play immediately British and French guarantees of armed support. At the same time British officials said they would welcome any peaceful solution to the problem acceptable to all sides concerned.

A sign that something was afoot was seen in the sudden return to London of Dr. Fritz Hesse, press adviser to the German embassy. He recently was transferred to the Berlin foreign office after spending five years in London.

Hesse arrived at Croydon airport just before midnight. He was the only passenger on a chartered German plane from Salzburg. Diplomatic sources said they believed his return signifies a further intensification of German propaganda in Britain in view of pending events.

VERSAILLES, France, Aug. 15 [Special].—King Zog and Queen Geraldine, deposed rulers of Albania, which was taken over by Italy, are spending a quiet vacation at the Château de la Maye at Versailles. They are visiting here while preparations are being made for them to establish residence in England. With them is their young son, Prince Alexander, who was born just before Premier Mussolini's troops forced them to flee from Albania.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—Marjorie Farrage, who embarks on the Dixie Clipper tomorrow for America to sing as Miss Britain in the Tribune's Chicagoland Music festival in Soldiers' field, next Saturday was the guest of honor at a sendoff party today at the estate of Mme. Lilly Payling in Sydenham on the outskirts of London.

Mme. Payling, famous Australian concert singer who has been helping Miss Farrage keep her voice in trim since she was selected by the London Daily Sketch to represent Great Britain in Chicago, invited 200 persons prominent in London music circles to hear Miss Farrage sing on the eve of her takeoff.

Sings Two Songs.

Miss Farrage sang twice to the assembled guests in Mme. Payling's drawing room. The first time she sang "Cherry Ripe," an old English song. She followed this with the waltz song from "Tom Jones." These are the numbers she plans to sing at the festival. Tea then was served, after which Miss Farrage sang two more songs, this time "Il Bacio," by Arditi, and Mozart's "Alleluia." Mme. Payling expressed herself as being particularly pleased. "Marjorie will be a great credit to England," she declared.

Distinguished Guests.

Among the more famous persons present were Sir Frederick O'Connor, diplomat; James Baird, television inventor, and his wife, who is a noted pianist; Frank Mummery, widely known pianist, and Mlle. Nawiasky, Russian portrait painter, who is now doing Mme. Payling's portrait.

Miss Farrage, a 20 year old blonde from Darlington, 250 miles north of London, confessed to a certain amount of excitement as the hour of her departure drew near. She never has been in an airplane before.

"I am excited but I am not nervous. Why should I be?" she said. "I have always wanted a chance to sing before a big audience and now I am getting it. I am going to do my best."

A Jolly Fine Trip.

Miss Farrage will leave Victoria station at 9:40 a. m. tomorrow on a train which will take her to Southampton, where she will board the Clipper at 1 p. m. She will arrive at Port Washington, in New York, on Thursday afternoon.

"It will be a jolly fine trip," she said. "I am thrilled to death."

For good luck she is taking a panda with her—not a real one, of course, but a small imitation of the animal which has drawn thousands to the London zoo during the last year. It will be her mascot.

Today she expressed thanks for the hundreds of letters and telegrams she has received from all over Great Britain wishing her well at the Chicagoland Music festival. Her last public appearance before boarding the Clipper was her meeting with Tyrone Power, American film star, at the Gaumont theater tonight. He congratulated and assured her she would have a splendid time in America.

SIMPSON URGES GREATER USE OF OCEAN AIRMAIL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 15.—James Simpson of Chicago, chairman of the Commonwealth Edison company, who is vacationing in Europe, today advocated more extensive use of trans-Atlantic air mails.

"It is astonishing what is now being done in airway communication," he said. "I posted a letter in Chicago on Saturday on an important business matter and had a cabled reply to it on Monday."

Simpson said he thought Europeans were not giving sufficient attention to American trans-Atlantic clipper service with respect to the mails. He is leaving tomorrow for Cannes, France. He will sail for home at the end of August.

1899 AUTOMOBILE FOUND; IT RUNS 14 MILES AN HOUR

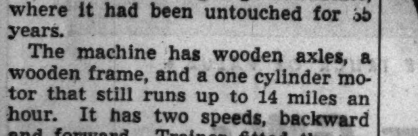
An 1899 Brush automobile, the second of its kind to be manufactured, was purchased yesterday by the Watson Finance corporation, 2240 Michigan avenue, from Edward T. Trainor, head of an auto parts concern at 7234 Stony Island avenue. Trainor said he found the car in a garage downstate, where it had been untouched for 35 years.

The machine has wooden axles, a wooden frame, and a one cylinder motor that still runs up to 14 miles an hour. It has two speeds, backward and forward. Trainor fitted the car with specially built tires.



Reward Offered

REGINA HIRSCH.

Regina Hirsch had been growing lax in her studies. Because she was overweight the family physician had strictly forbidden her sweets. So on Sunday, July 9, Samuel Hirsch, 5110 Kenwood avenue, gave his daughter a severe scolding when he found her purse stuffed with candy bars. The next day the girl, who is 16 years old, withdrew $500 from her savings account and left home.

No word has been received from her, nor has any trace of her whereabouts been found. Her worried father is searching for her in New York and her brother is scouring towns on the western coast.

The story of the girl's disappearance came to light yesterday when, impelled by the critical illness of her mother, Mrs. Hirsch's brother, Abraham Winter, president of a finance company, offered a reward of $1,000 for information leading to the runaway heiress. For Regina is to inherit a $25,000 fortune and valuable jewels when she is 21. The bequest is from her grandmother, of whose will Winter is executor.

Miss Hirsch was a junior last term in the Hyde Park High school. She has black hair, which she wore in a long "bob," gray-blue eyes, and is 5 feet 6½ inches tall. She weighs 170 pounds.

BEAUTY CONTEST JUST A SHADOW OF ITS OLD SELF

The machine age invaded the world of beauty last night. Fifty young Chicago girls who assembled in the Hotel Sherman to begin competition for the title "Miss Greater Chicago," were judged by a mechanical contrivance known as the shadowgraph.

The shadowgraph consists of screens upon which life size front and profile silhouettes of the ideal Miss America are portrayed. Contestants in bathing suits posed behind the panels and strong lights threw their shadow silhouettes upon the screens for comparison.

Judges viewed the shadow instead of the contestant herself.

Finals in the contest will be Aug. 25. The winner will represent Chicagoland in the Miss America contest in Atlantic City, N. J., in September.

MacMurray Gives $50,000 to College at Jacksonville

Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 15 [Special].—C. P. McClelland, president of MacMurray college, today announced a gift of $50,000 from former State Senator James E. MacMurray, who has been a generous benefactor of the institution, and president of its board of trustees. MacMurray, formerly of Chicago, now lives in California. His latest gift will be added to the endowment fund of the college.

BIG FIREWORKS PAGEANT TO END MUSIC FESTIVAL

BY CHARLES LEAVELLE.

The greatest fireworks display in the history of the Chicagoland Music Festival will be staged Saturday night at the tenth of these mass music spectacles.

The fireworks, which close the show, have been in preparation for weeks by technicians of the Thearle Duffield company. It was the Thearle Duffield company that staged the brilliant nightly displays at A Century of Progress in 1933 and '34.

Supply a Universal Touch.

The same company produced the fiery extravaganzas at the Great Lakes exposition at Cleveland and at the Texas Centennial exposition at Dallas. The fireworks supply the touch that makes the Festival truly a show for everyone. Al Jolson summed it up when he starred at the Festival of 1934.

"This is the greatest show I ever saw," he said. "It has something for every member of the family."

And that will be true again this year.

There are the two massed bands of 1,700 and 1,000 pieces; the great choruses totaling 3,500 voices; the square dance spectacle featuring 1,000 colorfully costumed performers; the stirring grand entry of the Festival's cast of 8,000, and the amazing match lighting scene which was staged for the first time at the 1938 show.

A Thrill for 100,000.

In this event the audience of 100,000 takes part. At a word from the master of ceremonies all the lights in Soldiers field will be extinguished. Then, when he gives the signal, each of these thousands of persons will be expected to strike a match. The effect is startling. It is as though the great amphitheater had suddenly burst into flame.

Last year the audience was so stirred by the sight that it applauded thunderously and insisted on twice repeating the stunt. And how the smoke did roll down the field!

But back to the fireworks next Saturday. They will have more animated pictorial features this year than ever before. The bursting of aerial bombs, high above Soldiers' field, will herald the start of the display. Then from the field itself will rise a forest of golden fire that will change to a brilliant silver, lighting the entire arena.

Fiery Ships to Sail Field.

More aerial bombs will announce the start of the elaborate boat number. To the music of the Moonlight Bay waltz, three sailboats etched in fire will move across the field from east to west.

Then a thriller: a reproduction of the great steamboat race of 1870 between the Robt. E. Lee and the Natchez. Across the field they will go, their paddle wheels churning and the smoke rolling from their chimneys. The music will be "Waiting for the Robt. E. Lee." The sequence will end with a fiery speedboat racing down the same course followed by the big boats.

The next salvo of bombshells will introduce a number that will have to be called cute—there is no other word for it. It will show the three little fishes swimming over the dam and it will be accompanied by the popular song.

The most elaborate of all the fiery set pieces will depict a great modern battleship moving across the stage with a fleet of silvery battle planes flying above it. A portrait of George Washington will blaze into life at one side of the field and the Statue of Liberty will gleam at the other.

Honor Carrie Jacobs Bond.

Then will follow a tribute to Carrie Jacobs Bond, beloved composer who will be the guest of honor at the festival. A portrait of her will be produced in flame against the dark sky. With it will be a porch scene with a setting sun in the background. The music will be Mrs. Bond's "When You Come to the End of a Perfect Day."

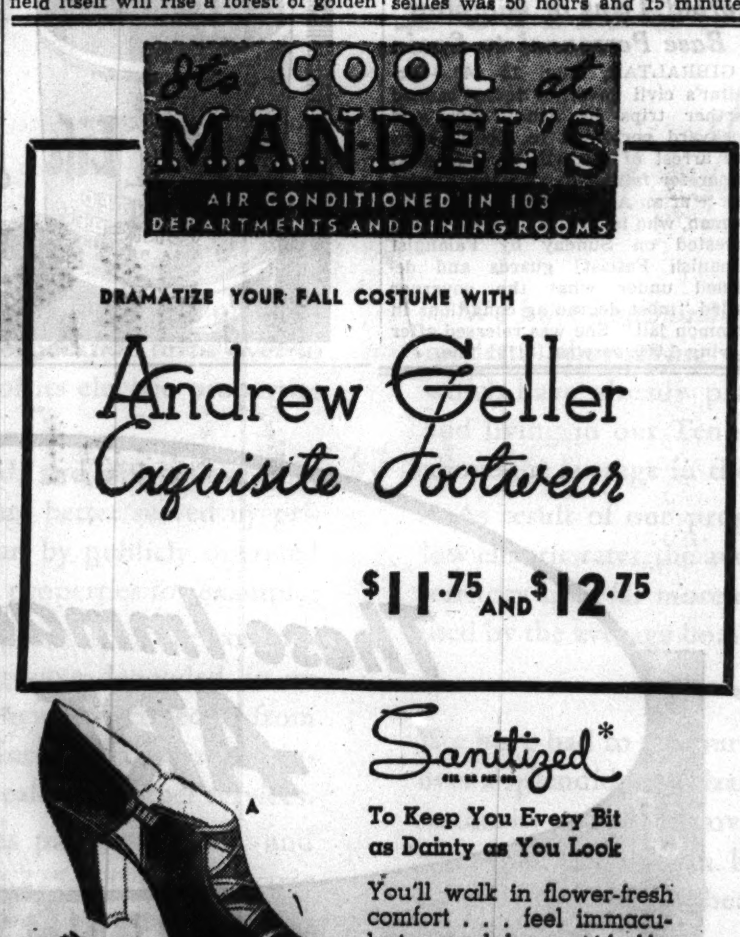
The fireworks and the tenth festival will end with a production in silver fire of Niagara Falls, an enormous American flag, and a pandemonium of bursting bomb shells, rockets, and colored fire high above the field.

Festival Tickets!

Reserved seats for the Chicagoland Music Festival are now on sale at 50 cents and $1 each. They may be obtained by mail [make check or money order payable to Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.] or by calling at the Tribune public service bureau at 1 South Dearborn street and in Tribune Tower lobby.

Clipper Cuts 29 Minutes Off Time from Azores

Port Washington, N. Y., Aug. 15 [Special].—The Pan-American Airway's flying boat Yankee Clipper, bound from Marseilles, France, with nine passengers, established a speed record today by flying to New York from the Azores in 17 hours and 30 minutes. On July 11 and 12 the Dixie Clipper set the previous record of 17 hours and 59 minutes. The Yankee Clipper's elapsed time from Marseilles was 50 hours and 15 minutes.



COUNTY'S 6 BEST VOCALISTS TO BE PICKED TONIGHT

Winning Men and Women Enter Festival Finals.

BY PHILIP MAXWELL.

Twenty-three of Cook county's finest amateur vocalists will sing tonight in the preliminary contest of the tenth Chicagoland Music festival. The doors to the grand ballroom of the Drake hotel will be opened at 6:30 o'clock. The public has been urged to come early as this competition will be one of the most exciting of all TRIBUNE festival auditions. The vocalists will begin singing at 7 o'clock. Admission is 25 cents.

The three best men singers and the three best women singers will be selected although all contestants will sing first in their voice classifications. The six winners will compete Saturday in the Chicagoland vocal finals at the Drake hotel against entrants from outside the county. More than 600 young men and women started in the Cook county festival contest.

Three Sing for Rotarians.

Three of the Cook county finalists sang yesterday at the annual Chicagoland festival ceremony at the Chicago Rotary club. They were Robert Rippy, baritone; Dorothy Cornfield, lyric soprano, and Cudrun Karen Thorson, contralto.

A rehearsal for the massed high school band for boys and girls residing on the south side of Chicago will be held this morning from 9 to 11 o'clock at the Tilden high school. Oscar Anderson, supervisor of instrumental music in the Chicago public schools, will be in charge.

The Cook county preliminary baton twirling contest will be held tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock in Soldiers' field. Fred Miller, the festival's field supervisor, will manage the tournament.

Midwest Winners Coming.

Coöperating with the Chicagoland Music festival this summer eight preliminary festivals have been held throughout the middle west. Vocal finalists in these competitions will compete in the Chicagoland finals Saturday afternoon in the Drake hotel. There are 58 singers in this group. Saturday morning 102 singers, who have not been auditioned, will enter the Chicagoland preliminary vocal contest.

At the finals Saturday the best man singer and the best woman singer will be chosen. The two will make their debut Saturday night before 100,000 persons in Soldiers' field at the festival concert.

The judges tonight will be Margery Maxwell, Mark Love, and Samuel Burkholder. The judges Saturday will be Clyde Jay Garrett, Arlington, Tex.; William E. Donovan, Peoria, Ill.; Wilson Mount, Memphis, Tenn.; Edith Mason, Eola Fletcher, and Edgar Nelson, all of Chicago.

Shoots Her Invalid Sister to Death to End Suffering

Allentown, Pa., Aug. 15 (AP).—Mrs. Louella Saeger, 67 years old, a patient at the Allentown State hospital, was shot and killed today in what police described as a mercy slaying by her 77 year old spinster sister. Detective James L. Christine said the sister, Miss Margaret L. Cowan, told him: "I have put my sister out of her misery." Assistant District Attorney Edwin K. Kline Sr. said Miss Cowan would be charged with murder.

NINE WIN PLACES IN INSTRUMENTAL FESTIVAL EVENT

Girl, 16, Places First in Accordion Contest.

Three young men with horns, two others with violins, and two with piano accordions were chosen last night with a girl violinist and a girl accordionist to enter the finals in the Cook county instrumental contest of the Chicagoland Music Festival.

The best young man with a horn, in the opinion of the judges, was Robert Olson, 17 years old, 5801 Newark avenue, son of Peter Olson, director of the Grieg Male chorus, which won first place in class B in the festival two years ago. Young Olson won first place in the cornet division. He took top honors in the last city and national high school instrumental contests.

Aims at Concert Work.

Adrian DaPrato, 17, of 2336 Huron street, was adjudged the best violinist. He has studied for eight years with the same teacher, Pellegro Pacini, and says he took up violin because he felt it was his mission to do so. His father is a chef and Adrian was born in Italy. He was second in the city finals last year. He hopes to play in a symphony orchestra.

Evelyn Kratky, 16, of 3041 Trumbull avenue, first place winner in the piano accordion group, brought her father and four boy friends with her. Evelyn has been studying since she got the accordion on her eleventh birthday after, she says, crying for it. Evelyn likes music, swimming, and pork chops, she says, and hopes to be a teacher and to play clarinet in a symphony.

Other Contest Winners.

The other winners, who also will compete in the finals Saturday morning in the Medinah club, were: Cornet—Robert Haddick, 13, of 1624 South 55th court, Cicero, second, and Harry Tully, 14, of 11100 South Bell avenue, third; violin—Monty Applebaum, 15, of 901 Gunnison street, and Geraldine LaSanke, 19, of 2409 Wilson avenue; accordion—Donald White, 14, of 8628 Parnell avenue, and Quentin Fiori, 22, of 937 Eastwood avenue. Miss LaSanke, who has been studying for only a year, has composed 105 pieces for the eight instruments she plays. She uses a broken violin which some one gave her and she had mended.

The judges—who made their selections on the basis of tone, interpretation, technique, the selection played, general effect, memorizing and intonation—were Clayborne Harvey, Marcel Ackerman, and James Thatcher. Miss Mildred Larson was chairman. Last night's contests were in the Drake hotel.

FATHER AND SON FINISH CLIMBING 60 HIGHEST PEAKS

Denver, Colo., Aug. 15 (AP).—Carl Melzer, former Denver school teacher, and his 11 year old son, Bobby, claim the record of scaling every 14,000 foot mountain in the United States. Records of mountain climbing clubs show the feat never has been accomplished before by any individual. Melzer reported today from Bishop, Cal., that he and his wiry, bespectacled son had completed their conquest of the 60 towering mountains by a successful assault on the Palisade group in southern California.

SPANISH TO FREE DAHL, 19 OTHER WAR PRISONERS

[Copyright: 1939: By The Chicago Tribune.]

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain, Aug. 15.—The Spanish government announced today that twenty American war prisoners would be freed soon, probably within two weeks. Among them is Harold Dahl, Champaign, Ill., flyer. The government, however, will not free twenty-five other Americans who are accused of committing political crimes. Two of these twenty-five are women.

Those to be released will be assembled at Ondarreta prison in San Sebastian. From there they will be escorted to the French border, from where an official of the American embassy in Paris will conduct them to a port, from where they will catch a boat for America.

ROOSEVELT RENEWS HIS PLEA FOR PEACE IN RANKS OF LABOR

New York, Aug. 15 (AP).—President Roosevelt, who brought A. F. of L. and C. I. O. leaders together last winter in a series of unsuccessful conferences intended to make peace between them, appealed again today for a settlement of their differences.

"I venture to express the hope," Mr. Roosevelt said in a message to the seventy-sixth annual convention of the New York State Federation of Labor, "that the convention will leave open every possible door to peace and progress in the affairs of organized labor in the United States.

"If leaders of organized labor can make and keep the peace between various opinions and factions within the labor group itself it will increase vastly the prestige of labor with the country and prevent the reaction which otherwise is bound to injure the workers themselves."

In a speech to the convention, William Green, A. F. of L. president, repeatedly denounced John L. Lewis, not referring to him by name, but identifying him as "the ruler of the C. I. O."

Forbid Trips of Gibraltar Base Personnel to Spain

GIBRALTAR, Aug. 15 (AP).—Gibraltar's civil governor today banned further trips by army, navy, and dockyard personnel to Spain after the arrest of the wife of a medical major for failing to give the Fascist salute at an Algeciras bull fight. The woman, who is Mrs. M. J. Malley, was arrested on Sunday by Falangist [Spanish Fascist] guards and detained under what the governor called "most degrading conditions in common jail." She was released after paying 1,000 pesetas [$110] fine.

FARMERS FEAR C.I.O. BRUTALITY IN MILK STRIKE

Cut N. Y. Supply 7 Pct. in Price Fight.

New York, Aug. 15 [Special].—Charges of intimidation by the C. I. O. and outbreaks of violence in upstate areas today marked the opening of the dairy farmers' strike in the New York milkshed.

Strike leaders claimed 15,000 members of the Dairy Farmers' union had joined to enforce demands for a uniform base price of $2.35 a hundred pounds [47 quarts] in August, September, and October. The strikers asserted that 300,000 quarts of milk were withheld today from New York City, 7 per cent of the daily supply.

No Immediate Shortage.

This figure was disputed by bargaining agencies opposed to the strike. No serious milk shortage was expected for several days by city officials, in view of the comparatively small business handled here from the upstate farmers participating in the strike.

Milk was dumped and picket lines were placed around several dairy plants upstate. Farm groups opposing the strike denounced the strikers for accepting support from C. I. O. radicals.

Charges were made that typical C. I. O. practices were utilized to scare farmers into keeping their milk at home. Nails were scattered in driveways to puncture the truck tires, it was reported, and other damage was done to property besides destroying milk.

Farmers' Stand Assailed.

The Dairy Farmers' union is an independent organization, and is not affiliated with any organized labor group. The C. I. O.'s proffers of financial and physical assistance were viewed as an unprecedented bid by the John L. Lewis organization to widen its activities to take in agricultural groups.

The farmers' union does not belong to the Metropolitan Milk Producers' bargaining agency. The two chief members of the agency, the Dairymen's League Coöperative association and the Sheffield Producers Coöperative association, suppliers respectively of the Borden company and Sheffield farms, the two principal New York City distributors, today issued statements attacking the farmers' union for attempting to sabotage organized milk control which makes Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace virtual dictator of the milk industry in the area.

NAVY DIVER FINDS OPEN HATCH ON SUNKEN SQUALUS

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 15 (AP).—A hatch on the after battery compartment of the submarine Squalus was found open tonight by a diver shortly before navy salvage officers decided pontoons used in raising the $5,000,000 submersible must be readjusted, delaying at least until Thursday a second lifting attempt.

Capt. Richard F. Edwards said salvage officers were at a loss to explain the open hatch, but added that leakage of air into the compartment might have built up enough pressure to force the hatch.

These Immaculate Trucks ARE GMCs

• THE TRUCK OF VALUE •

Evanston Ice Cream Producer Favors GMCs
BECAUSE THEY LOOK AS GOOD AS THEY ARE

GMCs would be worth more on good looks alone—but not only do they cost little more than the lowest priced trucks, they give far more than any comparable trucks. For example, more power. GMCs outpull all other trucks! Another example: greater economy. Records prove the 1939 GMCs outsave other trucks, too—especially on mileage per gallon of gas! Yes, Chicago operators, like Evanston's COTTAGE MAID ice cream producer, favor GMC's striking streamstyle appearance, but there's genuine value in a GMC all the way through. Don't just "order" your next truck. Drive and test a GMC. Try GMC against any other truck. Results count.

[This advertisement appeared August 15, 1939 in Chattanooga and Nashville, Tennessee, newspapers.]

we hand over our Tennessee Electric Properties and a $2,800,000 Tax Problem

AT MIDNIGHT, TONIGHT, The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation turns over to various public officials all of its electric properties in the State of Tennessee.

We have always believed, and still believe, that the interests of the public are better served by privately operated utilities than by publicly operated plants. Take our Tennessee properties for example:

The State of Tennessee and most of the communities we have been serving have depended, in no small part, upon the taxes they have collected from us to pay the cost of their governmental activities, including school, water, fire, health and other services.

Our Tennessee properties paid into local and state treasuries a total of $2,225,000 from electric revenues, for the 12 months ended June 30, 1939; with federal taxes, the total for this period is about $2,800,000. That is more than 20 cents out of every dollar received for electric service in Tennessee... it amounts to over $7,670 in taxes for every day of the year.

All of our facilities in Tennessee have been built with the money of many private investors. The communities never had to increase their debts to build plants and distributing systems; they never had to pay out interest on bonds issued for electric service. The savings of thousands of citizens were brought, and would continue to have been brought, into this territory to help produce more industry, more local wealth and more steady jobs.

Our Tennessee operation has long given its customers one of the lowest average residential electric rates in the country... as have our other operations in the North and in the South. Our rate has been reduced steadily to where, at the present time, it is much below the national average.

We have continually helped households to own modern labor-saving and convenience appliances, which have already placed the standard of leisure and living in our Tennessee territory considerably above the average in the country.

As result of our progressive merchandising and low electric rates, the average home in our Tennessee territory used far more electricity last year than was used by the average home in the entire United States.

We have had to sell our electric properties and turn over a splendid organization to the Tennessee Valley Authority and other governmental agencies because we could not stay in business and compete with virtually tax-free and heavily subsidized plants.

Incidentally, our taxes have been multiplying and mounting for years. They are an ever increasing problem ... a veritable "headache", which other taxpayers can well appreciate. To be rid of any tax worries is, of course, always a relief.

We now turn over to government agencies, for about four-fifths of its real value, one of the finest public utility services in this or any other country... one representing private investments of about a hundred million dollars.

	*Electric Customers
Michigan	440,314
Illinois	69,538
Indiana	38,229
Ohio	197,749
Pennsylvania	49,697
Alabama	143,363
Georgia	211,461
Florida	17,818
Mississippi	44,012
South Carolina	29,411
Total	1,241,592

On July 1, 1939.*

Almost all the money we are receiving from this sale will be used to pay back the owners of the outstanding bonds and preferred stocks of The Tennessee Electric Power Company, at 100 cents on the dollar. A substantial percentage of these investors live in Tennessee. The common shareholders, principally The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation, are taking all of the loss.

To buy our properties, the municipalities are selling bonds largely tax-free and TVA is selling Government obligations which, in addition, will be a lien upon the incomes of all of us. These tax-free municipal and federal securities will be owned largely outside Tennessee. As a result, much income which citizens of Tennessee received from our Company will no longer benefit this community.

The incomes from all Tennessee Electric Power securities have, of course, been subject to taxation and have long helped to carry the costs of government. Whenever government takes over a private business, not only does the public lose the benefit of taxes paid directly by the business but also the substantial taxes paid by the owners of its securities.

We sincerely hope that our former customers in this territory will continue to enjoy one of the best electrical services in the country.

To numerous friends and associates in Tennessee, many of whom have been most helpful and considerate, we are deeply indebted and very grateful. We wish them every success. Our hope is they will never be required to defend a business of their own against government subsidized competition.

DANZIG WAR SCARES.

The Danzig situation might be a vexed and complicated one if the most temperate and patient men of peaceful intent and good will were handling it, but even the turbulent Europe of these days cannot pretend that it contains the inevitability of a general war. No belligerent country would avoid the wreckage and it cannot have escaped the consideration of the rulers that their own enraged people might turn on them.

Danzig is a German city. Its spokesmen say it craves to join the motherland, which may be true, and would be natural. It would be more sensible if it were not for Hitler. Poland is developing its own port of Gdynia, but insists upon its rights in the corridor and in Danzig, although it is routing the greater part of its commerce through the new port. Political and military factors mix with the commercial. Provocateurs can always get their border incidents. But it may be European suicide to concede that every method of settling this controversy has been exhausted except that of war.

When several million persons have been killed Danzig will then, if not now, seem to be a small cause of such a catastrophe. The world would be denied even the small consolation of hoping that the war would liquidate the despotisms. The world war wiped out the continental monarchies but the new autocracies are worse. People have learned to be skeptical of the curative effects of military prescriptions.

THE GOVERNMENT AS BANKER.

The government has two relationships to banking. It tells bankers how to run their business and it carries on a great variety of banking operations itself.

In view of what President Roosevelt has said derisively about the risks taken by the money changers, and the losses thereby sustained, it is pertinent to inquire about the success of the government as a banker.

One of the government's important banking units is the Commodity Credit corporation. When the government created this bank on Oct. 17, 1933, it followed the practice of many large corporations and went to Delaware for a charter. "The CCC" [by which is meant the Commodity Credit corporation, and not the Civilian Conservation Corps, also CCC], says the United States government manual, "was created primarily to make loans to producers to finance the carrying and orderly marketing of agricultural commodities."

The funds for carrying on its operations were to be derived from a capital of 100 million dollars which the government provided, its earnings from operations, and from loans from banks or from some other government agencies. As increased this year, its maximum borrowings could be as much as 900 million dollars. The CCC is no piker.

To put it mildly, net profits have not been a fruitful source of funds for the bank! On March 31, 1938, it was determined that its capital was impaired and that only 5 million 715 thousand dollars remained of the 100 million capital the government had subscribed for. In the second deficiency bill for the fiscal year 1938 provision was made for an appropriation of 94 million 285 thousand dollars to restore the capital of the CCC to the 100 million dollar mark.

This was not the end. Between March 31, 1938, and March 31, 1939, the CCC became insolvent. It lost all of its capital and 19¼ million dollars besides. One of the last acts of the session of congress which just ended was the passage of an appropriation bill providing 119½ million dollars for the CCC to restore its capital to 100 million dollars again.

The CCC is not the government's only banking flop. The RFC became insolvent and by a bill passed last year the treasury had to cancel 2½ billions of its debts to rehabilitate it. Audits have not been made to disclose how much the government's other banks have lost. The probability is, however, that their losses have been proportionately great. As bankers, the Roosevelt administration has been simply terrible.

SPEAKING OF ARCHIVES.

The federal jobholders in Washington and throughout the country are being pressed for subscriptions to establish the Roosevelt archives on the family estate at Hyde Park. Perhaps there is something to be said for keeping these papers separate from the rest of the material of this kind in the files of the Library of Congress. If so, the idea certainly ought to be extended. A repository should be found for the Moley papers, the Lewis Douglas papers, the Sprague, Garner, Warren, Pearson, Tydings, Byrd, etc., etc., papers. It would be a pity if the historians of the future would have to guess why the New Deal did so many fantastic things when a casual perusal of the documents now in the possession of gentlemen who concocted the schemes and of the other gentlemen who couldn't stomach them would tell all. We don't know what it would cost to build a proper repository for these documents, but the investment would be worth whatever it would cost, including the landscaping.

MONEY FOR RELIEF.

Gov. Horner has said that he will call a special session of the legislature this year. It is generally believed that he will call for consideration of additional relief appropriations.

A good deal of evidence has been accumulated to show that the money voted for this purpose at the recent regular session is insufficient to meet the need. Naturally enough, the people of Illinois are having difficulty in understanding how a shortage of relief funds can exist in view of the very large amounts which the state collects from the 3 per cent sales tax. In the fiscal year just ended, for example, the yield was $81,472,000, far more than is required for relief.

The people of Illinois accepted the sales tax in good grace because they thought it was intended to provide food, clothing, and shelter for the victims of the depression. If the money had actually been devoted to these purposes there would be no need now for a special session. Instead, less than a third of the sales tax revenue has gone into the relief fund; only 25 million of the 81 million collected in 1939 went into this fund, while the rest went into the state treasury to support various activities of the government of Illinois.

The state no longer levies a property tax; its chief reliance for revenue is the sales tax. Of the 3 cents which the housewife pays in taxes on every dollar's worth of groceries she buys the relief fund gets less than a penny and the state treasury takes more than the other two. If this proportion were reversed there would be no relief crisis.

Subtracting the 25 millions devoted to relief from the 81 millions collected on retail purchases leaves 56 million dollars for the general purposes of government, the sum which is supposed to replace the property tax. In fact, it does much more than that. The state got 26 million dollars from general taxes in 1929 and 23 million dollars in 1927. It got 19 million dollars in 1930 and less than 22 million dollars in 1931 and again in 1932.

If there is a relief crisis in this state the reason for it is obvious enough. The cost of state government, exclusive of relief, has gone skyrocketing. Money which was collected on the excuse that it was needed to avert hunger is being spent on pay rolls and patronage. There would be plenty of revenue to meet all legitimate needs, both for the state government and for relief, if the senseless, the wasteful, the political appropriations were eliminated.

PULLMAN POINTS THE WAY.

The Pullman company, sleeping car affiliate of Pullman, Inc., reports an income for the first six months of this year of $1,673,029 greater than for the corresponding period last year. Increase in travel caused by the New York and San Francisco fairs undoubtedly had something to do with it, but it should be remembered that improved highways and the present day high development of motor transportation have furnished strong competition to rail passenger trafic. The noteworthy increase in Pullman's earnings must be largely attributed to the initiative and enterprise of that company in providing the most modern equipment and service at a cost which the public can pay.

With this example plainly before them one would think the railroads would go and do likewise with the various classes of passenger trafic which do not patronize Pullman service.

Two of the trunk lines operating between Chicago and New York have recently installed new coach trains operating on a schedule only one hour slower than the Century and Broadway Limited and rivaling those crack trains in comfort and luxury. The round trip fare on the new trains was reduced from $44.70 to $28.20—about the expense of driving a medium priced automobile the same distance. Reclining chairs, observation lounge, and club car equipped with buffet, radio, magazines, etc., and bargain priced meals of good quality in the diners should attract a large enough volume of trafic to make these new trains highly profitable.

If all of the railroads would adopt up to date equipment for their trains they would do much to reduce unemployment, increase earnings among car manufacturers, and at the same time be rewarded with passenger patronage which is now being withheld from their antiquated cars and service.

TWO PROFESSORS' VIEWS.
[Davenport Daily Times.]

The New Deal has drawn largely upon the talent of professors for its experiments. There are a couple of professors, however, who recently expressed views that are entirely uncomplimentary to the New Deal.

Dr. William Starr Myers, professor of politics at Princeton, in a prepared address opening a three day conference at Dartmouth college, applied the term "dictatorship" in saying Mr. Roosevelt held "it is for the President to make the policies, and for congress to find the methods to carry out his will."

"The TVA plan is pure socialism," he added. "Our present system of taxation and 'relief' is communistic in part. The New Deal attitude toward business is Fascist."

Walter E. Spahr, professor of economics at New York university, contended in another address that representative government in this country in the last seven years had become "mere nose counting."

"It is my considered opinion," he added, "that since 1932 no one procedure has been more characteristic than the nose counting of pressure groups and the dangling before them of promises and programs designed to catch their votes.

"This procedure is euphemistically called popular government, government for the forgotten man, a New Deal! It is nothing more than vote counting, a getting of laymen's answers to intricate questions, a government by and for pressure groups in an effort to keep the politicians in power, a repudiation of the basic principles of good representative government, a new day for demagogery, a government by politicians who rule in the name of the masses while they cheat them."

He contended the answer was to turn out all the office holders "who subscribe to the current characteristic doctrines of government."

The two professors are in that large company of citizens who feel that the time has come to thrust New Dealers back into that oblivion from which they came to plague the country during the Roosevelt régime. In fact, that idea is permeating Washington, which is the last to admit that an administration can be wrong. That it is sweeping congress is evident from the reactions of house and senate to any Roosevelt proposal.

DASTARDLY.

The vicar and the squire were walking together after the morning's service. Suddenly the vicar, very peeved, burst out:

"Did you hear Robinson snoring in church this morning?"

"Yes, I did," was the squire's reply. "The scoundrel woke me up!"—Telephone Topic.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Office

MR. PEPYS' FIRST BIRTHDAY.

16th August—This day I am a year old, for the wheel has come full circle for the first time since I did take up this work of making a full, neat column of jottings and rhymes, by my own hand and others', which is called the Line. Methought a fortnight ago I would have some sort of celebration on this day, but now it seems like any other day and I will take it in stride and not say much, nor order a special bottle of wine for my dinner.

I do thank my good friends, Quizzicuss and Eleanore-Melissa, for having written poems for the occasion, and very good poems, too, that of the faithful Quizzicuss being an acrostic sonnet, spelling my name in its first letters, very difficult to do. Modesty prevents my printing them but I shall put them into my scrapbook to be preserved and handed down to my heirs.

This first year has passed like the wind, for the task is engrossing, yet I do not bustle about the city as much as before because a heavy mail bag is fastened to my leg. In my former work of theater gossip each day had its own task set apart, but now one day seems the same as another, so that I often ask my companion at the next writing stool, "Is it Tuesday or Wednesday?" But I always know when it is pay day, which proves I am not losing my wits.

AMY IRWIN McCORMICK.

Peace, dear heart; the bugle has blown,
Life's music has faded away;
But there echo still those joyous airs
That you would have us play.

Yes! play and keep on playing,
Our spirits blithe and gay,
For you loved life and its living,
With Nature in full panoply.

We hear you say, "Let no one mourn;
For me, let no one weep.
The wind is in the tree tops—
Hark! it has gone—let me sleep."

A Toast to Wilhelm of Wuerttemberg.

Of all the vanished monarchs of European states, the one whom we regret most is the king of Württemberg. He used to send a tun of wine to Chicago every year as a gift to the Canstatter Volksfest [Suabian picnic] at Sharpshooters [now Riverview] park. It was a potent and palatable vintage, and as twilight fell over the scene of revelry, the newspaper reporters who had clinked glasses with every member of the large entertainment committee were stretched out on the greensward in bacchic slumber.

A Playbill of Little Old Chicago.

Please remind James O'Donnell Bennett [Aug. 10] that in the early days of "The Two Orphans," Kate Claxton played the blind sister, Louise, and that the rôle of Henriette was played by Kittie Blanchard [Mrs. McKee Rankin]. The first performance of "The Two Orphans" in Chicago was given at Hooley's on July 18, 1875, with the original Union Square production. In the cast, besides Claxton and Blanchard, were Marie Wilkens, Vernon Thorne, and McKee Rankin. It was my pleasure and privilege to be present at this performance. Herman Hefter.

A Shudder for Geographers.

Modernism has attacked the great peninsula formed by Chesapeake and Delaware bays. It has lacked a geographical name, unless you were willing to accept its colloquial designation, "The Eastern Shore," as satisfactory. But now they are calling it the Del-Mar-Va peninsula, and it sounds like a gadget.

Pilgrimage to Fort Dearborn.

Aug. 15 was the anniversary of the Fort Dearborn massacre. Alarmed by the threats of demolition, I went down to Burnham park for a last look at the fort's replica. [I had a special interest: early Chicago figures in my historical novel, "This Land of Ours," scheduled for publication next January.]

The fort still stands and the flag still waves from its pole. But it would be nice to have an 1812 flag there, with fifteen stars and fifteen stripes.

In the first shutter of the second story of the north building [barracks, I judge] a fledgling sparrow was receiving its lunch from the bill of the mother bird. There are locks and signs, "This Is U. S. Government Property," on the doors; and spiders and their webs in every convenient corner. Weeds are growing rapidly on the parade ground. But the cabin outside the fort will not need much dismantling, for it apparently had its own Chicago fire recently. Louis Zara.

Advantages of Small City Life.

In Chicago, moviegoers sit on their necks and push their knees into the back of your seat. In Freeport, Ill., we also sit on our brains but we throw our legs over the shoulders of the guy in front of us and relax! La Morte.

The "Garner for President" boom, which got off to a flying start with the "card playing, whisky drinking old man" episode, has already reached the point of photographs of the statesman in a canoe, casting for bass. CHARLES COLLINS.

JAUNDICE: A DISTRESS SIGNAL.

In most instances when the liver is abused it hoists a storm signal—jaundice. This largest organ in the body is extremely vulnerable. It is gorged constantly with blood from the alimentary tract—most of which contains food but some of which may carry toxins. Delicate as are the cells of the kidneys and of the air sacs of the lungs, those in the liver are even more fragile. They are not hard to destroy—which means that their places may be taken by firm and unyielding scar tissue. Now, this latter material is merely a filler—without function. As we can readily understand, should the damage continue over months or years a substantial portion of the main structure itself may be converted into a mass of worthless fibers.

The appearance of bile in the skin results frequently from a catarrhal condition within the outlet ducts. In addition, any inflammation responsible for swelling of the conduits may be followed by the symptom. Every now and then trouble in the pancreas may exert sufficient pressure to constrict the passageway into the intestine. However, 90 per cent of those who visit their physicians with the whites of the eyes yellow and the urine dark brown will be suffering from some closure of the exit channels which is extensive enough to block off the escape of bile.

What is happening? We are dealing apparently with a degenerative process—an acute affair, to be sure—but one from which recovery occurs routinely. Sometimes there is a plug of mucus at the mouth of the main tube which empties into the duodenum. More often, however, the swelling involves the entire length of the canal and there is probably some toxin which is disturbing the working parts of the organ. This may come from bad eating habits, bacterial decomposition of foodstuffs, the use of certain chemicals [such as cinchophen] or the swallowing of poison [arsenic], for example. Many authorities ascribe the disturbance to the cocktail hour. Alcohol on an empty stomach reaches the liver rather promptly. In consequence, enlargement of the entire reconditioning apparatus may ensue. What is tantamount to a state of inflammation is thus established.

A typical attack may be described as follows: A young man consults the family doctor because he feels "rotten." His temperature may range from 99 to 102 degrees Fahrenheit, but after twenty-four hours or more spent in bed the fever departs. Later he will complain of stomach distress and soreness, lack of appetite, slight nausea, and—within a short while thereafter—a yellowish tinge will be observed in the epidermis. Itching is usually complained of. If the liver is examined it will be found somewhat swollen and tender. For several days the stools become lighter and lighter in shade as the urine becomes darker. Within a week or so the skin will begin to clear and within two or three weeks there may remain only minor signs of the experience. There are thousands of cases of this sort to the few occasioned by more obscure causes.

Treatment is largely dietary. Fruit juices are particularly valuable and sugars and starches are fed generously. Corn sirup is an easily assimilated form of sugar. Inasmuch as bile is necessary for the emulsification of fat this edible is not digested and is, therefore, omitted. The meat ration is kept low.

Should a gallstone be present we may be faced with its surgical removal. Unfortunately, deeply jaundiced persons are not good risks because of the increased tendency to hemorrhage. Hence safety depends upon prompt and skilled excision. Much can be done to protect the patient even in this dilemma through the employment of large doses of calcium.

Well being demands that we play fair with this huge organ, as we have only one. While it is sizable it is far less tolerant of insults than the heart. Our first obligation is to maintain a normal digestive system, otherwise it may produce many irritating substances. If the structure only had the power of vomiting—rejecting what it does not like—as has the stomach, we would be saved many a bout of illness.

WHO LIVES LONGER?

Mrs. H. R. writes: I read an article which said that country people do not live as long as those who dwell in the city. Is this true?

REPLY.

No. Many things other than occupation and environment influence longevity. In general, however, life expectancy among those who live in rural districts is greater than those who live in the cities. The explanation seems to be that village life, for example, is less strenuous, the food a bit fresher, and, on the whole, there is less wear and tear on the nervous system and the circulation.

DEEP-BREATHING EXERCISES.

Mr. G. B. writes: I have been practicing deep-breathing exercises for some time. Will these have any ill effects on the lungs or any other parts of the body? If not, when is the best time for these exercises—morning or bedtime?

REPLY.

No ill effects. The best procedure is to inhale slowly, raising the arms at the same time until they are straight above the head at the end of the inspiration. Then drop them quickly, meanwhile holding the breath for another two or three seconds. Repeat the process fifteen or twenty times before breakfast.

BEE STING TREATMENT.

A. L. P. writes: What can be used to reduce the swelling caused by a bee sting?

REPLY.

The best type of local application is ammonia. A bit of gauze or a handkerchief soaked in the solution may be placed over the injured area. Soft soap is also of value, while hot applications are useful in relieving pain.

NOT AT ALL.

A. G. writes: Is it harmful to eat white bread with stewed fruits?

REPLY.

Not at all. Wholesome bread of any shade is an excellent food and may be employed with all edibles.

IT SUPPLIES NUTRITION.

W. J. A. writes: Why is glucose given into a vein after a surgical operation?

REPLY.

To supply fluid and nutrition, which is immediately available. It also aids in combating collapse, vomiting, etc.

THINK FOR THE CHILDREN.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—Automobile drivers should remember that when children cross streets and roads they are very liable to stop or turn back to look at or pick up something, and the drivers should give them a good wide margin of safety and not depend upon their walking straight ahead. So give the children plenty of time and space and allow for them changing their minds or miscalculations.

A. L. POTTER.

TO MAKE WALKING SAFER.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—For years I've had the same problem as Emma Carlson's: walking on icy streets. Last winter, however, I tried my oxford sport shoes, which have thick crêpe soles. The problem was solved! I could not slip if I wanted to. Shoe factories should produce also high shoes for the winter with that same crêpe sole so that many people could not slip if they wanted to.

JOHN SILVESTER.

Hartford, Mich., Aug. 12.—Regarding a contrivance to keep one from slipping: There is one especially good which covers the bottom of the whole heel and straps and fastens over the instep. There are two sizes; one for men and a smaller size for women. They can be put on over the shoe or overshoe. My wife and I each have a pair. There are six prongs about ⅜ inch long, and when they get dull they can be sharpened. Any up-to-date hardware store has them in stock. Sell for 25 cents a pair.

F. W. SCHURMAN.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—In answer to Emma Carlson: Just try putting waterproof tape on the bottom of the shoe or galosh. Just a small piece on the heel and toe will keep one from slipping on icy streets.

G. F. GIELOW.

Ottawa, Ill., Aug. 14.—I was born in the wilds of Minnesota over fifty years ago and we seldom slipped on ice; in fact we seldom do to this day. The men wore a reversible ice creeper with four or five calks which clamped on the front of the heel. It never failed. When not in use the calks folded up under the instep so as not to interfere with walking, but could be reversed in a jiffy when you hit ice or slippery going.

Women's shoes did not permit of this. They wore three or four calks just forward of the ball of the foot, but these were not reversible.

Any of the "wanigan" jobbers in northern Minnesota or Canada can quote you on these, also on the kind of shoes lumberjacks use in log rolling contests after they throw away their pike poles.

XIEN.

FOR A POLLENLESS RAGWEED.

Gary, Ind., Aug. 12.—Instead of worrying so much about the plague of ragweed to us who wheeze, and instead of hiring hundreds of weed cutters, why not hire one good botanist to produce a "pollenless" ragweed; then sow it over the country to supplant the present variety?

A SUFFERER.

LIKES VANDENBERG AND DEWEY.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—I note that Taft's hat is in the ring for '40. Haven't we had enough of Roosevelts and Tafts in the presidency? It would be refreshing if we could vote for Vandenberg and Dewey for a change. I feel that these two would make a good team.

CHIPMUNKS LIKE NEW DEALERS.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Near my summer cottage on the shore of a small lake in Wisconsin there are a number of white oak trees which are bearing a great many acorns this summer. These acorns are now about half ripe and are very sweet. There is also an unusually large number of chipmunks in the vicinity this year. About a week ago I noticed that there were many acorn husks on the lawn, and when I looked up into the tree I saw a chipmunk eating the half-green nuts and dropping the husks. This has been going on every day since, until the lawn is littered with husks and there is hardly an acorn left.

The whole performance reminds me of what our chief executive and our secretary of agriculture did several years ago when they killed thousands of pigs and plowed under acres of cotton. Two questions naturally suggest themselves: Have the chipmunks got their ideas from the New Dealers? How can the present work of the chipmunks enhance their chances for "the more abundant life" next winter?

IT WILL BE REPEATED.

Chicago, Aug. 14.—I have already purchased tickets for my mother and myself for this year's music festival, which will be the fourth consecutive festival for us to attend. We have enjoyed each festival more than the last.

Last year one special feature struck us as especially thrilling. It was the stunt performed in the dark stadium with lighted matches and cigaret lighters. With them the field looked like a huge sea of tumbling stars and provided a spectacle both beautiful and breathtaking. I hope you will repeat it.

THUMBING RIDES.

Elmhurst, Ill., Aug. 14.—In answer to the six caddies from the Tam o' Shanter golf course, and their episode with the police at Cicero and Touhy avenues, Chicago, I will say their plight was certainly an unfortunate one. If this was the first offense, I believe the boys could have been warned by the officers, the latter explaining the points of law on the subject of "Thumbing Rides," thereby eliminating their arrest. It seems to me the manner in which the case was handled by the officers was too severe. The boys claim they were not allowed to confer with parents about their absence until a late hour.

I am informed that police have been enforcing the law for the last three years for the protection of both motorist and pedestrian. The officers argue that numerous accidents and deaths have occurred on account of thumbing rides.

I suggest that more extensive publicity be given this topic. Many young people between 15 and 17 are unaware of the points of law governing this subject.

Aurora, Ill., Aug. 10.—How about Chicago building a once a week free bathhouse at Chicago avenue and Clark and one at 12th and State for the poor down and outer, instead of so much waste in the parks, etc.? New York City has had free bathhouses for years.

TO COLLECT ON JUDGMENT.

Chicago, Aug. 10 [Legal Friend of the People].—I secured a judgment against a debtor on Nov. 1, 1938, which has not been met by debtor.

1. I wish to protect myself by [2] renewing same.

3. Must I give notice to same court I obtained judgment from?

4. What notice is required?

5. Must I appear in person or is attorney needed?

6. What is it likely to cost me? Judgment was obtained in Chicago.

7. Is time limit for judgment seven years?

S. J.

1. Protect yourself against what?
2. No renewal is necessary, but you should take out execution within a year from the judgment in order to retain a lien on real estate.
3. See 2.
4. Same.
5. Your letter implies that you are unfamiliar with such matters, which would mean that it would be wise for you to employ an attorney. If you employed an attorney in the obtaining of your judgment, he would have all the facts before him and would be in a position to handle the execution with negligible additional expense.
6. Take this up with the attorney.
7. The judgment lien continues for seven years if execution is issued during the first year. The limitation period on the judgment itself is twenty years.

PLUGGED RAIN PIPE.

Chicago, Aug. 9 [Friend of the People]. — Could anything be done about the rain pipe on the building next door? It is stopped up and the rain falls from the roof into our yard, flooding it from alley to back porch. I spoke to the janitor of the building, asking him to have the owner fix it, but he said to call the dog catcher. Please help us before our yard is ruined.

A. D.

Investigation was made of conditions complained of and a notice was sent to the owner of the premises as follows: "Remove obstruction from downspout. Properly connect spout to sewer."

A reinspection revealed that the owner had complied with our order.

52,000 Men Ready for Big Maneuvers.

Plattsburg, N. Y., Aug. 15 (AP).—Lieut. Gen. Hugh A. Drum, taking what he termed a realistic approach to the nation's problem of self-defense, tonight described as "woefully short in man power and weapons" the force assembled here for the First army field maneuvers.

Addressing 3,000 officers at Plattsburg barracks, Gen. Drum said the mimic war to be waged here for ten days beginning tomorrow will be fought not with paper soldiers but with actual units and equipment which could take the field in an emergency.

"Some advisers," the general said, "have advocated an assumption that the units comprising the First army be as stated in our paper plans and at war strength, armed and equipped with the modern armament we some day hope to secure.

Assails Deceptive Stand.

"I have resisted this approach as unreal, as deceiving citizens concerned in the protection of their homes."

Gen. Drum declared that the First army as it has taken the field is not in fact an army.

"It is a collection of individual units," he asserted, "partially equipped and woefully short in essential man power, weapons, motors, etc."

Personnel of the 1st army, Gen. Drum said, totals only 23 per cent of its paper strength. There exists a 67 per cent deficiency in machine guns. A shortage of 83 per cent in trucks, and 57 per cent in automatic rifles.

Speed Alone Inadequate.

To these shortcomings Gen. Drum added the inexperience of officers and men in exercises involving large forces.

The first problem is the organization of a closely knit field army, the general declared.

"Unless we know how to win a battle, speed of movement will be of little avail in war," he continued. "Nothing in the recent fighting in Europe and Asia indicates that mobility off the battle field can compensate for inefficiency in a fight."

Fifty-two Thousand Men Ready.

Fifty-two thousand National Guard and regular army troops have assembled for tomorrow's mimic war. Today's big show was staged by the mechanized 7th cavalry brigade from Fort Knox, Ky., which traveled fifty miles at high speed in a tour of the 1st division and 18th infantry brigade encampments. These will join the 7th to form a Blue army to oppose an invading Black army of National Guardsmen as the maneuvers' climax.

WomanFlees Hospital; Dies in Plunge Off Top of Hotel

New York, Aug. 15 [Special].—Mrs. H. Van Rensselaer Fairfax, 42 years old, plunged to her death this evening from the eighteenth floor solarium of the Hotel Barbizon after she had fled from the Westchester hospital in White Plains, where she was a mental patient. The former Miss Emily Hall Wheelock, Mrs. Fairfax was the daughter of the late Dr. William Efner Wheelock and a granddaughter of the late William Almy Wheelock. John Hall Wheelock, the poet, was her brother. Her marriage to H. Van Rensselaer Fairfax, a member of the Fairfax family of Virginia, took place here in June, 1930. In July, 1931, her husband sued for divorce in Reno, alleging desertion eight days after their marriage.

Second Victim Dies; Wine Drunk at Party Suspected

Charles Krebs, 53 years old, 4903 Lake Park avenue, died in County hospital yesterday. Samples of wine that he drank at a party Saturday night are being analyzed. His hostess, Mrs. Anna Trepenski, 6018 Stony Island avenue, died shortly after the party ended Sunday morning. Policeman Grover Mulvaney of the Woodlawn station said no other guests drank the wine.

Grocery Manager Robbed 17th Time Within 13 Years

Robert Wallace, manager of a grocery store at 1278 West 72d street, was robbed of $35 yesterday by a man who removed Wallace's trousers and bound his hands and ankles. It was the seventeenth time in the last thirteen years that Wallace had been robbed.

REPORTS HOME LOOTED.

Burglars entered the home of Phillip Collins, an insurance broker, at 7000 Constance avenue sometime between Sunday afternoon and last evening and took jewelry, furs, and clothing valued at $1,165, it was reported last night to the Woodlawn police.

Slaying Principals

Philip E. Sandburg.

Alfred Nielson.

Mrs. Alfred Nielson.

Alfred J. Nielson, 39 years old, manager of the White Banners Riding academy, 5666 River road, north of Schiller Park, was shot and killed last night in the stable yard by the owner, Philip E. Sandburg, 49, 4048 Milwaukee avenue, a jeweler. The shooting occurred while several men and women were returning from a moonlight ride in the forest preserve.

Sandburg, a prominent business man in the Portage Park neighborhood, said he fired in self-defense after Nielson and the latter's wife, Marion, attacked him with a pitchfork and a hoe. After the shooting Sandburg surrendered to Policemen Charles Smith and Jerry Pons at the Morton Grove county highway station.

Sandburg, whose right arm is amputated, said a quarrel developed when he discharged Nielson for allegedly mismanaging the horses and insulting patrons. Nielson's intended successor was there at the time. Nielson had been employed there for three months, Sandburg said.

SAMPLE CENSUS STARTED IN TWO INDIANACOUNTIES

Will people answer intimate questions asked by the census taker? That is the question the federal government wants answered in the sample census started yesterday in St. Joseph and Marshall counties, Indiana.

Results of the test survey in these and other representative localities will determine the form of the 1940 national census. If too much resistance to the questions is encountered, they will be modified or dropped. It is the first time the sample method has been used.

The census takers will ask questions about the family's income, education, marriages, jobless members, and other queries. Information obtained is held confidential. The count is expected to be completed in two weeks.

GOVERNMENT RED TAPE SLOWS GIRO DEVELOPMENTS

54 Bureaus Want One—No Two Alike.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15.—Although the government has had two million dollars to spend on autogiro experimentation, little has been done in the last year to aid development of the "windmill" craft.

Fifty-four government activities are interested in employing autogiros, but each has a different specification for what it wants. The result has been that experimentation has lagged.

One forward step was taken by the postoffice department in the inauguration of a shuttle airmail service between flying field and postoffice in the Philadelphia area. If the experiment proves a success, the service will be extended to other cities, notably Chicago.

In the air corps the craft has encountered a clash of military ideas.

Wanted in Various Quarters.

The artillery, cavalry, signal corps, infantry, and other arms want the craft. They are enthusiastic about the autogiro as an aid to their operations.

However, the air corps regards the craft somewhat as a Napoleonic chasseur looked upon a mule driver. Not only do they look upon it as an inferior craft—they do not like the nature of the craft.

The autogiro is a machine of cooperation. It could be employed by artillery to direct fire and make observations, by the infantry to scout areas of operations, by the signal corps to maintain communications.

For this reason each of the service branches feels it should have giros assigned to it as an adjunct. The air corps does not want planes of any type operating except under its wing, feeling that such a step might lead to the detachment of various planes for other purposes.

Push Other Experiments.

For this reason the air corps is pushing the development of a form of slow speed airplane, which can hover almost like the giro. Proponents of the giro are indignant. They maintain there is nothing sound in experimenting to develop a slow plane, when the army already has the giro which virtually can stand still in the air.

Foes of the giro also are fighting for retention of the balloon. They insist that the observation balloon has distinct advantages at dusk and dawn over the giro and observation plane. The answer of giro enthusiasts is that the giro is superior to the balloon in every department and that the "floating sausage" is as obsolete as the Indian's smoke blanket for signaling.

COUNTY INFIRMARY HAS A NEW MOTTO: LET THEM EAT CAKE

Aged inmates of the Oak Forest infirmary are having their cake and eating it too these days. They're doing the same thing with pie. Anton C. Negri, the county board's $25,000 a year efficiency expert, is responsible for the new order.

Negri reported to the county board yesterday that, in line with his plan to keep the old people in good spirits, he has ordered the infirmary's bakery to cut its production of plain bread in favor of more tasty tidbits. He said that in the seven months ended June 30 the bakery produced 30,807 less loaves of bread, but concocted a total of $3,950 worth of pies, cakes and pastries.

Negri said that he had been able to trim $25,347 from the operating expenses of the infirmary during the period. In the corresponding seven months of 1938 operating costs amounted to $347,850; this year costs were $322,503.

A WORD TO THE WIVES

Many wives and mothers who know our reputation for hospital-clean service insist that their little shavers—and big ones, too—patronize only Terminal Barber Shops.

There must be more to justify their attitude than our sanitary barbering methods. Can it be that their men will look smarter after a tailored-to-the-head Terminal custom haircut?

We think so!

3 NEW ALDERMEN FORCE HEARING IN VOTE FRAUD CASE

Block Burial of Recount Plea in 43d Ward.

A group of new members of the city council yesterday made their presence felt for the first time. They blocked an attempt by veteran council members to bury an investigation of the 43d ward aldermanic election in a subcommittee. The inquiry is the result of a close runoff race last April in which Ald. Mathias [Paddy] Bauler was declared reëlected.

Petition for a recount was filed by former Ald. James B. Waller, the defeated candidate. Official returns show that Waller, a Republican, polled 11,598 votes against 11,841 for Bauler, a city hall Democrat. Waller charges he was beaten through fraud and intimidation of voters.

Council Has Quiz Powers.

The city council has sole jurisdiction over the seating of its members. By virtue of semi-judicial powers it can make inquiries into election contests along any line it chooses. The Waller petition has been referred to the judiciary committee for preliminary consideration.

A public hearing by this committee yesterday was enlivened by clashes between the aldermen and State Representative Robert M. Woodward, counsel for Waller. Representative Woodward pleaded in vain for more than two hours to have the recount started immediately. Several members of the committee, opposing him, insisted that there is no definite proof of the alleged irregularities.

"I'm not convinced that we need to open the ballot boxes," Ald. George D. Kells [28th], a Democrat, said.

Chairman Calls for Evidence.

"Give us more evidence of the frauds," chimed in Ald. H. L. Brody [39th], committee chairman, also a Democrat.

"Under the law," Representative Woodward replied, "the only acceptable evidence is counting the ballots. The charges have been made upon a conviction that they are true. It is the duty of the council to make sure that the will of the people is upheld. Ald. Bauler should be the first to demand a clear title to his seat in the council."

[Ald. Bauler was not at the hearing. At his home it was said that he was out of town.]

"I'm still not satisfied," Ald. Kells asserted after prolonged bickering. "Let's refer the whole question to a subcommittee."

Three Spring Into Action.

"O, the ballots are in safe hands," ruled Ald. Brody. "We'll leave them with the board of election commissioners for the present."

"Wait a minute," interrupted Ald. Frank O. Hilburn [47th]. "If I'm going to vote on this I want to hear all the evidence."

"The matter should remain before a full committee," agreed Alds. Abraham H. Cohen [4th] and Roy E. Olin [8th]. Hilburn, Cohen, and Olin are new council members. The former is a Democrat, while Cohen and Olin are Republicans.

Ald. Brody, who had been about to bring Ald. Kells' motion to a vote, hesitated in surprise. Then after further debate it was agreed to have Attorneys Arthur Sullivan and Stephen Riorden, counsel for Bauler, argue before the full committee against opening the ballot boxes. The hearing was continued until Sept. 7.

Jackson of Indianapolis to Be McNutt Assistant

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15 (AP).—Clarence Jackson of Indianapolis tomorrow will become his acting assistant, Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator, said today. Jackson will fill temporarily the post of Wayne Coy, who underwent an operation yesterday in Baltimore. Jackson is head of the Indiana gross income tax division and chairman of the Indiana unemployment compensation commission.

SUES TO REOPEN CASE INVOLVED IN MANTON SCANDAL

Charges Bonuses Paid Illegally.

New York, Aug. 15 [Special].—A stockholder of the American Tobacco company moved in federal court today to reopen the famous $10,000,000 Rogers suit against the company and its principal officers. This case is the crux of pending disbarment proceedings against Paul M. Hahn, the tobacco firm's vice president, and Louis S. Levy, one of its counsel.

The federal government charged Levy and Hahn with obtaining a $250,000 loan for former Federal Circuit Court Judge Martin T. Manton's business partner when the $10,000,000 suit was before him.

Manton, who later was convicted of selling judicial opinions, ruled in favor of the company officials, dismissing the injunction which had restrained the payment of bonuses company officials voted themselves.

Reversed, Then Compromised.

Richard Reid Rogers, an attorney and stockholder who brought the original suit attacking what he called excessive payments voted by officials of the company to themselves, fought the case through to the Supreme court, where Judge Manton was reversed. The high court admonished:

"If a bonus has no relation to the value of the services for which it is given it is in reality a gift in part, and the majority stockholders have no power to give away corporate property against the protest of the minority."

But before further proceedings on the matter could be concluded, Rogers dropped the suit for a consideration of $520,000.

Another Stockholder Sues.

In papers filed today by Attorney Samuel L. Chess for Abraham M. Forman, a stockholder, he asserts he should be allowed to intervene in the Rogers matter because both the stockholders of the company and the courts themselves were victims of fraud.

The Forman action charges that the settlement did not restore to the company any part of the salaries or bonuses received and that the officers "further planned and schemed that the consideration and expense of so terminating the action should be borne by the defendant company."

G. O. P. TO HAVE INNING AT STATE FAIR TODAY, DEMOCRATS THURSDAY

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 15 (AP).—The political phase of the Illinois State fair begins tomorrow with a Republican day program that doesn't have the backing of the state's regular party organization.

On Thursday, Democrats will take over the political stage for the annual Governor's day program to which Gov. Henry Horner will send a message possibly containing a direct statement of whether he intends to be a third term candidate in 1940.

The number and identity of the Republican day speakers still was in doubt tonight, but Secretary Hiram L. Williamson of the Illinois Republican Editorial association said Richard J. Lyons, candidate for governor, and several others had accepted speaking bids.

Rescue Squad Saves Girl, Age 2, from Gas Death

Gail Briggs, 2 years old, was unconscious yesterday when her mother, Mrs. John Briggs, returned to their basement apartment at 4652 Milwaukee avenue. Rescue Squad 6 of the fire department, under the direction of Capt. Henry Spannenberg and Dr. Walter O. Erxleben, revived the little girl after 45 minutes of work. The fire captain said she had been overcome by fumes from a mechanical refrigerator which workmen were repairing in another part of the basement.

MARK 25TH YEAR OF CANAL'S LIFE WITH A HOLIDAY

Its Part in Economy and Defense Praised.

BY PETER BRENNAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BALBOA, C. Z., Aug. 15.—Today was a holiday in the canal zone and the republic of Panama in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the opening of the Panama canal to commercial trafic.

The feature of the day was the passage through the canal of the steamship Ancon of the Panama Railroad Line. The vessel thus repeated its historic voyage of Aug. 15, 1914, when it was the first commercial vessel to go through the canal.

The Ancon, so venerable it soon is to be decommissioned, was decorated with flags and bunting for its trip today. Aboard it were 820 cheering passengers and an army band. Droning overhead were thirty-five American navy patrol bombers.

At ceremonies held in Balboa stadium this morning there were brief talks by Brig. Gen. Clarence S. Ridley, governor of the Panama canal; President Juan Demostenes Arosemana of the republic of Panama; Maj. Gen. David L. Stone, commanding the Panama canal department; Rear Admiral F. H. Sadler, commandant of the 15th naval district, and Pierre H. de la Blanchetai, French chargé d'affaires.

Brig. Gen. Ridley laid stress upon the value of the canal to world shipping and economy and its important function as a part of the national defense.

Friends Will Entertain for Miss Crawford

BY JUDITH CASS.

EVERY available sleeping chamber at the Glen View club, as well as the David A. Crawfords' two guest rooms and sleeping porch in their house in Golf, will be occupied by Thursday of next week, for most of the guests who are coming from away for the wedding reception of the Crawfords' daughter, Elizabeth, and Nathaniel Edward Duval will be here then.

The Rawleigh Warners and their debutante daughter, Dorothy, who will be Miss Crawford's only attendant, are giving a cocktail and buffet supper party Thursday night, Aug. 24, for the bride and bridegroom-to-be and the out of town guests.

On Friday of this week Mrs. James H. Winston and her son, Albert, will entertain at dinner at the Indian Hill club for Miss Crawford and Mr. Duval. The Winstons will give a cocktail party first at their home in Evanston. Next Tuesday the Ralph Applegates will be hosts at a dinner and dancing party for the young couple.

Joseph Duval Jr., who is coming from Philadelphia with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Duval, for the wedding, will be his brother's best man. The ceremony on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 26, is to be attended only by the two families, but a large reception will follow at 4:30 o'clock at the Glen View club. Robert Duval will accompany his parents and Joe Jr. west, and among other Philadelphians who will be here are Walter Stuber, Mr. and Mrs. Louis O'Neil, John Costello and his fiancée, Miss Josephine Kendig.

Mrs. Joseph Carew and her daughter, Miss Gladys Carew, are coming from Boston for the ceremony. Mrs. Carew is the bridegroom's grandmother. Mr. Duval and his bride will spend three weeks in the east and then will be at home temporarily in Chicago. They expect eventually to live in the country.

Relatives Arrive for Mrs. McCormick's Funeral.

The death of Mrs. Robert R. McCormick has brought home from their summer residences those of her relatives and friends who could reach Chicago in time for the services this afternoon, for no one had more devoted friends than the late Amy Irwin McCormick. Her generosity of spirit as well as in material things, her loyalty, her real simplicity, her great personal charm, and her fine mind won and held a host of friends.

Dr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Small, Mrs. McCormick's brother-in-law and sister, arrived yesterday morning from Canada. Chauncey McCormick, a cousin, and his sister, Mrs. F. Louis Slade of New York, came yesterday morning, and Mrs. McCormick flew in last night from Seal Harbor, Me. The Henry Hoopers are returning from a fishing trip in Michigan, and Mrs. Warren Crawford came home from Virginia, where she has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Ralph R. Richardson. Mr. Richardson, an honorary pallbearer, is en route home from California.

Mrs. McCormick's love for animals was well known. She used horses and dogs as models in many of her best pictures. She was a good friend to Orphans of the Storm and always was active in helping its founder, Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin, raise funds to carry on its work.

New York Historical Society Gets Browning Bust.

From Cooperstown, N. Y., comes word of the formal presentation to the New York State Historical association of a bronze portrait bust of Mrs. Charlotte Prentiss Browning. The bust was the gift of her daughter, Mrs. Frank J. Loesch, who made the presentation. The bust was unveiled by two great-grandsons of Mrs. Browning, John Prentiss Moffat and Henry McCartney Moffat of Beverly Hills, Cal.

The principal speaker was E. Parmalee Prentice of New York and Williamstown, Mass. Mrs. Browning's life began in Cooperstown and ended in her ninety-eighth year in February, 1935, in Chicago. Mrs. Browning had come to Chicago to make her home with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Loesch, after her husband, Stephen Garrettson Browning of New York, died in 1902.

Gratiot Family to Leave Today for Connecticut.

Stonington, Conn., will be the destination of Mrs. Lynn Gratiot and her son and daughter, Peter and Peggy, when they leave this morning for a motor trip east. They will spend the rest of the summer at Stonington with Mrs. Gratiot's mother, Mrs. Alfred T. Martin, and neither of the young people will return to Winnetka before going back to school.

Peter finished at the Berkshire school last June and will enter the Massachusetts Institute of Tech-

Opera Opens Its Auditions to Any Singer

BY CECIL SMITH.

For the first time in its history the Chicago City Opera company this fall will conduct public auditions for all ambitious vocalists. Candidates from any part of the country will be given stage hearings, beginning in late September and continuing until about two weeks before the opening of the opera season on Oct. 28.

From the many applicants at least one male and one female singer will be selected for appearances with the company during the season. If the quality of the talent warrants, additional singers will be selected beyond the minimum number promised.

The auditions will be in charge of a committee headed by Mrs. William Cowen, formerly chairman of the Lewisohn stadium auditions in New York. Her committee will consist of impartial judges, none of whom are teachers. Mrs. Cowen explained that she did not believe a teacher "would care to have his pupils judged by a teacher from another studio."

Singers who wish to receive auditions are invited to apply by letter to Mrs. Cowen in care of the Chicago City Opera company, 20 North Wacker drive. No applications will be accepted after Sept. 23.

With Hans Lange at the helm the Chicago Symphony orchestra played its next to last concert in Grant park last night. The program was nominally devoted to compositions by French composers—Chabrier's "Joyeuse Marche," the Franck symphony, the Saint-Saëns cello concerto with Dudley Powers of the orchestra as soloist, and short items by Berlioz, Debussy, and Massenet.

For some mysterious reason the national character of the program was broken at the end by an unprogrammed non-Gallic work, Victor Herbert's long and laborious "Irish Rhapsody."

Mr. Powers' performance of the concerto was fine grained in tone and discriminating in musicianship. The audience liked his playing and called him back to play Saint-Saëns' "The Swan" as an encore.

The O'Grady Sisters Hold Party to Mark Celia's 79th Birthday

The four O'Grady sisters, who were little girls on the near north side 75 years ago, had a party yesterday afternoon. It was the 79th birthday of Mrs. Celia A. Duffy, 1125 North Avers avenue, who is the mother of Capt. Thomas J. Duffy of the Sheffield avenue police.

Her guests included her three sisters, Mrs. Catherine McHale, 83 years old, 525 North Harvey avenue, Oak Park; Mrs. Helen Martin, 77 years old, 4906 Adams street, and Mrs. Jane Glaspell, 75, 4233 Jackson boulevard. All are widows.

The only male guest yesterday was the Rev. William D. O'Brien, auxiliary bishop of Chicago.

Reform Futile, but Trial May Aid Reformer!

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"Marion is hopeless. I talked to her for an hour yesterday trying to convince her she mustn't always worry and be so gloomy and expect the worst," Dorothy S. told us vehemently. Then she smiled and admitted: "But it does me a lot of good to talk to her because I am inclined to be that way myself."

Reforming other persons is a waste of effort, as far as they are concerned. But it may not be a complete waste of time. An earnest effort to uplift some other person may do a very good job of uplifting ourselves.

If you have a fault or a problem, pick some one else with a similar failing or a similar difficulty, and see what you can do for him or her.

If you are lonely, find others who are even more lonesome, and try to brighten their lives.

If you are unhappy, get out and do something to cheer some one else.

Suppose you are a worrier. Pick some one who is a worse coward than yourself. Analyze his fears. See how foolish they are. In his case, you probably will see quite plainly that it is merely uncertainty and unfamiliarity with the danger that frightens him. He hasn't learned the truth in the situation. Search out the truth for him. It may never do him any good—but it will help you a lot.

Detaching yourself from a problem helps to solve it. Helping others may or may not help them, but it is sure to help you.

and the National Jitterbug Champions.

BY FREDERIC BABCOCK.

The much publicized "oomph" girl comes to town—and goes to town—in this, her first starring vehicle. Ann Sheridan is as curvaceous and as cuddlesome as was her predecessor, Clara Bow, the "it" girl. And she is as good [or bad] a vampire as Theda Bara and Nita Naldi ever dreamed of being.

"Naughty But Nice" is more nice than naughty. It is the story of how a young music professor's opus, "Midnight Rhapsody," is transferred into a swing something called "Hooray for Spinach." As such, it is a pleasing satire on Tin Pan Alley. But not for a moment is it to be taken seriously. The satire is drowned in a medley of rhythm and comedy.

At times the comedy is a bit too obvious. Witness such forced wisecracks as "The songs I write will be handed down to prosperity" and this entrance line: "Are you sure I am not protruding?" But most of the gags are genuinely funny. Witness the modern aunt's greeting when the professor arrives in the big city from his freshwater college: "And how are all the long underwear folks back home?"

Also, her retort when the three old fashioned aunts announce that they have just flown in by plane: "You would look more at home on a broomstick."

As always, Helen Broderick makes the most of her lines. So do the other three aunts, Zasu Pitts, Vera Lewis, and Elizabeth Dunne. Dick Powell sings and plays to the complete satisfaction of his admirers, and Gale Page manages to dig a great deal out of her rather colorless rôle. Maxie Rosenbloom, as a maid of all work, has his moments.

But the big excitement is Ann Sheridan. She has plenty of allure, and she can sing. [I couldn't help wishing that her hairdresser hadn't given her that cluster-of-grapes effect on top of her head.]

The story is by Richard Macauley, a young Chicagoan who wrote a series of sparkling newspaper yarns for a national magazine before he went Hollywood. In this one he has adopted the familiar triangle motif, with the hero assailed by the girl who has a heart of gold and the girl whose heart is set on acquiring gold. If you can't guess which one wins out you don't know your movies.

[Some day, just for novelty, I hope to see a movie in which the vampire and the black-mustached villain triumph and the marcelled hero and the good girl get what's coming to them.]

Looking at Hollywood by Ed Sullivan

The Mirror

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 15.—Now Janet Gaynor has been retired from circulation by Adrian, M-G-M designer. . . . Daniel Z. Cupid has had quite a haul—Miss Gaynor, Carol Lombard, Hedy Lamarr, Merle Oberon, Florence Rice, Paula Stone, Rose Stradner, Patricia Ziegfeld, Annabella, Madge Evans, Sigrid Gurie and Barbara Stanwyck. . . . Not to mention the direct hits that liquidated Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Nelson Eddy, Clark Gable, Tyrone Power, Robert Taylor, Alex Korda, Sidney Kingsley, Gene Markey. Brian Aherne and Joan Fontaine already have filed notice of their wedding plans.

Next will be Cary Grant and Phyllis Brooks. . . . Grant, before sailing for England, assured this column that despite all rumors he wouldn't get married abroad. . . . He didn't. . . . After the Cary Grant nuptials you can expect Priscilla Lane to become Mrs. Oren Hagland. . . . Love is in the air.

The "F" in Zanuck's name is Francis. . . . No young actor has shown so much improvement in a brief span as Cesar Romero. . . . His performance in "Frontier Marshal" was first rate make believe, despite the fact that the picture wasn't too credible.

I'm still looking expectantly to the day when Randy Scott will get the break he deserves. . . . Scott, who has plenty on the ball, must be pretty fed up with monotone parts which always demand that he lose the girl to a bummer. . . . Tyrone Power and his bride have reservations for a trans-Atlantic flight on the Yankee Clipper. . . . Robert Taylor does one of his best acting chores in "Lady of the Tropics." . . . Laugh is that Taylor tried to duck the picture.

Eric von Stroheim Jr. and Sheila Darcy, Paramount starlet, have it bad. . . . Eddie Cantor and Russell Hicks are organizing a five star final club. . . . Each has five daughters and each agree that's final. . . . Cantor kidded the life out of Sophie Tucker at the actors' massmeeting out here. . . . "Sophie doesn't know what she's doing," he said, kindly. . . . "All she knows is 'Some of These Days' and two and two make four." . . . Actors, in other words, don't believe that Sophie knows her onions when it comes to unions.

Paramount's chief task with Mary [My Heart Belongs to Daddy] Martin was to photograph her so that she wouldn't look so much like Claudette Colbert. . . . Linda Darnell prefers Robert Shaw to stardom. Jane Withers and her maw take off for Australia Jan. 3. . . . Director Howard Hawks and Shipwreck Kelly will meet Ernest Hemingway in South Africa. . . . Shipwreck would prefer it if Marjorie Weaver went along, too. . . . They went to school together in Kentucky.

Hollywood will honor Gus Edwards with a big banquet on the eve of the release of Charlie Rogers' "The Star-Maker." . . . They couldn't honor a grander person than the Tin Pan alley veteran. . . . Terrific business being done by the Charles Boyer-Irene Dunne picture, "When Tomorrow Comes," is interesting because not so long ago both of these fine performers meant little or nothing at the box office.

Leo McCarey's "The Awful Truth" made Miss Dunne a box office magnet, and his "Love Affair," which teamed Boyer with her, converted them into one of the great "teams" of the industry. . . . Not since William Powell and Myrna Loy clicked spectacularly in "Thin Man" has a team come along like this one. . . . Exhibitors say that today the most compelling Marques attraction is Irene Dunne and Boyer. . . . Second to them, Mickey Rooney, a one boy riot.

Warners, in all probability, make more prison pictures and crime flickers than any other studio out here. . . . It's not only good business but it is also a necessary policy. . . . With Jim Cagney, George Raft, Edward G. Robinson and John Garfield on the pay roll they have to shape scripts to fit the players. . . . I can't picture this quartet doing drawing room comedies. . . . And the "Dead End Kids" didn't lend themselves readily to frothy fripperies.

You didn't have to be superstitious to note the wave of tragedies that happened on Sunday, the thirteenth. . . . The wreck of the Southern Pacific streamliner, the flaming crash of the Pan American clipper, the New York subway wreck, and all sorts of killings and tragic deaths. . . . Maybe Binnie Barnes was right when she refused to fly east with the actor delegates to the Atlantic City convention. . . . There were thirteen in the plane. . . . She wouldn't budge until they added another passenger.

Biggest audience laugh in "Wizard of Oz" comes when Judy Garland, Bert Lahr, Jack Haley, and Ray Bolger arrive at the court of the wizard and are taken to him by a hoss drawn hansom cab. . . . The nag is "the horse of another color" and he changes color every few yards. . . . Very amusing.

Cy Bartlett and Joan Warner are swooning. . . . Workmen at 20th Century-Fox are digging a big hole on the north lot. . . . In a few weeks, when the hole is completed, they'll pour in the Hudson river which will be used by the "Little Old New York" company.

"The Man in the Iron Mask" is doing big business through the country, which is swell for Director Jim Whale. . . . Whale can take an additional bow. . . . He worked on Joan Bennett's voice until he got it down to a lower register and it was infinitly more effective. . . . For the first time Joan's voice matched her very lovely appearance.

"Miracles for Sale" was first rate entertainment with first rate performances and exciting mystery stuff. . . . But the reason for the attempted killing of Florence Rice was pretty weak. . . . The magician feared her because he thought she had detected him "riffling the cards from left to right, instead of from right to left." . . . I don't believe it.

5,000 Orphans and Aged to Be Guests at Auto Day Outing

Lincoln park will become a playground today for 5,000 orphans, crippled children, and old persons from institutions of Chicago and vicinity. They will be guests at the thirty-fifth annual outing sponsored by the Orphans' Automobile Day association.

Stage, radio, and night club talent, clowns and a number of sports celebrities will appear on the program. Transportation is being furnished by car owners who have volunteered their services. Organizations coöperating in the outing are the Chicago Motor club, the Chicago Automobile Trade association, Lions clubs of Cook county, Funeral Services associated, and others.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

A dry skin is the first to become an old looking skin. Protecting it and doing all that is possible to help replace the natural oils is a year around job. The cold winds rob it in the winter and the hot sun acts as the robber in the summer.

In the hurry to take advantage of all the activities that summer offers, women are inclined to become careless and to let their usual conscientious beauty care slip. We always want to shake the women who say they can't be bothered with cleansing and creaming their faces every night. They deserve to shrivel up before their time.

We know one woman who was leaning right up against the fortyish mark when she proclaimed to a group with an air of braggadocio that she had never used any creams on her face. Our silence was undoubtedly golden.

Call it summer temperament if you want to, but hot weather does have a tendency to make women notional about their beauty aids. We got into such a state the other day with the result that we transferred our affection to a night cream that we had not used for quite a while.

You couldn't go wrong on this cream at any time of the year. But it makes a splendid summer treatment cream because it does not feel too heavy when you use it. It is one with a delightful herbal tang, and is extremely rich in lubricating oils that help to keep the texture of the skin fine and smooth.

MERMAID COMES UP WITH YEAR'S BEST FISH STORY

BY BOB BECKER.

A young woman who dove twenty feet into a lake, unhooked a 5¾ pound black bass from her father's fishing line, which was snagged in the weeds, and then came to the surface with the fish in her hands, stepped into the midwest fishing spotlight this week.

Anglers who like to swap yarns about the big ones that got away were nonplussed when they heard the story of Ty Walters, the girl who did the diving, and her father, Bill Walters, who says all he did was to hook the bass and then hang on while his daughter landed it. Ty is 20 years old.

Hooked at Indiana Lake.

They were fishing at Lake Shakamak, not far from their home town, Jasonville, in southwestern Indiana. When Walters hooked the bass on his fly rod, it went down deep into the moss and weeds. He couldn't budge it an inch.

Then Ty plunged in, followed the line down, pulled away handsful of weeds, and was just about ready to come up for air when she saw the fish. She grabbed it and came to the surface.

Sportsmen who have heard about the catch not only doff their hats to the young woman who made it, but they intimate that diving helmets soon may come into use in fresh water, so that anglers may untangle the big ones that get around snags and in the weeds.

Bass Hitting in Lake Geneva.

Lake Geneva, in Wisconsin, is one of the nearby places producing dandy strings of bass. For the rod and reel fan who doesn't want to go far, Lake Geneva now is a hot tip, because the small mouthed bass have started to hit. The latest report from up there says they are on a real spree. They're taking crawfish way down deep. Frank Mueller, student of Lake Geneva fishing, says the bass may be expected to hit crawfish until around Labor day.

The small mouth fishing in the big waters of Lake Michigan and Green bay around Door county, Wisconsin, is so good that limit catches are the rule rather than the exception. Mr. and Mrs. Otto Baptist and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Warren of Chicago were among those who brought in beautiful strings from the waters around the Strawberry Islands in Green bay. Mr. and Mrs. Baptist landed several bass weighing between three and four pounds and one that weighed better than four pounds.

Too Many Fish Here!

It's not often that residents of any fishing country want a reduction in the number of fish that may be caught in a day. But Door county seems to be different. The small mouths have been striking so fast this summer, and so many are being caught, that some of the residents would like the daily limit reduced from ten to six.

Muskie fishermen in the middle west have been upset, if not a little groggy, for more than a week. First came the news that Louis Spray of Hayward, Wis., had landed a world's record muskie weighing 59 pounds 8 ounces. This one was taken from Grindstone lake, not far from Hayward.

While the "ohs" and "ahs" were still echoing among the Wisconsin hills a report came from Michigan that Percy Haver of Detroit, an expert with several prize winners to his credit, had caught a world's record muskie. The first report said this one weighed 59 pound 14 ounces. Scores of anglers have written to ask us if the Michigan catch was "authentic."

Wisconsin Is the Winner.

There isn't any doubt that Haver caught one big enough to break the old record on muskellunge. But the latest report on the Michigan fish is that it weighed 58 pounds 14 ounces. The Wisconsin muskie [backed by affidavits recorded in the Sawyer county courthouse], weighed 59 pounds 8 ounces. So Wisconsin is the winner.

With these two whoppers—either one heavy enough to be crowned with the title of "world's record"—taken the same summer and within a few days of each other, 1939 is going down in the history books as the "year of the big fish." The previous mark on muskellunge taken by hook and line was 58¼ pounds.

Saugatuck Expects Crowd at Arts Fete Aug. 21-25

Saugatuck, Mich., Aug. 15 [Special].—Several thousand visitors are expected here for Arts Fête week, Aug. 21 to 25. Every tradesman in town will don a smock for the occasion. The highlight will come the final evening, when a masquerade ball and a pageant, "Queen of the Woods," are held at the pavilion.

Mexico City Has Girls' School Founded in 1732

Mexico claims one of the world's oldest schools for girls. It is the Colegio de la Paz in Mexico City, and it was founded for poor children in 1732. Today it has forty-five teachers and about 800 pupils.

SQUAWS PREPARE NEW FINERY FOR OREGON ROUNDUP

Pendleton, Ore., Aug. 15 [Special].—Squaws of the Umatilla, Nez Perce, Yakima, and other tribes of the northwest are at work with needle, bead, and thread these days. They are preparing new finery for themselves and their menfolk. The finery will blossom out here Sept. 13, when the Pendleton roundup begins a four day run.

No fewer than 2,000 Indians gather for the annual celebration. They set up their villages in areas reserved for them. The visitor sees them living in much the same way they did a hundred years ago.

200 Amateurs Enter 10th Golf Tournament at Banff

BANFF, Alberta, Aug. 15 [Special].—Two hundred amateurs—the largest number since the tournament was started ten years ago—have signed up for Golf week, to be held here Aug. 21 to 24.

ALBINO DEER IS SPIED IN CALIFORNIA; EVEN ITS HOOFS ARE WHITE

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 15 [Special].—An oddity in the animal kingdom—an albino deer—was seen this week in Lassen Volcanic National park.

It is being studied by park naturalists under difficulties. Information so far gained shows that it is about 2 months old. A Columbia blacktail fawn, it is white all over—even including its hoofs, which ordinarily are black. It was seen in the King's Creek meadow section with its mother and twin, both of which have normal colorings.

FISHERMEN USE PIG'S SNOUT TO POINT WAY HOME

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Aug. 15 [Special].—A pig's snout is used as a compass by fishermen who patrol the waters of the Caribbean, off the coast of this territory.

Sailing for days at a time, the anglers get far out of the sight of land. Their catches of giant marlin and tuna completed, they wish to turn homeward.

Out of the hold of the ship they take a pig, imprisoned there since the beginning of the voyage. The animal infallibly points his snout toward land, they say.

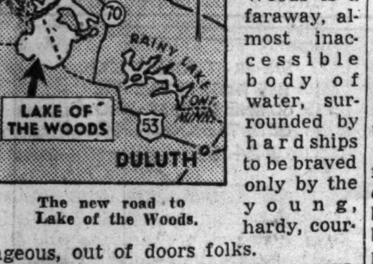
HERE'S A HOLIDAY DE LUXE DEEP IN THE WILDERNESS

Lake of the Woods Now Is Two Day Auto Drive.

BY PARKE BROWN.

To the average middle western American who is interested in such things the Lake of the Woods is a faraway, almost inaccessible body of water, surrounded by hardships to be braved only by the young, hardy, courageous, out of doors folks.



The new road to Lake of the Woods.

All that was true for many years, during which fishermen, hunters, and those who love woods and waters for themselves longed hopelessly for a sight of the thousands of islands in the big water lying at the international boundary line above Minnesota.

Now everything's different. The reader is asked to accept this unvarnished tale of a Chicago officeworker and hotel dweller who would no more think of rough camp life, tent dwelling, canoe portaging, and the like than he would of volunteering for a north pole expedition.

Just a Two Day Drive.

Today the owner of any roadworthy car may reach the farthest north point on the Lake of the Woods by two days' driving, and, once in that territory, he may take his choice among a score of well equipped camps, or he may even find all the comforts, cookery, and accommodations of an up to the minute resort on a rocky bluff at the water's edge. And he will find fishing de luxe.

Road development tells the story. Until recently access to the city of Kenora, at the head of this lake, was by Canadian railroad or by a circuitous highway route through Winnipeg. The south end of the lake, lying within Minnesota through a jutting northward of the boundary above the 49th parallel, is not scenic and is not good fishing water. Camps, lying chiefly on the eastern shore, were difficult to reach.

Early in July this writer [with his wife doing the driving while he watched the maps and the scenery] traveled the 800 miles to Kenora by way of Duluth and International Falls and by 5 o'clock on the second day was in the launch bound for a lodge operated by the same railroad that runs big hotels at Banff, Lake Louise, Quebec, and other Canadian spots well known to the American tourist who sticks to his own continent. I was doing that de luxe fishing the morning of the third day.

New Road Through Wilds.

This was possible because of the comparatively new road that has been cut through the rock hills and woods that for years barred all except Indians, hunters, and timber scouts from making the land journey to Kenora.

In its original state this road was narrow; it wandered in and out, even occasionally reversing its direction because of the numerous lakes, rivers, and hills that lay in its direct course. Now it is being widened, straightened and leveled—a great road project.

Heavy construction work is in progress in some stretches. Solid rock hills must be cut through. Deep gulches must be filled. Everywhere, even in these stretches, the temporary road is passable, and the motorist glimpses the possibilities of the highway in its final form.

Engineers on the work differed in their estimates of the length of time that will make the new road usable from one end to the other and of the date when this King's highway will be declared complete. But even now, before the improvement has been publicized, the number of cars aiming straight northward to Kenora is multiplying week by week. There is no way of guessing the number that will pass that way next season.

Room Enough for All.

Thousands of Americans who have wanted to go to the Lake of the Woods will find an easy way open to them. And there will be room for all of them on the lake, with its 1,500 cr more square miles of area, its 14,000 islands, and the seemingly endless miles of beautiful shore line.

If they fish, probably nearly all of them will be as surprised as one fisherman was this summer to find that the Lake of the Woods is something much more than the place where for years record breaking muskellunge have been caught. That one angler was so busy landing bass and walleyes that in two weeks' time he never touched his heavy muskie rod and lures on the porch of his bungalow cabin.

As a matter of fact, the main muskie hunting grounds were some fifteen or twenty miles south of that porch, but muskies did show up much nearer than that. This novice, his wife, and guide were splashed by a big one that came straight up out of the deep at the edge of a rock bar after a two inch plug that was being lifted into the boat. And a fisherman from Missouri caught two muskies weighing up in the twenties on that same sort of small bass plug.

That brings us to the fishing de luxe. It reminded this fresh water amateur of the sport of big boat, big rod, and big reel salt water fishing he had glimpsed along the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

Flawless weather, sunny and breezy. Then overcast and cool. Rains at night. No wind storms. The angler could start out with a partner and a guide in a real outboard boat with a motor of a horse power of his own choosing. Or on some days his outboard, along with seven others, would be splendidly hitched behind a fast launch carrying a total of sixteen fishermen and eight guides. That was for longer trips down the lake.

Some good fishing ground had been selected in advance. Arrived there, the launch drew up to a shelving, roomy rock point blessed with both breeze and shade. Before it had tied up to this natural dock some of the guides slid off the launch stern, detached the two strings of four small boats and beached them on the other side of the point.

The sportsmen stepped off the larger boat, walked across the point with their tackle, and boarded the outboards already equipped with cushions and seat backs. Each of the small boats took off in its own direction, to fish whatever mainland or island shore the guide and his fishermen thought best.

Normally no two of those boats, after slipping around a bend, glimpsed one another again until all came back to the starting point for the shore lunch at noon or dinner at dusk. Then all boarded the launch for the ride home in comfort.

Meals Prepared by Experts.

Those shore lunches and dinners had been prepared by experts while the vacationists were having their fun. Fillets or bass and walleye dipped in egg, flour and cracker or toast crumbs before being fried and placed on steaming hot rocks. A huge platter of crisp, dry bacon eaten with the fingers. Coffee made by a secret process that, gossip said, included the use of a few raisins. Possibly, as an unnecessary appetizer, tomatoes just as they came out of the can. And later pies and fresh fruit.

The canvas arm chairs had been placed in the shade. Even before the fishermen arrived there, half of them were asking how the other half had scored with the rod. A man who reported fewer than twenty bass and walleyes for his boat for a day's fishing did it with shamed face. Anything less than twenty was a poor day. Jacks, as great northern pike were called, simply were not counted.

Most of the anglers preferred the bass to the walleyes. For the only bass in the Lake of the Woods are the small mouthed ones—an unusually scrappy variety, colored a beautiful bronze and broad of back in a way that indicates their fighting qualities.

Most of Fish Put Back.

Walleyes weighing four, five, and six pounds were not uncommon. And the experienced put no bass on his stringer unless it weighed in the neighborhood of two pounds. Frequently there was an agreement that no bass weighing less than 2½ pounds would be kept. They would be saved for some member of the party planning to make a shipment, and only one shipment can be made on each license.

To new arrivals it was astounding that probably 90 per cent of the fish caught in the Lake of the Woods are put back in the water without injury. Why keep them? The lodge had fish on the bill of fare three times a day. You could make only one shipment. Put them back and let them grow!

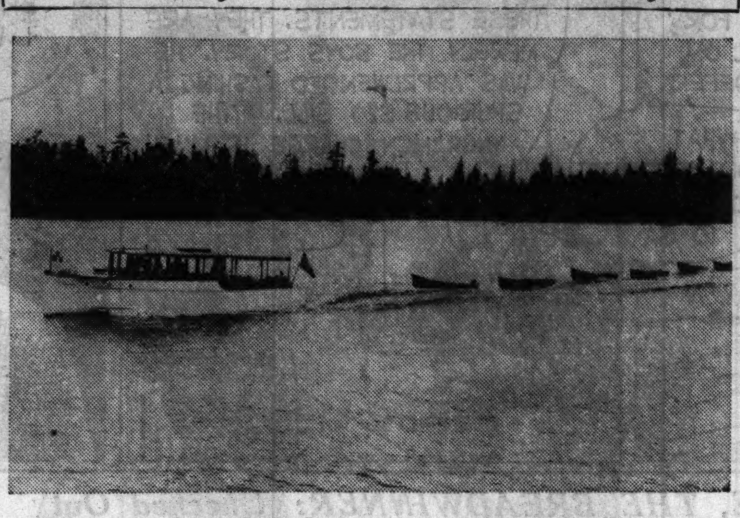
This sort of conservation was aided greatly by the fact that no live bait was used. Plugs, spoons, spinners, and fly combinations, according to the caster's choice, but there was none of the bother of obtaining, carefully guarding, and handling minnows, frogs, crawfish, or night crawlers. And the fish didn't get the hook down in his gullet where it would injure him. The guide used pliers to lift the treble, double, or single hook from the bony structure of the mouth, and the fish sped off to strike again another day.

Planted in Adjoining Lake.

One last surprising thing about the fish. These excellent small-mouth bass are not native there and, according to good authority, they were not planted there. A small lake adjoining the big lake, according to the story, was stocked with them. At that time there was a dam between the two. About ten years ago the dam burst and now the Lake of the Woods literally teems—there is no other word for it—with small-mouth bass running up to more than five pounds in weight.

If all of the sportsmen who for ten years or more have wanted to fish the Lake of the Woods go there next year there will be many thousands of them, but there will be enough bass and walleyes — and muskies, too—for all of them that season and for many seasons to come. It's a great lake.

Two Days' Drive from the City



Setting out for a day's fishing in the Lake of the Woods. The launch tows the smaller craft to a likely spot, from which the sportsmen embark in the outboard boats to land the limit of bass or muskies.

COLUMBIA RIVER SALMON DERBY STARTS AUG. 28

Salem, Ore., Aug. 15 [Special].—The mouth of the Columbia river, best known of America's commercial salmon fishing grounds, will be the scene of the annual salmon Derby Aug. 28 to Sept. 3.

The Derby is a phase of the Astoria regatta. Chinook runs are just starting into the river and are expected to be at their best after next Sunday. The fish range from 20 to 60 pounds; so the season's winner will be in the 60 pound class. Last year's topnotcher weighed 55¾ pounds.

Known in other waters as tyee and king, the chinook is the finest of all the salmon and, by virtue of its size, the hardest fighter. On their way upstream to the spawning grounds, great schools of these red meated fish congregate in the mouth of the Columbia in late August and early September.

THESE MODERN MAGELLANS WILL ROLL UP TO RIO!

January Cruise to Round South America.

BY FREDERIC BABCOCK.

Ever since the Strait of Magellan was discovered more than 400 years ago, the voyage around South America and to the southernmost outpost of civilization has stirred the imagination of travelers.

Clipper ships and whalers used to go adventuring there, and they had plenty of difficulties. Nowadays the trip is made on luxury liners with a minimum of danger and discomfort.

One such cruise, on a fast, 42,500 ton liner, will leave from New York Jan. 26. The 14,000 miles around the continent will be covered in six weeks. Fourteen ports are to be visited.

Fine Experience for Traveler.

To this observer, who made the trip last year on another ship, the cruise down the west coast, through the strait, and up the east coast is one of the finest experiences available to the present day traveler. It leads to lands of splendid scenery, almost unlimited opportunity, new world modernism alongside old world charm, great industrial activity contrasted with primitive conditions, and magnificent cities not far from savage colonies. Taken at a time when much of North America is preoccupied with blizzards and chilblains, it leads to sun-splashed regions under the Southern Cross.

Passengers on the cruise starting next January will be taken through the Panama canal and from there to Lima, Peru; Santiago, Porto Montt, and Valparaiso, Chile; Punta Arenas, in the Strait of Magellan; Buenos Aires, Argentina; Montevideo, Uruguay; Santos, Sao Paulo, Rio de Janeiro, and Bahia, Brazil; Port of Spain, Trinidad, and St. Thomas, Virgin Islands. Optional shore excursions will be taken through the Chilean lakes and across the Andes.

All these places have their attractions; the Strait of Magellan and the harbor at Rio are outstanding.

After he had made his discovery Ferdinand Magellan penned this observation: "I think there is not in the world a more beautiful country or a better strait than this one; at every half league there is a good port and a place for anchoring, good waters, wood of all cedar, a very sweet herb named 'appio,' and fish like sardines."

Today's tourists are more inclined to remark on the scenery comparable with that of the Norwegian fjords, and the air of remoteness—of being as far removed from the rest of the world as one can ever hope to get. Whales, cormorants, penguins, and albatrosses combine with the mountains in providing a bewildering spectacle.

A few days later, when the voyager is viewing the harbor of Rio from either the bald monolith known as Sugar Loaf or the jagged peak called Corcovado, he realizes that all the adjectives and superlatives he can command are just so many words.

Veteran travelers will argue for hours about the relative beauties of foreign cities, but there is no argument about Rio. They all rank it first. It admits of no comparisons.

Fairest City Imaginable.

Picture the fairest city imaginable, sketched in flashing colors and stretching from a rounded blue harbor into even bluer hills, and you will have a faint idea of this amazing pattern of land and seascape. Then imagine, if you can, standing on top of Sugar Loaf at twilight and viewing "The Necklace," an unworldly effect produced when the thousands of lights skirting the harbor are turned on a section at a time.

Travel Queries Answered

[What's your travel problem? Address queries regarding where to go, how to get there, costs, and accommodations to the Travelers' Guide, Chicago Tribune, inclosing stamped, self-addressed envelope.]

How long will the special tours from Chicago to the Pacific coast be operated this season? D. L. M.

On at least one of the railroads they will be run until Oct. 1.

We hear a great deal about the national parks of this country, but not so much about those of Canada. Please tell me how many there are in the dominion, and what their names are. S. J.

Nineteen. They are Banff, Jasper, Mount Revelstoke, Glacier, Yoho, Elk Island, Buffalo, Nemiskam, Waterton Lakes, Prince Albert, Riding Mountain, Georgian Bay Islands, Point Pelee, St. Lawrence Islands, Fort Beausejour, Fort Anne, Prince Edward Island, and Cape Breton Highlands.

Both my daughter and myself are allergic to hay fever. Have you any suggestions as to where we could go for relief? B. F. W.

Most of the lake areas in the north woods of Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota, and Canada are free from ragweed and other carriers of the disease, and therefore are favored by sufferers in this part of the country.

I am somewhat confused over the exact railroad fare between Chicago and New York. What is the minimum for the round trip? Does the same rate apply to Canadian ports? R. E.

The minimum for the round trip, traveling by coach, is $28.20, with a 30 day limit on the return. The same rate applies on the trip to and from Montreal.

RANGERS PLANT 1,820,000 TROUT IN YELLOWSTONE

Yellowstone Park, Wyo., Aug 15 [Special].—Insuring plenty of strikes for anglers for the next few years, park rangers this week planted 1,820,000 black spotted trout in lakes and streams of this playground.

They also planted 1,450,000 eggs of the black spotted variety, 246,000 one inch rainbow trout, and 2,000 six inch rainbows.

STATE OF NEW YORK

THE STATE THAT HAS EVERYTHING

To the Stars

By Gouverneur Morris

(Copyright: 1939: By Gouverneur Morris.)

SYNOPSIS.

Lee Reynolds, promoter of children's acts, in the days before motion pictures, is attracted to the tenement flat of the Lichts by the singing of their little daughter, Josefa. Next day he calls with his wife and persuades the Lichts to let him take Josefa into his home and train her for the stage. Two older children, Lena and Eddie, live with the Reynolds. During a stage show Eddie's voice breaks and Josefa goes to his rescue, saves the act, and becomes famous overnight. Eddie goes away to school. Josefa is billed as Sheila Doone. Lena hides her envy and hatred of Sheila by pretended friendship. Lena and her mother, Mrs. Chancellor Bowen, move to Hollywood. Backed by Producer Emmanuel P. Leica, Lena becomes a motion picture actress in the infant industry. Leica takes Charlie Chaplin to see Sheila in vaudeville.

INSTALMENT IX.

FROM VAUDEVILLE TO PICTURES.

When Sheila made her entrance which culminated in the usual tumble, Chaplin gave her act his whole sympathetic attention. He was old friends with the Reynolds and had always loved and admired Sheila. He was unhappy to see how fast she was growing up, he wished that the picture which he was about to make called for a thirteen year old girl instead of a five year old boy. In a twinkle of time, as genius can, he revamped the entire story with a known Sheila playing opposite him instead of an unknown boy. But scene by scene the new version of the story fell by the wayside. It wouldn't do. It was out.

During the applause, no, ovation, which followed Sheila's act, he leaned to Mr. Leica and said, "Some of you big producers are overlooking a good bet. With proper handling that little girl would be a gold mine."

Mr. Leica had just seen Sheila for the first time in his life, but resolved to build a reputation for omniscience at all costs, he whispered back.

"Don't think I haven't that little girl in mind for a long time now. With padding she could play leads."

"If I had a story for her I'd engage her like a shot," said Chaplin.

That very night while the others were dancing, Collins with Chaplin and Windsor with Harry Larch, who had been haled to Mr. Leica's table, he got himself introduced to Lee Reynolds, to Sheila who was being allowed to sit up late to see the activities, and herself be seen [though she knew nothing of this] and the deal was made.

"It is not for nothing," puffed Mr. Leica, patting Sheila's hand in a fatherly way, "I have said that what the public wants is new faces on the screen."

And he felt that he had acted precisely as Napoleon would have acted under similar circumstances.

A great weight of responsibility was lifted from Lee Reynolds shoulders. He had been in despair about Sheila's future, and his own for that matter. Vaudeville was going—going——. Soon it would be all gone.

But now this did not matter so much. Ten per cent of Sheila's new salary would, if the worst came to the worst, keep the wolf from the Reynolds' door.

The translation of Sheila Doone from vaudeville to pictures was news. It wasn't front page stuff, of course, because it wasn't a disaster of any kind, but her name rated paragraphs and quarter and half columns here and there in the leading newspapers of the country. A New York daily with strong leanings toward entertainers and entertainments commented upon her editorially.

The writer knew the Reynolds well, and Sheila well, but he did not hint at this. He assumed the position that all he knew about this "priceless" child was what everybody knew. And he defied success to spoil her. "It is said," he wrote, "that Sheila is to be starred in Romeo and Juliet. Old timers brought up in the tradition of heavier and more seasoned Juliets are shocked. She is only thirteen. Sheila will look the part, and if Juliet was sweet, innocent, priceless and unspoiled, Sheila will play the part to the heart's content." And so on.

On the Monday Sheila stepped onto the Leica lot for a long stay. Lena and the Soldier Boy company were away on location and except for Mr. Leica she hadn't a friend or acquaintance. By lunch time she had twenty. Mr. Leica turned her over to "Curly" who would do a fine article on a star's first day in pictures.

Curly, the thick skinned fearless scoffer and cynic, fell for Sheila like a ton of bricks. He had anticipated a precocious, sophisticated, conceited, little creature who would give him a pain in the neck. And when he was called to the front office to take personal charge of the new star, he went with his ears laid flat back and his mouth continually shaping, but not uttering unutterable words.

But——Hell——she was just a little girl—flat as a boy—all excited and eager and smiling and natural and friendly, and shy but not frightened.

Sheila had no better feature than her hands, long slim and tapering. Curly's better hitting hand [he could hit well enough with either] engulfed one of these as easily as the whale swallowed Jonah and without letting go he twisted it under his arm, and said, "Pleased to meet you, Sheila. Now you come along with me and I'll show you what's what."

"After that," said Mr. Leica, "you will both have luncheon with me. Twelve-thirty."

The buildings on the Leica lot, several acres in the heart of what would soon be a city, were built flimsily of wood and followed no general logical plan. Each had been hastily nailed together when it was needed. It had not been possible to foresee the growth of the business or to anticipate its demands.

A narrow steep flight of wooden steps led to a long narrow balcony upon which opened [only at the moment they were all closed] a row of narrow wooden doors, each one having a letter of the alphabet painted on it in black.

"E" was the letter of Sheila's dressing room. It wasn't much of a room, but far lighter and airier than the dressing rooms to which the theatre had accustomed her.

On the dressing table was a bowl of roses and maiden hair fern with Mr. Emmanuel P. Leica's card attached. To show how little the great man really thought of his greatness, he had crossed out the Mr. . . . Curly named over some of the more important persons to whom the various dressing rooms belonged at the moment. A. was Swanson. D. was Minter. N. was Lena. Sheila asked especially.

Curly wanted to know why she picked out Lena to get excited about. And Sheila told him about the old days when she and Lena had shared the same room and Lena had been kind to her. Curly secretly resolved that since Lena had once been kind to Sheila, he himself would henceforward be more lenient in his judgments of Lena. But for the present he changed the subject.

He took Sheila on Stage No. 3 where Irwin Willat, who had photographed Soldiers of Fortune for Uncle Dick Davis and Uncle Gus Thomas, was shooting a scene in the engine room of a submarine.

"Best sea director in the business," whispered Curly.

Then he took her on a set where the famous C. B. DeMille was "shooting" Gloria Swanson in an ultra modern set.

In the dark, ungarnished wings of the set, little tiptoe groups of interested persons watched the famous man and the famous star at work. All in a whisper Sheila was introduced to Jeannie McPherson, and Julia Fay, who wore number one and a half shoes, and to Ruth Russel.

Curly had an extra whisper for little Miss Russel.

"Stop worshipping at the shrine, Ruthie, and go places with us."

Ruthie was only too glad to stop whatever she was doing at the moment and try something else.

The trio walked through the carpenter shop where wheels turned and leather belts traveled in all directions. And Sheila shook hands with Mr. Farrar the art director, and with Augsburg the foreman, who reminded Sheila of Papa Licht and she told him so and became his favorite actress.

Wherever big Curly and little Russel piloted her, she made friends. Then it was lunch time and little Russel trotted off to keep a date with Minter, and Curly piloted Sheila into a clattering restaurant where Romans, savages, and ladies and gentlemen in full evening dress and made up to the gills, were tucking food into themselves.

18 Hurt as English Girls Mob Actor Tyrone Power

LONDON, Aug. 15 (AP).—There were 18 minor "casualties" when English girls "roughed" Tyrone Power tonight. Scheduled to make a personal appearance in a Strand theater, the actor drove up in a car and tried to mingle as a Power fan. The girls spotted him. Police rescued him.

The King and Queen Enjoy Picnic with Banker J. P. Morgan

GANNOCHY LODGE, Edzell, Scotland, Aug. 15 (AP).—King George and Queen Elizabeth of Great Britain enjoyed another outdoor picnic lunch today with an American host.

Last June 11 President and Mrs. Roosevelt entertained the royal couple at Hyde Park, N. Y., with a picnic which introduced their majesties to "hot dogs."

Today their host was J. P. Morgan, whose house guests they are for several days of grouse shooting. The king and the banker were out early in sparkling sunshine with their guns and their game beaters. The queen joined them on the heathery slopes at noon.

The menu?

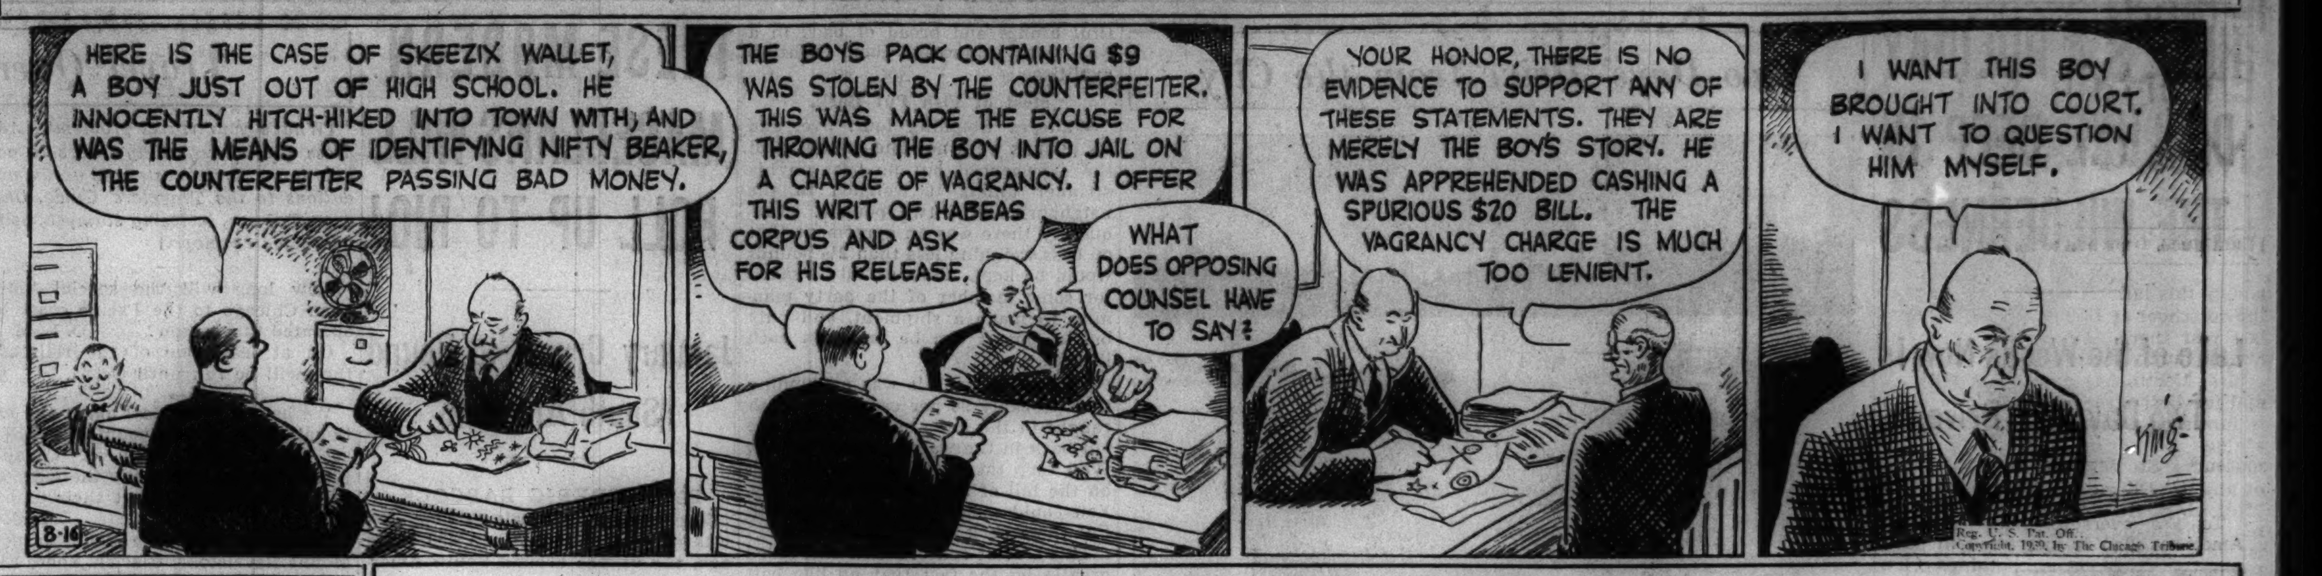
Natives of Effingham to Hold Reunion on Sunday

Former residents of Effingham county now living in the Chicago area will attend a reunion and picnic Sunday at Elm's inn, Higgins and Mannheim roads, two miles south of Des Plaines. Mrs. Frances Martin, Forrest Davis, and Paul Dobbins have arranged for picnic games and entertainment for the former residents of southern Illinois.

GASOLINE ALLEY—COMING UP



WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER: Checked Out

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1939: By Ely Culbertson.]

When the lead of only one suit—or one card within the suit—can defeat a slam contract the opening leader is more to be pitied than scorned if he fails to produce the "killer." But when, out of thirteen cards, any one of eleven will defeat the slam it usually connotes more than "bad luck" if the leader selects one of the two fatal cards. Note today's hand.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 diamond	Pass	1 spade	Pass
3 spades	Pass	4 clubs	Pass
4 hearts	Pass	4 no trump	Pass
5 no trump	Pass	6 no trump	Pass
Pass	Pass

I have reported this bidding as it actually took place in a recent match in England. Obviously, North-South were not using the 4-5 no trump convention. If they had been, North would have bid four no trump instead of four hearts, South would have answered with five no trump, and North would have become the declarer at the slam. As a matter of fact, a slam contract in either position was a decided stretch, and the partnership would have been much more discreet to have rested at a mere game in either spades or no trump.

However, perhaps North or South had a presentiment that they would be tremendously helped by the opening lead. That, at any rate, is what happened. West, presumably after careful consideration, produced the diamond jack as his opening, and from that point on the defenders were in hot water. Dummy's queen covered, East won with the king, and returned a diamond. [No other return would have changed the result.] Declarer's nine spot held, and now a low heart was led to the queen, which also held. Dummy's ace and ten of diamonds were cashed, declarer discarding two spades. West could afford to let go one heart, but his second discard [no matter what he selected] was fatal. Actually, he let go a heart, blanking the king. Now the heart ace was cashed and, when the king dropped, a third heart lead to the jack squeezed West again. He had to discard a spade, unguarding the spade suit, or a club which would permit declarer to run four club tricks. In short, after the opening lead all declarer had to do was take advantage of the excellent lay of cards and be careful in his timing in order to squeeze West repeatedly.

It is interesting to note that West originally could have led any one of eleven cards to defeat the contract! Even though a spade, heart, or club lead would have solidified the given suit for declarer, the latter never would have been able to take twelve tricks. In effect, the lead of these three suits would be identical, so let us follow up the arbitrary selection of a low heart opening. Declarer's jack wins and he now can make three heart tricks without difficulty, but the all important extra diamond trick cannot be established. If declarer leads the diamond six West naturally plays low, and the best declarer can do is put in dummy's ten to force East's king. Now, however, when the diamond nine is led from the closed hand West's jack covers and forces a high diamond from dummy.

The salient feature of the hand is that only by cashing three diamond tricks, after conceding one diamond, can West be squeezed. West can make declarer a present of a spade trick, a heart, or a club without helping him materially. But when the extra diamond is established the result is as shown above.

This, I am afraid, will be a bit complicated to those readers who are not up on squeeze plays, but for that very reason it should be a good exercise for them. I suggest that they lay out the cards and notice for themselves the vast difference between the opening lead of a diamond and that of any other suit.

Friends Will Entertain for Miss Crawford

nology this fall. His sister is returning to school at Dobbs Ferry for her last year there. Mr. Gratiot is joining his family the end of the week.

Mrs. Martin has one of the oldest and loveliest places in Stonington. It is furnished exquisitely, many of the antique pieces being worthy of a museum. Stonington is the address of another Chicagoan, Mrs. Frank B. Mulford, in the summers, but she is not right in the town, as Mrs. Martin is. Mrs. Mulford's place, Cockade on Pentacres, is almost in Mystic, the next town west, where the Robert Foote Halls of Chicago have a country home. Mrs. Hall's sister, Miss Annie T. Rogers, is spending the summer, as usual, with the Halls.

Mrs. Mulford recently had as guests several former Chicagoans, Mrs. Carleton Holdrege of Washington, D. C., and the Edward C. Henrotins of Road's End, Cherry Plain, N. Y. Mrs. Mulford, Mrs. Martin and the Halls all delay returning to Chicago until late autumn, for they find September and October delightful months on the Connecticut shore.

Former Chicagoans at Mason's Island.

On Mason's Island, off the coast from Mystic, several ex-Chicagoans have summer homes, including the Garrett Prices and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Morton Stoops of New York. Miss Carolyn Wilson has a place there, too, near the summer home of the Mitchell Wallaces of Waterbury, parents of Richard Baum's bride, the former Mary Mitchell Wallace.

Young Mr. and Mrs. Baum still are honeymooning abroad, but they will be back at Mason's Island late this month or early in September for a brief visit with the Wallaces before coming west to Lake Forest for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Baum. It is not definite where Dick Baum will be teaching this winter, but all his friends here are hoping he and his attractive wife will be living in this vicinity.

A former Chicagoan who is spending the summer at Waterford, Conn., not far from New London, is Mrs. William Reyburn Jr. of Aiken, who was Mrs. Glidden Osborne when she lived here. The Reyburns and their four sons—two are his and two are hers—live in a charming old house in Waterford. The Osbornes are not there much, however, for Harry is a radio announcer in Waterbury and William is a guide at the New York fair, so they spend only week-ends in Waterford.

Plan Barn Dance for Subdeb Set.

About one hundred of the subdeb set, friends of Linda Meyer and Muriel MacChesney, received in yesterday's mail brown paper invitations to a barn dinner-dance on Saturday, Aug. 26. The party will be given in the barn of the estate of Linda's mother, Mrs. Robert Tieken, and Mr. Tieken in Libertyville. Muriel and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester M. MacChesney, are neighbors of the Tiekens and Linda during the summers.

The invitations are maps, showing the guests how to reach the Tiekens' white picket gate.

Mrs. MacChesney and Muriel are leaving Sept. 1 to motor east to see the New York Fair and to visit several colleges with the idea of picking one for Muriel to go to a year from September. She will be a senior at the Girls' Latin school this year.

Mrs. Frederick P. Ives of Hanover, N. H., who formerly lived in Evanston, has come west for a visit. She is staying with Mrs. Allen Bunker in Chicago, and later will go to Glencoe to visit Mrs. Julian R. Norris.

New St. Anne's School at Lake Geneva Will Give Pageant Today

This afternoon the lovely tree encircled archery field of the new St. Anne's school at Lake Geneva will be the setting for two scenes from "Robinhood." The skits will be presented by the archery and riding classes of the school under the direction of Miss Miriam Cornish, dramatic coach.

The first story, "Shooting Match at Nottingham," will be enacted by Winifred Stene as Robinhood, Barbara Armstrong, Annette Savaria, Virginia Lee Robinson, Katharine Stewart, and Nancy Petty.

The second scene, "Robin Encounters Alan-a-Dale," will have Barbara Armstrong as Robinhood and Virginia Whelan will be the old knight.

Research Director Joins Armour Institute Faculty

Dr. Lloyd H. Donnell, a research director for the Goodyear Zeppelin corporation, was appointed yesterday as associate professor of mechanical engineering at Armour institute. He is a former member of the faculty of the University of Michigan and the California Institute of Technology.

The Housewife

If you have a small boy or girl who visits your house you can make him very happy by providing a little chair. One we saw recently was beautifully made by hand. It is of the ladder back type and has a rush seat. Of northern hard maple, it is not cheap, but well worth the price asked for it.

You can get it with or without arms. And a similar chair, but on the Windsor order, has rockers. It is of mahogany. Any of these chairs would delight a child. EDITH WEIGLE.

Two Patterns for Autumn

2523 SIZES 12-40

WOMAN'S AND MISS' FALL COSTUMES.

The two patterns today affect harmony of purpose and beauty. One design offers a two-piece suit, and the other a blouse to keep it company. The suit has a one-button jacket that makes up exceptionally well in tweed. The wide and notched rever collar is beautifully tailored. Two pockets are used near the jacket hemline. The skirt is a moderately full one. It may be of plain woolen or of solid color tweed. The blouse, of either silk or cotton, is a softly tailored one with tiny buttons down the front.

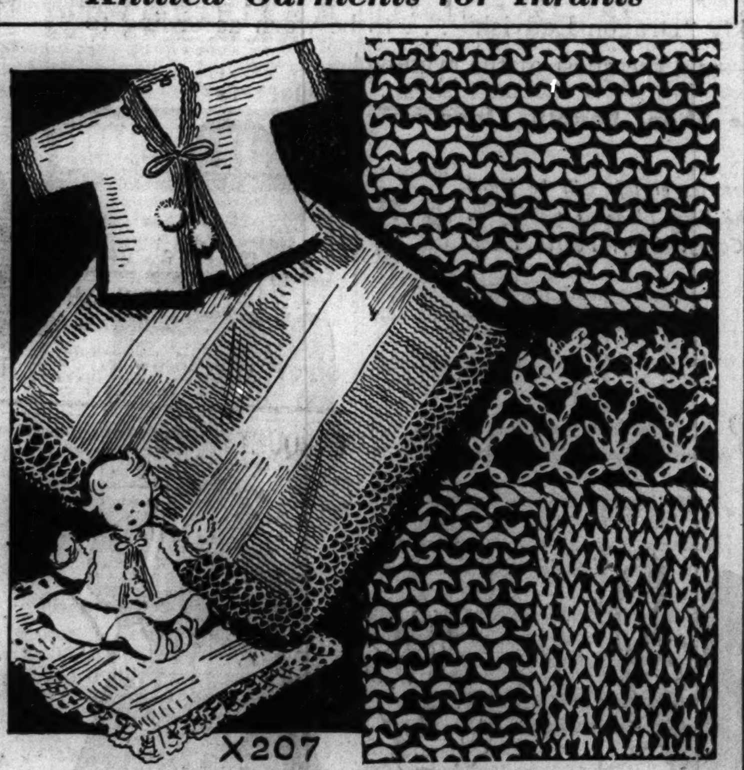
Style No. 2523 is designed for sizes 12, 14, and 16, and 36, 38, and 40 inches bust measurement. Size 16 requires 1½ yards of 54 inch material for the jacket and 1½ yards of 54 inch for the skirt.

Style No. 2722 is designed for sizes 14 and 16, and 36, 38, 40, and 42 inches bust measurement. Size 36 requires 2¼ yards of 39 inch material.

Each pattern costs 10 cents.

Address orders for Clotilde patterns to Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central Annex, NEW YORK CITY, including 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred—wrap it carefully) for each pattern ordered. IMPORTANT! Be sure to state clearly the number of the pattern and the size desired, and write your name and address plainly.

Knitted Garments for Infants



X207

BY JEAN MACDONALD.

Baby jackets and shawls are fluffy knitting items which every one loves to make, either for their own infants or as gifts. They take little time and are dainty creations made from pompadour and Saxony yarn.

For instructions in knitting this baby ensemble of jacket and shawl, No. X-207, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 5th avenue, New York City.

Mother Tells of Experience to Help Others

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.
[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

After the rather full discussion of thumb sucking that appeared in this column several weeks ago I received, as I always do after such articles, a letter from a dentist protesting about some of the statements I made. His protest was to the effect that thumb sucking always was highly injurious to teeth and arch, and that my stand was one that would do great damage.

The articles I wrote, as you may remember, dealt with both the psychological and physical aspects of the habit. The former were based on my own knowledge and on studies made by psychologists. The physical aspects, since I am neither doctor nor dentist, were not discussed from my own knowledge, but were based upon the most recent detailed research and study that have been made of this behavior.

I am not attempting today to cover that ground again, but only to offer an interesting letter giving proof of the assertions I quoted, and which were made at the conference of the American Academy of Pediatrics. While we mothers much prefer, for a number of reasons, not to have our children suck their fingers, there is great reassurance not only in the word of specialists but also in such a practical reënforcement as the following:

"Dear Mrs. Bevans: I often read your articles, although my children are nearly grownups, the youngest being 16. I have often thought that it might help you to give my experience in the matter you have written about.

"My daughter and youngest son both sucked their thumbs, but I never paid any attention to it, and both stopped it when they started to go to school. The daughter had unusually even teeth; dentists always remark about her perfect arch. The lad's teeth were more even than his older brother's, who never had the habit at all.

"By contrast one of my sisters used every conceivable method of trying to keep her daughter from the habit, with the result that she continued it in private until she was actually grown. I am convinced that what mothers need most is patience and a cheerful disposition, and one of the wisest methods in dealing with children is to interfere with their play and their interests as little as possible."

"How to Prevent or Cure the Habit of Nailbiting" is a leaflet of interest to parents, nurses, and teachers. Send a large, stamped, addressed envelope for it. Address Mrs. Gladys Bevans, The Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill.

Stuffed club steaks take only twenty minutes to cook, creamed potatoes may be prepared in double quick time if the "spuds" are cut in rather small pieces before cooking, and the rest of this short cut meal is almost ready made.

Have the asparagus for the salad and the cantaloupe for dessert thoroughly chilled. If you are really in a hurry open the can of asparagus tips, drain, and spread out the stalks on a shallow dish so that they'll chill quickly. Slice the melon and leave the slices directly under the freezing unit until they are very cold.

Broiled Stuffed Club Steaks with Tomatoes
[Serves four]

4 club steaks, cut 1 inch thick
1 cup toasted bread crumbs
2 tablespoons melted butter
1 small can mushrooms, chopped
1 small onion, grated
Salt, pepper
2 medium tomatoes

Have a pocket made in each steak, from the side next the bone. Combine toasted crumbs, melted butter, mushrooms, and grated onion. Season with salt and pepper and moisten with hot water. Fill pockets with dressing. Place steaks on a rack in a preheated broiling oven so that they are about three inches under the heating element. Broil until one side is nicely browned, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and turn. Place tomato halves in a shallow pan, brush them with butter, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and return to oven with turned meat. Broil until steak is brown on the other side and tomatoes are soft. Season meat and transfer to a hot platter. Garnish platter with broiled tomatoes.

If the tomatoes are large they may need more time to broil and should be put into the oven before the steaks are turned.

CREAMED POTATOES.

Boil small, peeled new potatoes in salted water until tender. Drain and pour over them a well seasoned medium white sauce. Keep hot in the top of a double boiler, if necessary, or serve at once. Add finely chopped parsley, pimiento, or chives to make them prettier and spice them a bit, if you like.

ASPARAGUS TIP SALAD.

Arrange fat asparagus tips [chilled, of course] on crisp lettuce or chicory, garnish with a strip of pimiento for each salad, and top with mayonnaise.

There'll be many more warm days when you'll be wanting ideas for cool, summery lunches and suppers for family or guests. There are many delightful menus and recipes in a brand new booklet, "Cool Meals for Warm Days." 5 cents at either of the Tribune Public Service offices, Tribune Tower lobby and 1 South Dearborn street. Or send 7 cents in stamps and the booklet will be mailed to you.

Mark 127th Anniversary of Fort Dearborn Massacre

The 127th anniversary of the Fort Dearborn massacre was observed at noon yesterday at the southwest corner of Michigan avenue and Wacker drive, the original site of the fort. The speaker was Capt. William J. Grace of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, who is a member of the committee of 13 trying to prevent the destruction of the Fort Dearborn replica. Several descendants of the survivors of the massacre were present.

On the House

There was a time when a sleeping porch was about the most inhospitable spot under the sun. But new and remodeled sleeping porches offer wise uses of hitherto disregarded spots. Modern living is condensed living and this means plentiful use of every space which can furnish storage facilities. Cupboards and shelves can be built into the corners of a sleeping porch as well as any other room.

All Letters to Sally Must Be Mailed Today

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.
[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Tribune Charities, Inc.]

If you boys and girls want to see the little tree-top house that Tarzan and his family live in, you'd better hurry up with your letters! It's a strange little house, made of bamboo and palms, with orchids on the walls and leopard skin rugs. The baby's cradle is a giant turtle shell, decorated with plumes from ostriches, and dinner is served with knives and forks made of bamboo.

Tomorrow morning I'm going to select 100 boys and girls to come with me to see this little home, and a lot of other interesting things in "Tarzan Finds a Son." The movie will be playing at the Oriental theater on Aug. 24, and I know it's just the kind of picture your youngsters like best. Johnny Weissmuller does all sorts of daring deeds, and there are animals galore—elephants, tigers, chimpanzees.

Any boy or girl is eligible to try for an invitation to this party. All you have to do is write a letter, telling me why you think you'd enjoy such a treat, and if your note is a convincing one maybe you'll see your name listed with the winners in next SUNDAY'S TRIBUNE.

You must remember to include your full name, address, and age, and have your letter on my desk tomorrow morning. The address is Sally Joy Brown, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago.

The Oval Face Ideal; Rouge Lends Illusion

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.
[Copyright: 1939: News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

In applying makeup, remember that your ideal is an oval face.

A girl with a round face should apply rouge low and quite near the nose, then blend it around the curve of her cheek. This lengthens the contours, while little round dabs of rouge in the middle of the cheeks would make her face all the rounder.

The square faced type should follow much the same principle, since length is what she, too, needs. If she also cultivates a long bob and keeps bangs or dips off her forehead, no one will notice her angular jaw.

Above all things, she never should put a touch of rouge in the middle of her chin under the impression that she is suggesting a roguish dimple. That is a little trick that should be practiced only on the long, thin face. Such a type should wear her rouge well away from her nose and high on her cheek bones. A bit of rouge on her ears will also give a wider effect.

The lucky lady who already has a perfect, oval face should emphasize and never detract from her own perfection. Spots of red directly in the center of her cheeks will narrow her nice cheek lines. If the rouge is blended, starting away from the nose and moderately high, she carries out nature's plan. Or she can do without rouge altogether.

As far as lipstick goes, every woman needs it. Match it to your rouge and have both harmonize with your skin.

BEINOR, DADDIO SCORE IN ALL-STARS' DRILL

CARDINALS DEFEAT CUBS AND DEAN IN 10TH, 7 TO 6

TWO HITS AND AN ERROR CAUSE DIZ'S DOWNFALL

Hartnett's Single Ties Count in 9th.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 15.—Dizzy Dean came in as a Cub rescuer late this afternoon, but all he got was raspberries from a multitude of his former ladies' day admirers and a beating from his one time mates. Dean, trying to carry on in the tenth after a flock of his pitching mates had failed, met up with a pair of hits which, with an error, enabled the Cardinals to win, 7 to 6, for an even break in the series, and end the Chicagoans' winning streak at five games.

Before Diz ever thought of making a public appearance the Cubs had knocked out Lon Warneke. The Cards had done the same to Bill Lee inside of five innings, taking a 6 to 4 lead that was untouched until an error let the Cubs sneak home a run on Clyde Shoun in the eighth.

Then they tied it on Shoun in the ninth when Manager Gabby Hartnett functioned successfully as a pinch batter. Meanwhile Earl Whitehill and Jack Russell had handled the Cards most effectively, but the latter was yanked for a batter in the tenth and that's how Ol' Diz happened to take a hand.

Nicholson Is Blanked.

The first man Diz faced when he started his job in the tenth was Terry Moore who lined a single to center. Don Gutteridge bunted, and although there was no chance for a play at second, Glen Russell made the throw—into left field, putting Moore on third and Gutteridge on second. Up came Bob Bowman, a pitcher who had relieved Shoun in the tenth and flattened the Cubs after they had put men on third and first with none out. All that Bowman did at bat was to single to center, scoring Moore and breaking up the show.

Only one Cub, pitchers excepted, failed to get into the hit column against the trio of Card pitchers. The shutout was showered on Rookie Bill Nicholson. Warneke fanned him to end the first inning with two on. In the second he grounded into a force play with two on and none out. Shoun induced him to pop out to close the fourth with two men waiting. On his next try he rolled out, so in the ninth Hartnett batted for him and came through with the hit that tied the score.

Russell Does His Part.

G. Russell led off in the second with a long fly which bounced off the left-center field wall for a triple. He clung to third while Mattick was being tossed out by Warneke. Mancuso's offering was a tall fly captured by Padgett. All that Warneke then had to do was to get Lee but he committed the unpardonable sin of walking the opposing pitcher. Hack followed with a double off the right field screen, scoring G. Russell.

Three hits and a hit batsman complicated the job for Lee in the Cards' second, two scoring. Medwick opened with a single to right and Mize was hit on the arm by a wide pitch. Padgett grounded to Herman for a double play but Moore singled over to short to send Medwick across the plate. Gutteridge singled to right center, but Herman fumbled the throw in so Moore ran in from third. During the confusion Gutteridge set sail for second but was cut down.

Mize Helps Cubs.

Mize generously helped the Cubs to a pair of runs in the fourth. Mancuso led off with a single. Lee bunted on the fly to Mize who didn't know he had a double play in his hands, Mancuso being at second by this time and S. Martin covering first. So Mize purposely dropped the ball and threw to S. Martin to retire Lee, thus accomplishing the purpose of the bunt. Hack was passed purposely and Herman doubled off the right field screen, Mancuso scoring. Shoun replaced Warneke and Galan sent a fly to Medwick on which Hack scored, putting the Cubs ahead, 4 to 2.

Slaughter sailed a homer onto the right field roof on Lee's first pitch in the fourth. Medwick singled over first and scored on Mize's double over third. Mize went over the plate on Padgett's single to right. Then Lee recovered his balance and the next three batters accomplished nothing.

Two batters in the fifth forced Lee to surrender. Brown opened with a single over short and was bunted to second by S. Martin. Slaughter bounced a two-bagger over G. Russell's glove, Brown scoring the Cards' sixth run and Lee turning over the pitching duties to Whitehill, who got out of the inning.

Cubs Fight Back.

The Cubs climbed to within one short of a tie in the eighth. G. Russell opened the inning with a line single into right center. Mattick flied out and Mancuso was thrown out, after which Reynolds batted for Whitehill and produced a grounder

DIETRICH OPENS FOR SOX IN SHORT DETROIT SERIES

Chicago Pads Third Place Lead as Indians Lose.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The White Sox, well rested from their last engagement, the 5 to 2 night victory over the St. Louis Browns in Comiskey park Monday, will engage the Detroit Tigers in the first contest of a two game series this afternoon.

If you carry around one of those little schedule books you will find therein that the Tigers were slated for three single games. But all that has been changed. The Tigers won't go for newfangled ideas such as night ball, but they did yield their Friday date here so that the Indians might come in for an illuminated match Friday night.

Tigers Beat Indians, Aid Sox.

The Tigers, after collapsing before the Browns in two games last week-end, rose up against the Indians yesterday for the second successive game, their victory keeping the Sox in third place, a spot won back Monday from the Indians. If the Indians had won yesterday they would be one percentage point ahead of the White Sox.

Bill Dietrich, who pitched so nobly in Cleveland Saturday only to see Clint Brown collapse after Bill had become slightly ill, is slated to pitch for the Sox today. The Sox don't know whom they'll face, but, we suspect, rather hope it isn't Tommy Bridges.

Tigers Are Close, Too.

Though they remained in third place—the difference between third place and fourth place payoffs is about $11,000, by the way—the Sox can not relax in one game while playing either the Tigers or Indians. The reason is apparent from this morning's standings of the three teams:

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Chicago	58	50	.537
Cleveland	56	50	.528
Detroit	57	52	.523

From the foregoing it can be deducted that it is mathematically possible for the Tigers to move from fifth to third place in the two game series with the Sox.

CHAMPION, NO. 2 PLAYER BEATEN IN PARKS TENNIS

New York, Aug. 15 [Special].—The defending champion, Willis Anderson, of Los Angeles, Cal., and the No. 2 seeded player, Julius Heldman, also of Los Angeles, were eliminated today in the national public parks tennis tournament.

Anderson was beaten by Lou Faquin, Memphis, Tenn., 5-7, 6-3, 6-0, 7-5, 8-6, and Heldman, ex-national junior champion, fell before the steady play of John Nogrady, New York, 6-3, 6-4, 2-6, 3-6, 6-3. The rest of the ranked list moved forward with easy triumphs, Leonard Hartman, No. 3, leading the advance with a 6-4, 2-6, 3-6, 8-6, 6-2 victory over Edward Andrews of New Bedford, Mass.

Fans, on Trail of Tickets, Clog Trafic in Cincinnati

Cincinnati, Aug. 15 (AP).—The baseball season has not yet hit the home stretch, but this town went slightly more ga-ga than usual over the pennant chasing Cincinnati Reds today. A crowd of several thousand persons which quickly exhausted the reserved seat supply for Thursday night's game with the Chicago Cubs, clogged downtown street trafic.

Three All-Stars Will Be on Radio Tonight

Three members of the All-Star football team which meets the New York Giants, professional champions, in Soldiers' field Aug. 30, will appear on radio programs tonight. George Faust will be heard over W-G-N at 6:30, Bob Haak over WLS at 7:15, and Charles Brock over WCFL at 9:15.

An All-Star from Stanford Crashes Through

Pete Fay, Stanford half back, makes a sizable gain off tackle with the aid of expert blocking during the College All-Stars' long scrimmage session yesterday in Dyche stadium.

Mr. Wyatt, an All-Star End, Sorry for Pros

He stretched full length upon the cot which was none to large for his six foot, 190 pound frame. "Ah never saw so many fine football playahs as they have on this All-Star team," he drawled. Reflectively he added, "somehow I can't help but feel kinda sorry for those New York Giants."

The speaker was gangly, handsome Bowden Wyatt of Tennessee, who will be one of the starting ends for the College All-Stars in the game with the New York Giants at Soldiers' field the night of Aug. 30.

Resting in his room at the Hinman house between practices Wyatt, who was a unanimous choice for All-American end last fall, told of the thrill he received at being elected to the All-Star squad. He was on a fishing trip deep in Mississippi at the time of the players' poll and didn't learn of his selection until he returned home and found a telegram containing the news.

Full Back Becomes End.

Wyatt, who developed into one of the greatest ends in the history of the south, started his football career as a high school full back in Kingston, Tenn., about thirty-five miles from Knoxville, site of the university.

His greatest ambition in those days was to play full back for Maj. Bob Neyland and the University of Tennessee. As soon as Bill Britton, Tennessee end coach, set eyes upon Bowden, he said: "I want that young man for an end, he looks like he will make us a good one."

Britton was proved to be an astute judge of football talent during the next three years as Bowden Wyatt skyrocketed to national prominence with his brilliant exploits.

Does a Lot of Scoring.

He played about half the time as a sophomore, but was a starter in every game throughout his junior and senior years. He reached his peak last fall, when he was the leading scorer on a Tennessee team which won eleven straight games, including a 17 to 0 victory over Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl.

Wyatt scored 53 points last fall. He caught six passes for touchdowns, kicked two field goals, blocked a punt for a touchdown, and kicked 16 points-after-touchdowns.

He says that his greatest thrill in athletics was "winning them all at Tennessee last fall," but if pressed he will probably admit that the safety he scored against Duke two years ago to give the Vols a 15 to 13 victory ranks just about tops in thrills.

NO PLACE LIKE HOME?

There's one night in the year John Howard Payne's much loved poem won't hold true. It's the night of Aug. 30, when the College All-Americans meet the New York Giants, professional champions, in Soldiers' field. You'll want to be there to see the nation's best football players clash in a thrill-packed game. You can be present—if you'll act quickly.

It's just a matter of calling at the Tribune's Public Service offices, either in the lobby of Tribune Tower or 1 South Dearborn street, for your tickets, or making the purchase by mail. Money orders or checks should be made payable to Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc., and addressed to All-Star Ticket Manager, Tribune Tower, Chicago.

BLOCKED KICKS PRODUCE BOTH TOUCHDOWNS

Cheer Leaders!

COLLEGE cheer leaders residing in the Chicago district are invited to join the group which will appear at the game between the College All-Stars and the New York Giants in Soldiers' field the night of Aug. 30. Cheer leaders wishing to participate should write Mr. Norman Korff, 213 North Morgan street, Chicago.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The fifth All-Star team to take part in yesterday's scrimmage in Dyche stadium, led by Ed Longhi, Notre Dame center, and Jerry Seidel, Columbia quarter back, blocked two kicks in the closing minutes of the three hour drill and from these came the 13 to 0 score with which the collegians marked up their hardest afternoon's work.

This team, designated by center and quarter back, as are all the units fighting for the right to play against the New York Giants Aug. 30, was the third in blue jersies. Opposed to the three blue teams were three green and red jerseyed squads. Longhi's eleven had just replaced the second Blue team to continue scrimmage against the Reds led by Sollie Sherman, quarter back.

Beinor Blocks One, Scores.

Luckman had another chance almost immediately and this time he scored the point. After the first touchdown the Reds took the ball, and again with Paulman kicking, Jim Coughlan, Santa Clara end, blocked the punt. This time Beinor recovered for the touchdown.

Yesterday's scrimmage session was the sixth workout since the All-Stars reported last Saturday. None of the five teams, two of which had several replacements in order to give all squad members a chance, could maintain an effective offense. But there were several sparkling runs and passes, flashes of brilliance which must have encouraged the staff of coaches since fourteen practice days remain before the clash with the professional champions in Soldiers' field.

O'Brien Stars in Passing.

Davey O'Brien's forward passing was one item delighting the coaches, who yesterday included for the first time Maj. Robert Neyland of Tennessee. Maj. Neyland arrived at noon by plane. Jim McGoldrick, Notre Dame guard and captain of the Irish last fall, was another arrival. McGoldrick reported yesterday morning, finishing his journey from Paris, where he received word of his election to the All-Star squad. He participated in the scrimmage.

O'Brien was at left half for the starting Blue team, which, with the exception of Marshall Goldberg, who has another week to wait for the cast to be removed from his broken toe, will appear for the opening kickoff Aug. 30. Bill Hofer, at quarter back, called signals for the Blues.

O'Brien's mastery of the forward pass was evidenced immediately. He threw to Bob MacLeod, his right half, for a gain of 42 yards. This drive was checked and ended when Hofer's attempted placement from the 20 yard line was short. In the closing scrimmage period for this team, O'Brien unleashed another series of passes, one to MacLeod, another to Bowden Wyatt, right end, and finally a third to Hofer which put the ball on the Green 14 yard line. Here the defenders rallied again to stop the assault.

Davey Runs Punt Back 54 Yards.

But the high point of Davey's play was his brilliant return of Pete Fay's third kick of the game. O'Brien took the ball deep in his own territory and carried it back 54 yards with excellent open blocking by his mates. He failed to get by Fay, who finally brought the Texas Christian star down along the sidelines. The line-ups for this part of the scrimmage follows:

BLUES.		REDS.
Brown	L. E.	Coughlan
Mihal, Hale	L. T.	Janke
Heikkinen	L. G.	Humphrey
Brock	C.	McDonald
Twedell	R. G.	Gross
Haak	R. T.	Van Ranst
Wyatt	R. E.	Petrick, Leno
Hofer	Q. B.	Ippolito
O'Brien	L. H.	Fay, Kischer
MacLeod	R. H.	Hall
Weiss	F. B.	Manders

Ends Show Defensive Skill.

Fay completed a 15 yard pass to Ippolito for the Green team, and the defensive work of Earl Brown and Paul Humphrey attracted attention. Daddio and Roland Young, ends for the second Blue eleven, soon proved that defensively, at least, this All-Star squad need not worry about the Giants' sweeping runs. Barrett Booth,

GIRL SHOWS HER PARENTS HOW TO PICK 8 WINNERS

Louise Goldsmith Wins $2,000 at Washington.

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Two master clockers emerged from the crowd which gathered yesterday at Washington Park. Both picked the first seven winners in the patrons' handicapping contest, and their choices ran one-two in the eighth.

Miss Louise H. Goldsmith, 5454 South Shore drive, was the winner of the $2,000 prize by virture of her perfect score. John D. Johnson, 4511 Washington boulevard, was the one who picked seven firsts and a second.

This was the second time in the course of the meeting that any one has fulfilled the terms of the week-day contest in picking at least the first seven winners. Last week A. W. Eaton won the prize by naming all eight. The week day prizes are cumulative, the stake being carried over when no one performs the feat, but every Saturday $5,000 is given to whoever makes the best showing.

Johnson and Miss Goldsmith picked Uprising, Malinda B., Flagabout, Transport, Yantis, Boy Baby, and Cisneros in the first seven races.

Russia Wins by 3 Lengths.

In the eighth race Miss Goldsmith named Russia and Johnson chose Stairs. This gallop of a mile and a furlong developed into a battle between these two, each jockey watching the other closely, each moving when the other moved.

While Winged Victory, Lee Torch, and Towson led the way around the turn and down the back stretch, Jockey Charles Durando held Stairs in fourth place while Willie Garner rated Russia in fifth.

As they neared the far turn they began going like a team. Around the curve Russia passed his rival but Stairs didn't let him get far away. Swinging into the stretch, Russia went to the outside and came straight on home, passing the leaders in midstretch and winning by three lengths. Meanwhile, Stairs closed fast to pass all the others.

She Picks Horses on Form.

Miss Goldsmith is a graduate of the Edgewood Park school in Briar Cliff, N. Y. She rejects hunch bets and picks her horses on form. She hadn't intended visiting the track yesterday but her parents, Sol and Erna Goldsmith, persuaded her to accompany them.

Mr. Goldsmith entered one set of selections with six winners and Mrs. Goldsmith entered three sets with seven winners on each. However, the mother did not hit seven consecutive winners in the first seven races and was eliminated.

Friends of Hagen

Horton Smith's Early Career Linked with Veteran.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

[This is the ninth of a series of sketches on the fifteen golf professionals who will join with Walter Hagen in the veteran's twenty-fifth anniversary tournament, to be played on Aug. 24, 25, 26, and 27 at the Midlothian Country club.]

Ten years ago last winter a tall, blond kid from Springfield, Mo., made his debut on the tournament circuit. He was a stranger at the outset of the campaign, but not after it finished, for he won fifteen tournaments, collecting a total of $15,000 for the 1929 season.

Horton Smith.

More important, however, was the impression this lad, named Horton Smith left as a person. It was agreed that for his mere 20 years the boy had the mind of a man of forty, so keen was his grasp of everything connected with golf. These last ten years have more than borne out the prediction that Smith was destined to be the No. 1 mind of the game, for few in the history of golf have made such a thorough application of fundamental intelligence to all of its problems.

Smith himself is the first to attribute much of his practical knowledge of the game to Hagen, with whom he made a length exhibition tour shortly after his sensational rise and with whom he was associated in business for three years thereafter.

Galleries in the Hagen tournament will see two of the finest putters of modern play in Smith and his partner, Paul Runyan, even though each uses a different method. Horton strokes the ball toward the hole with a sweeping motion, while Paul is inclined to punch it, his putting carrying less of an arc. Of the teams of the tournament which have competed together in foursome play, Smith and Runyan must be ranked as favorites, if only on the strength of their work in the international matches in Miami, Fla.

Smith is the only man in the six year history of the masters' tournament, one of the most coveted prizes among the big leaguers, to have won it twice, scoring in 1934 and 1936. By that triumph in 1934 Horton became the first man to beat Bobby Jones after the latter's emergence from a four year retirement, just as he was the last to outdo Bobby before Jones' grand slam of 1930, finishing ahead of Bob in the Savannah open.

Longshot Payoff for Form Picker

Miss Louise Goldsmith of 5454 South Shore drive never picks the long shots, but selecting favorites yesterday returned her this $2,000 check from Walter L. Gregory, Washington Park president.

DADDIO, BEINOR SCORE IN STARS' PRACTICE GAME

Both Touchdowns Come on Blocked Punts.

BLUES.		REDS.
Daddio	L.E.	Wysocki
Hale	L.T.	Schoenbaum
Hovland	L.G.	McGoldrick
Aldrich	C.	Dowd, Calvelli
Bock	R.G.	Tyrrell
Voigts	R.T.	Seigel
Young	R.E.	Wemple
Booth	Q.B.	Sherman
Patterson	L.H.	Bottari
Smilanich	R.H.	Panish
Osmanski	F.B.	Paulman

Paulman smashed through the line on one play for 25 yards and later Smilanich swept defensive right end on a reverse for 38 yards. Bill Osmanski's line plunging also marked him for a spot nearer the front for the New York game. Patterson kicked for his eleven and he also passed and ran, once skirting left end for 30 yards.

Blocking Is Weak.

Ineffectual blocking was the principal criticism, excusable to a degree because this was the first scrimmage. The third Blue team was:

Daddio, left end; Beinor, left tackle; Bell, left guard; Longhi, center; Kochel, right guard; Wolff, right tackle; Castelo, right end; Seidel, quarter back; Luckman, left half; Jefferson, right half; Tonelli, fullback. Substitutions were made so that all players had a part in the scrimmage.

In addition to Goldberg, others who could not take part were Faust, injured knee; Kabealo, cut arm; Jacunski, injured leg. No one was seriously injured yesterday, although Castelo was replaced because of an ankle injury and Mihal complained of sore feet. He was taken out after five minutes. I. B. Hale replaced him.

Australians Extended in Doubles Play

Brookline, Mass., Aug. 15 (AP).—Adrian Quist and Jack Bromwich, members of the Australian Davis Cup tennis team, reached the third round of the national doubles tournament today, but were extended to defeat unseeded Jack Kramer and Welby Van Horn, Los Angeles youngsters, 6-1, 4-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Frankie Parker of Los Angeles and Don McNeill of Oklahoma City, first ranked, meantime defeated Dave Freeman and Ted Schroeder of California, 6-1, 6-3, 9-7. Second seeded Bobby Riggs of Chicago and Elwood Cooke of Portland, Ore., Wimbledon champions, beat Norman Bickel and John Shostrom of Chicago, 6-2, 6-4, 8-6.

Gene Mako, the Davis Cup doubles veteran, now reunited with Jack Tidball, also of Los Angeles, overcame Morey Lewis, Kenyon collegian, and Al Stitt of Boston, 6-4, 6-3, 6-3.

Murphy Twins Lose.

Charles Hare of England and Ladislaw Hecht, formerly of Czecho-Slovakia, eliminated the Murphy twins of Chicago, Chester and Bill, 7-9, 6-4, 6-4, 6-3.

Two foreign pairs were eliminated as Robert Peacock and Douglas Imhoff, collegiate champions, defeated Bernard Destremeau and Jacques Brugnon of France, 6-4, 6-2, 6-3, and as Russell Babbitt of Atlanta and Frank Guernsey of Orlando, Fla., beat Felicisimo Ampon and Amada Sanchez of the Philippines, 8-6, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3. Peacock and Imhoff, both of San Francisco, won in the second round from Gardnar Mulloy of Coral Gables, Fla., and Charles Mattman of New York, 5-7, 6-3, 6-2, 6-3.

Crawford, Hopman Win.

Jack Crawford and Harry Hopman of Australia advanced to the quarter-finals by winning from Bob Kamrath of Austin, Tex., and Darrell Hudlow of Phoenix, Ariz., 6-4, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

In the women's section of the tournament all of the six teams to reach the third round were seeded.

Among the day's victors were Alice Marble of Beverly Hills, Cal., and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan of Brookline, the defending champions.

GIANTS DIVIDED FOR SCRIMMAGE; TEAMS SELECTED

Pro Football Champions Face Heavy Work.

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Superior, Wis., Aug. 15.—The squad of forty-five New York Giants in training here for the sixth annual Chicago All-Star game on Aug. 30 was split into two groups by Coach Steve Owen today as plans were made for another scrimmage on Thursday and possibly one Sunday.

By dividing the squad and permitting each to work up several plays of its own, Coach Owen hopes to increase the value of the scrimmages. It often is difficult, Owen said, to get a full measure of benefit from scrimmage when both sides use the same plays and the defense is able to "play" signals."

The two scrimmages this week will be followed by at least one, and in all probability two more, the following week, giving the Giants five sessions of this type of work. The first one was held yesterday. This is more rough work than the professionals have undergone in previous years. The Washington Redskins held only three scrimmages before going into last year's game, in which they were beaten 28 to 16 by the All-Stars.

Takes Risk of Injury.

Owen believes in scrimmage as the only means of perfecting blocking and tackling, the two requisites necessary to successful football. With 45 men in camp, more than any other professional team has placed in training for the All-Star game, it is possible for the Giants to take the risk of injuries which prevented the Detroit Lions, Green Bay Packers and Redskins from engaging in as much scrimmage as their coaches liked. Green Bay had only 28 men when it prepared for the 1937 game.

The Red squad will be composed of Jim Lee Howell, Jim Poole, Ed Widseth, Ox Parry, John Dell Isola, Orville Tuttle, Mel Hein, Ward Cuff, Leland Shaffer, Ed Danowski, Hank Soar, the Giants' regular starting lineup, and the following reserves: John Karcis, M. Miller, Wendell Goldsmith, Tom Roberts, Sam Aills, George Ax, Don Yurcic, Ken Lunday, Max Harrison, Turney Vinson, Alton Owen, and Carl Littlefield.

Dell Isola Favors Injury.

Only two casualties have resulted in the strenuous training Owen has prescribed since the squad reported at the Superior State Teachers' college last Friday. Dell Isola suffered a shoulder dislocation in the first contact work on Saturday, but has not missed a workout.

Falaschi, who was elected to the 1936 All-Star squad, but was unable to report because of an operation, suffered a split finger catching a pass in this morning's drill. It was a recurrence of an injury which kept him on the bench at two different times last season. He reported for practice in the afternoon and does not expect to miss any of the scrimmage.

Roberts, the former De Paul guard who gave an impressive performance in yesterday's scrimmage, was switched to left tackle this morning. Roberts played tackle and guard at De Paul, but was signed by the Giants for the latter position.

There is a wealth of guard material in camp, however, and Owen is anxious to try Roberts at the other position.

Today's drills were confined to another long morning workout on passes, place kicking, punting, falling on the ball, and signals. In the afternoon, the Giants went back into pads and blocked and tackled and engaged in a long dummy scrimmage.

NIGGELING WINS 1ST START; REDS DEFEAT PIRATES

New Cincinnati Hurler Is Victor, 6 to 5.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 15 (AP).—Veteran Johnny Niggeling went the route in his first start for the Cincinnati Reds today and turned in a 6 to 5 victory to give the pace-setters a sweep of the two-game series with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Brought up from Indianapolis for relief rôles, he was assigned today after six hurlers were used to win last night's contest 9 to 8 when the Reds rallied for four runs in the ninth. Niggeling allowed the Pirates eight hits and fanned six with his knuckle ball.

Five singles and two sacrifices in the fifth gave the Reds command of the game and routed Joe Bowman and Bill Swift.

PHILLIES, 4; BEES, 3.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 15 (AP).—Beaten ten times during their last road trip by a one run margin, the Boston Bees returned home today only to be nipped by the Phillies, 4 to 3.

It was the Bees' twenty-ninth loss by that one run margin this season, and came despite six hit pitching by Lou Fette. Until the eighth inning, Fette had given up only two hits, but the Phillies pushed over three runs in that frame to come from behind and win. Score:

Red Sox Held to Four Hits; A's Win, 3 to 0

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 15 (AP).—Lynn Nelson set the Boston Red Sox down with four hits tonight to give the Athletics a 3 to 0 shutout in the season's finale for the Macks under the flood lights of Shibe Park.

Four singles, two of them in the ninth, were all the Red Sox could get from Nelson. Bobby Doerr and Ted Williams each got two.

Willie Turnesa Tours Calumet in 1 Under Par

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Willie Turnesa, the young Italian who will defend his national amateur golf championship at North Shore on Sept. 11, worked out yesterday during the Central Motor Freight association's first annual tournament at Calumet and indicated that he's ready for the job.

Playing in a foursome match which was the main feature of the tournament, Turnesa fired a 71, one under par. He nicked that stroke at the 459 yard eighteenth with a birdie 4 to give himself and his partner, Harvey C. Fruehauf of Detroit, a 2 up victory over Chick Evans of Edgewater and Walter F. Mullady, president of the C. M. F. A.

Wehrle Shoots Par 72.

Evans, former national open and amateur champion, shot a 39—35—74, while Fruehauf and Mullady had 42—41—83 and 43—46—89, respectively. Turnesa and Fruehauf were one up at the turn.

Wilford Wehrle of Racine, who will be one of Turnesa's leading rivals when the amateur begins at North Shore, also played. The new district amateur champion, who finished Saturday's final 36 hole at Butterfield with rounds of 70 and 65, settled for a pair of 36's and a par 72. His putter played him false a number of times during the round.

Huffine's 78 Leads Guests.

A field of 100 members of the Central Motor Freight association turned out for the tournament proper. Ken Huffine of Waukegan led the guests with a 40—39—79, while John Viking, also of Waukegan had a 42—41—83, best among the members.

Cards Defeat Dean and Cubs in Tenth, 7 to 6

on which Gutteridge erred, G. Russell scoring from second.

The Cubs ninth opened with Herman popping to Mize. Galan scratched a hit through Gutteridge and went to second when a terrific drive by Leiber was knocked down by Shoun. The wallop knocked the glove off Shoun's hand but he recovered the ball in time to make the throw to first. Then Hartnett batted for Nicholson and bounced a single past S. Martin, Galan scoring to tie it up. G. Russell's fly to Moore closed the inning.

The Cubs thought they had the decision in their hands in the tenth with Mattick on third as the result of an error, Mancuso on first after a single and none out. Bowman relieved Shoun and the next three men, Pinch Batter Bartell among them, grounded to infielders. Then by way of showing versatility, Bowman drove in the winning run a few minutes later.

Buy Dallesandro.

After the game the Cubs announced the purchase of Outfielder Dominic Dallesandro from the San Diego club of the Pacific Coast league. Dallesandro, in the latest release of Pacific Coast league averages, was leading the league in hitting with a mark of .378. The outfielder is 25 years old, and is described as "a little Hack Wilson." He is 5 feet 6 inches tall, and weighs 169 pounds. He bats and throws left handed.

Dallesandro was purchased for an unrevealed amount of cash and two players to be named later. He will report to the Cubs at the start of spring training.

TWIN CITIES POLO TEAM WINS, 11-10, TO TAKE TROPHY

The Twin Cities polo team of Minneapolis and St. Paul came from behind twice to defeat the Huisaches, 11 to 10, and capture the Byfield memorial tournament trophy yesterday at the Oak Brook Polo club. The Huisaches used a combination of three of their own players from Houston, Tex., and two from Oak Brook. The winning goal was shot by 17 year old Johnny Daniels of Twin Cities.

Cubs to Invade Cincinnati Today; Passeau to Pitch

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 15.—The Cubs moved over to Cincinnati tonight and tomorrow afternoon will take on the first place Reds in a two game series. Claude Passeau will pitch the opener against the pace setters.

The suit filed yesterday against Dizzy Dean by William O. Dewitt, vice president of the Browns for recovery of $6,929.50 alleged due for services as a business agent has been called off. Dewitt relinquished all claim against the Cub pitcher today when the latter settled for $1,125.

After settlement of this suit Dean was named defendant in another filed by Harold I. Silverman, a dress shop proprietor. Silverman in his petition said he was parking last June 29 in a driveway in front of a hotel and helping his aunt alight when Dean, in the car behind, grew impatient, got out of his car, and twisted Silverman's arm. Silverman asked $1,000 actual damages and $5,000 punitive damages.

Clay Bryant has been withdrawn as candidate for the pitching job against the Reds in the Thursday night game. The big fellow's arm is giving him trouble again. The assignment has been turned over to Vance Page.

Larry French, who was stepped on at first base while he was shutting out the Cardinals yesterday, suffered so much pain in the right foot during the night that he had the member X-rayed this morning. No damage beyond a bruised bone was revealed.

Opening of Duck Hunting Season Changed to Oct. 22

BY BOB BECKER.

The Illinois duck and goose hunting season will open Oct. 22 and close Dec. 5, according to regulations made public by the United States biological survey in Washington, D. C., yesterday. This is one of the two major changes in the laws for 1939. The other reduces the bag limit of geese from five to four per day and the possession limit from ten to eight.

Last year the season opened Oct. 15 and closed Nov. 30.

The best news for northern Illinois hunters concerns the coot or mudhen season. This year the coot hunters of northern Illinois have a special season. It will be legal to start hunting coots on Oct. 1 in Rock Island, Whiteside, Lee, De Kalb, Kane, Du Page, and Cook counties and all counties north of these.

The Illinois Sportsman's association, of which George Brandenburg is president, has been working for months to get this special season to start earlier than the regular duck season. This year, for the first time, the request has been granted so that the boys will be able to bombard the mudhens before the regular duck season opens on Oct. 22.

The daily bag and possession limits of ducks are just the same as they were last season. A hunter may take ten ducks per day and have twenty in his possession. The only exceptions to this general rule are canvasbacks, redheads, buffleheads, and ruddy ducks. If a hunter takes any of these species on the restricted list he may not have more than three in the aggregate in a day's bag limit, and no more than three of any one species.

The opening date of the duck and goose seasons in the northern and southern zones are the same as last year. The seasons for the country are as follows:

Oct. 1 to Nov. 14—Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota, Wisconsin and other states in the northern zone will do their duck hunting between these dates.

Oct. 22 to Dec. 5—This season prevails for Illinois and other states in the intermediate zone, which includes Iowa, Missouri, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, and South Dakota.

Nov. 15 to Dec. 29—This is the season for all states in the southern zone including Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, and Louisiana.

DEMPSEY SEES AMBERS DRILL FOR ARMSTRONG

Carmel, N. Y., Aug. 15 [Special].—Jack Dempsey, making his first public appearance since his recent operation for appendicitis, was the center of attraction at Lou Ambers' training camp today.

Ambers, training for his lightweight title match with Henry Armstrong in Yankee stadium next Tuesday night, turned on full steam for his famous visitor. Lou worked two rounds with John Henry Thomas, Pittsburgh welterweight, and three rounds with Jimmy Vaughn of Cleveland.

MISSOURIAN'S 148 SETS PACE IN PRINTERS' GOLF

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 15 (AP)—Russell Allen of Kansas City, Mo., making his first appearance in the Union Printcraft International golf tournament, today scored a 36—36—72 to give him a 148 total and the lead in the second round of medal play.

Joe Balestri of Washington, D. C., moved into a 36 hole tie with Eddie Rack of McKeesport, Pa., the first round pace maker and Defending champion with 150 each. Rack scored a 79 to combine with yesterday's 71. Balestri carded 74. W. D. Jacobs of Chicago had 156 for 36 holes.

BEARS GET BUSY; TORRANCE FALLS OFF TO MERE 304

Delafield, Wis., Aug. 15 [Special].—The Chicago Bears opened their fourteen day training grind today at St. John's Military academy with morning and afternoon sessions of two and a half hours each—the daily program with the exception of Sunday.

A lot of excess weight evaporated into the torrid air — seventy-two pounds to be exact—and the chief individual loser was Jack Torrance, who shrunk eight pounds to a mere 304. When Coach George Halas signed him it was with the understanding that Jack work off thirty-two pounds.

Halas is certain that if Torrance can do this he will be a much more valuable man as his speed will increase. When the former Louisiana State athlete was pitching the 16 pound shot 57 feet 1 inch at the Berlin Olympics he could run 100 yards in :10.4.

Torrance and the veteran George Musso, 270 pounds, give the Bears the distinction of owning the giants of the National league.

Of the new half backs Bob Snyder, Ohio university, and Ted Key, Southern California, were impressive.

COLUMBIA OPENS ANGLO-AMERICAN 3 DAY CONGRESS

Is Called Education for Democracy.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 15.—On a stage decorated with American and English flags, the Congress on Education for Democracy opened here today at teachers' college, Columbia university. American and British educators in their initial speeches struck the familiar "Hands Across the Sea" refrain.

President Nicholas Murray Butler of the university launched the congress with words of greeting for the 3,000 persons in attendance, a crowd consisting largely of school teachers who stayed over after their summer school course. The principal attraction is Lord Stanley Baldwin, former prime minister of Great Britain, who will speak tomorrow night.

Source of Funds Withheld.

It was estimated the elaborate three day program would cost in the neighborhood of $100,000, and there was no official explanation of where the money was coming from to foot the bill. Funds were obtained, it was learned, from private sources in New York City which are friendly toward Great Britain and her struggle against the totalitarian states. Teachers' college is in financial straits and could not meet the costs.

President Roosevelt's blessing was placed on the conference in a letter to Dean William F. Russell of Teachers' college, chairman of the conference.

"Every one knows," wrote the President, "that democracy cannot long stand unless its foundation is kept constantly reinforced through the processes of education. What is not so universally understood is that colleges and universities have a responsibility to imbue prospective teachers with a clear appreciation of the part they must play in this process."

Plead Anglo-American Ties.

Pleas for strengthening Anglo-American ties were sounded by a group of six distinguished Britons at the general sessions today, one of whom virtually consigned the United States to a British Empire dominion status along with Canada, Australia, New Zealand, and South Africa. This speaker was Fred Clarke, director of the institute of education at the University of London.

"I stress this historic affinity because of its importance for our present purpose," said Clarke. "In spite of the political facts, similarity of origin and historical development, as well as a common separateness from Europe, must necessarily bring it to pass that the four dominions and the United States are more intelligible to one another than is any of them to Great Britain."

Ernest Bevin, general secretary of the Transport and General Workers' union of London, asserted the democracies of the world must hang together in peace as well as at a time like this when the whole world had been driven to adopt a war economy.

These ideas were echoed by a Chicagoan, Congressman T. V. Smith, the University of Chicago philosophy teacher, who urged his hearers to hate the three dictators of Germany, Italy, and Russia. He called them "three incorporeal entities to hate, to hate with all your might and thus purge your soul of aggressions."

FAMILY WITH 9 CHILDREN LOSES HOME TO HOLC

Bruno Muscari, his wife, Rose, and nine of their eleven children spent last night in the home of a brother, wondering where they are going to live. Yesterday the family was evicted from its one story frame house at the rear of 2157 North McVickers avenue.

Muscari, a paint sprayer, had lived in the house for nearly fifteen years. Four years ago he borrowed $3,500 from the Home Owners Loan corporation. For two years he met the monthly payments of $21.75. Then he lost his job and defaulted. The HOLC notified him eighteen months ago that foreclosure would be started unless he could pay, Muscari said. Yesterday the court order was enforced. Their furniture was moved to the parkway.

Muscari said he and his family have been on relief for two years, drawing $28 a month. One daughter is married. A son sends $20 a month home from his CCC job. Yesterday the Muscari baby, David, was 10 months old.

KIDNAP MARRIAGE GROOM ACTS TO GET BRIDE BACK

Thomas Covelli, 32 years old, who was accused last week in an annulment suit filed by his 17 year old bride, Mrs. Nancy Pappas Covelli, of kidnaping her and forcing her into an Indiana marriage, yesterday took legal steps to get her back. Covelli, who lives at 3531 Lexington street, charged that Nancy's parents, George and Mary Pappas of 3339 Lexington street, took Nancy from him while the newlyweds were honeymooning in Michigan.

Attorney Michael F. Zladnik, for Covelli, obtained a writ of habeas corpus from Judge Robert C. O'Connell directing Nancy's parents to bring the girl to court tomorrow for a hearing on the charges. In her suit Mrs. Covelli said they were married in Valparaiso July 19. She said Covelli, whom she had known only casually, forced her to go through with the ceremony and then accompany him to White Pigeon, Mich., for a ten day honeymoon.

OHIO STATE BARS CAMPUS MARXIST CLUB IN RED QUIZ

Held Un-American by Investigators.

Columbus, O., Aug. 15 [Special].—The board of trustees of Ohio State university today barred the Marxist club from the campus. The club was accused of un-American and subversive activities.

A legislative investigation of un-American activities at the university was demanded earlier in the year after Gov. John W. Bricker and his Republican administration took office. Legislators turned the investigation demand over to school trustees and a committee was named to make the inquiry.

In barring the Marxist club the board of trustees, headed by Harry A. Caton of Coshocton, secretary of the National Grange, approved a 9,000 word report of the investigating committee.

Study Communist Theories.

Investigators found that the Marxist club made a study of the communist theories of Karl Marx. Agreeing that election laws of Ohio recognize the right of persons to be candidates on the communist ticket, the board of trustees said it did not believe a publicly supported school has any right to give aid and assistance in the form of recognition and quarters to organizations such as the Marxist club.

The investigating committee told the board of trustees that many professors, in their classrooms, had discussed political philosophies at variance with the philosophy of the government of the United States, but that there was no evidence that mention of foreign philosophies had gone beyond the discussion stage.

Activities Held in Bad Taste.

The board today, in an accompanying statement, told members of the faculty that more temperate action would be conducive to better relations for the school and ordered the closest supervision over activities of all campus organizations.

Certain members of the faculty, the board said, have been guilty of actions which are in bad taste rather than subversive in nature.

The board statement directed the faculty's attention to its fixed policy that professors differentiate clearly between education and propaganda. Faculty advisers to campus clubs were instructed to attend all meetings and to report regularly to the president of the university and the council on student affairs.

MYSTERY BARBER CLIPS TRESSES OF SLEEPING BEAUTY

All summer, Margaret Bellino, 16 years old, a sophomore at Kelly High school, has refused to have her hair cut. She has spurned the fashionable short bobs and prided herself on her long black tresses brushing her shoulders.

Yesterday she reported to Chicago Lawn police, indignantly, she discovered she is the victim of a baby haircut. Her four inch curls were shorn Monday night while she lay sleeping in her bedroom with her two sisters, Virginia, 19, and Mary 13, at 5808 South New England avenue. When she awoke there were her curls on the pillow, and her remaining hair was clipped in a clumsy zigzag.

There was no trace of the mystery barber. The girls remembered hearing a noise outside their room after they retired, but pulled down the shades and forget about it. Two nails has been pulled loose from one of the window screens yesterday, but there were no other clews.

Tear Gas for Burglars Routs Bank's Customers

The accidental discharge of tear gas from the bandit protection system of the Metropolitan Loan bank, 426 South Halsted street, routed the manager, a clerk, and two customers yesterday. Passengers on the Halsted street elevated platform near by were also annoyed when the fumes spread in every direction. The only one not discomfited was Pal, a police dog, who was led tearless from the bank by Leonard Rappin, the manager.

ROBS SHOP OF $95.

A bandit last night robbed the Shaw Lingerie shop at 6418 South Halsted street of $95 after forcing two women employés to open the cash register.

Prize Winners

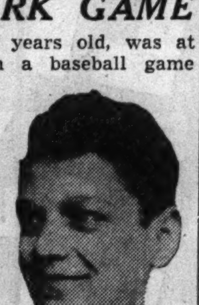
County fairs are the same old thing, year after year: Harness races, merry-go-'rounds, hamburgers, and exhibits. When you've seen one you've seen them all.

Ten thousand persons who might have told you that before they went visited the Lake county fair at Crown Point yesterday and said the garden clubs had certainly done wonders with their exhibits of period gardens of the last 100 years. All 10,000 of them had a good time, wished President Earl Bailey success for the rest of the week, and went away saying that county fairs, if the same old thing, are lots of fun—particularly Lake county's 79th annual one.

YOUTH, 16, KILLED BY PITCHED BALL IN PARK GAME

John Noga, 16 years old, was at bat yesterday in a baseball game between neighborhood teams at Eckart park, Chicago avenue and Noble street. Chester Serzen, 16, a friend, was pitching.



John Noga.

Serzen wound up and delivered the ball. It was high and inside. Noga ducked, but the ball struck him behind the left ear. He fell to the ground unconscious.

An hour later he died in County hospital. His home was at 1347 Huron street. Serzen lives at 1430 Huron street. Serzen was questioned by Lieut. Edward Bermingham of the Racine avenue police, who said he was blameless.

30,000 FREE X-RAY TESTS PLANNED IN T. B. CAMPAIGN

Thirty thousand patients of the Provident hospital clinic will be given free X-ray examinations during the next year in a survey to ascertain the extent of unsuspected tuberculosis, it was announced yesterday. The examinations will be made possible by a $3,000 grant from the Julius Rosenwald fund to the University of Chicago, which will conduct the survey. Research workers at the university said that at least 1½ per cent of the supposedly healthy population of this country has tuberculosis of the lungs without being aware of the condition.

$7,400,000 GIFTS BY HORLICK FREE OF ESTATE TAXES

Malted Milk Magnate Called Young at 85.

Racine, Wis., Aug. 15 (AP).—County Judge J. Allan Simpson ruled today that $7,400,000 in gifts made by the late William Horlick Sr., founder of the malted milk fortune, to his wife and children in 1931 and 1932 were not subject to state inheritance taxes.

The state tax commission sought additional inheritance taxes on these gifts on the contention they were made in anticipation of death and with a view to escaping inheritance taxes.

Gifts Long Contemplated.

Judge Simpson, recalling that Horlick resumed a more active control of the malted milk firm in 1931 at the age of 85, declared the gifts were made by a man who was not in a testamentary frame of mind but who was looking forward with almost youthful eagerness to rehabilitation of his business.

Judge Simpson, who heard the case in July, found that the elder Horlick long had contemplated these gifts, as he had previous gifts in 1917 and 1918 when he gave each of the children more than $1,000,000.

"When other men of his age had long retired," the judge wrote, "he took over a large business and commenced a program of expenditures to rehabilitate the business. The gifts were an act of youth and not of age."

Taxes Take Over Half.

Horlick died in 1936 at the age of 90. His estate then was valued at $17,000,000, of which state and federal taxes took $9,000,000.

The gifts in question were made to his wife Arabella, who died last year; to his daughter, the late Mrs. Mabelle Horlick Sidley, and to his two sons, William Jr., and Alexander J., all of Racine.

$45,000 LEGACY FAILS TO MAKE FRED KEEP DATE

Fred Sharpe still isn't in any hurry to press his claim to the $45,000 left him by an uncle.

Fred, who is about 50 years old, was expected to appear yesterday morning at the Central police station. By prearrangement Detectives John Finn and John Fleming were waiting to give him the details about his legacy. Most folks would have wanted to know all about their inheritance, but Sharpe didn't even show up. Last night a police detail was searching Grant park and the south loop rooming house district for him.

The $45,000 represents half of the estate of George S. M. Hooff of Point Pleasant, W. Va., who died last June 1.

Thomas G. Walpole, an attorney at 77 West Washington street, who represents the Hooff estate in Chicago, isn't worried about Sharpe, however.

"I've been in contact with him," Walpole said, "and I'm sure that when the estate is probated next year, Sharpe will be there to get his money."

ARREST WOMAN BEGGAR; FIND $196 FUNERAL HOARD

At the Central station the woman identified herself as Mrs. Nettie Rosenberg, 85 years old, of Roosevelt road. Policewoman Mary Sullivan of the women's quarters verified Orlowski's hunch. She said Nettie had been in several times before for begging.

"How's business, Nettie?" She asked.

DIES IN FRANKLIN GROVE AT 78.

LOSS OF WATCH SERVICE REVENUE HITS CITY INCOME

Refusal of Franchise Costs $65,000 Yearly.

When the city fathers took sides last year in a dispute between a trade union and a private business they threw away approximately $65,000 in annual income to the city corporate fund, it was learned yesterday.

That was the amount that the Illinois District Telegraph company was required to pay the city under terms of a franchise which expired in April, 1937. The city council, at the behest of the International Brotherhood of Electricians, refused to renew the franchise. Union officials complained to the aldermen that the telegraph company's staff of seventy-five maintenance men were not union electricians.

But the telegraph company has continued to operate. It has been in business here since 1901, supplying private burglar and fire alarm protection to stores, factories, and dwellings.

Uses Leased Wires.

Yesterday its officials asserted that council action in refusing a franchise had no effect upon the business.

The company merely abandoned a cable under La Salle street. Now it uses wires leased from the Bell Telephone company and the Western Union Telegraph company. Thus the District Telegraph company can continue in business indefinitly without paying compensation to the city.

Its dealings with the other companies are private matters over which the city has no control. A franchise or operating permit from the city council is necessary only when utilities use public property. The Bell Telephone company and the Western Union Telegraph company hold their own franchises, under which they are required to pay compensation to the city. Asking further payment from the District Telegraph company for the same wires, it was explained, would constitute an illegal double tax.

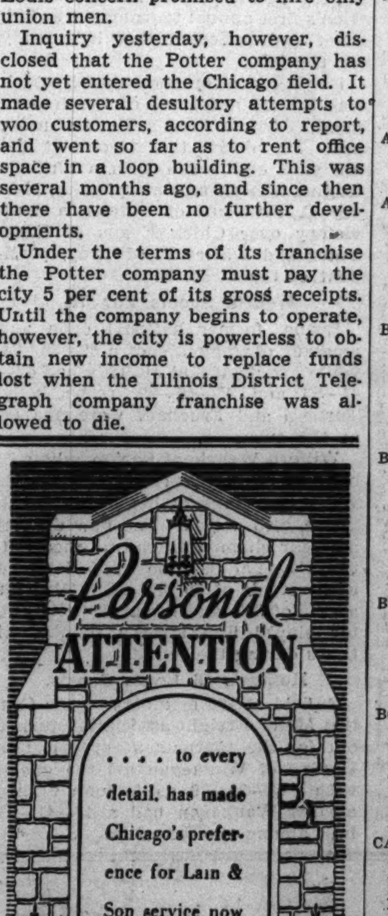
At the time the franchise renewal was refused, the council voted to confer an operating permit for private watching service on the Potter Electric Company of St. Louis.

Plan Approved by Union.

This was agreeable to the electricians' brotherhood, because the St. Louis concern promised to hire only union men.

Inquiry yesterday, however, disclosed that the Potter company has not yet entered the Chicago field. It made several desultory attempts to woo customers, according to report, and went so far as to rent office space in a loop building. This was several months ago, and since then there have been no further developments.

Under the terms of its franchise the Potter company must pay the city 5 per cent of its gross receipts. Until the company begins to operate, however, the city is powerless to obtain new income to replace funds lost when the Illinois District Telegraph company franchise was allowed to die.



MRS. M'CORMICK FUNERAL SERVICE THIS AFTERNOON

Funeral services for Mrs. Amy Irwin McCormick, the wife of Col. Robert R. McCormick, publisher of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, will be held at 2 p. m. today at Cantigny farm, the McCormick home near Wheaton. 2 MORE STATES TO SHUT WELLS IN OIL WRANGLE

Oklahoma and New Mexico Back Texas.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Aug. 15 (AP).—Governors of Oklahoma and New Mexico today followed Texas' lead in closing down state oil wells for fifteen days in an effort to bolster falling crude prices.

Kansas oil regulation officials indicated that state would take similar action and others were expected to join the move. The developments came as the interstate oil compact commission held its first emergency session to consider possible moves by state governments to head off a crisis in the oil producing industry. Texas shut its wells at 7 a. m. today.

Gov. Leon C. Phillips issued an order tonight closing the Oklahoma wells, effective at 7 a. m. tomorrow. At Santa Fe, Gov. John E. Miles of New Mexico said he would issue a proclamation closing the 2,200 wells in that state. The only exceptions, he said, would be wells which cannot be shut off without danger of losing them.

Each State to Act Alone.

The compact commission ended its unprecedented session with an announcement that each state would solve its own problem of meeting crude oil price cuts. Shortly before the meeting ended, the Independent Petroleum Association of America

Citing the increasing production in Illinois, the association urged that Gov. Horner "be requested to call a special session of the legislature to pass a conservation statute to the end that the wasteful and destructive production of oil in Illinois be discontinued."

The question of shutting oil wells in various states arose after the Sinclair Prairie Oil Marketing company and other buyers of crude oil cut prices 20 cents a barrel last week.

Expect Kansas to Act.

The indication that Kansas will act came from Andrew F. Schoeppel, chairman of the state corporation commission.

"After conferring with authorities in my state," he said, "I will announce that in all probability, at an early hour tomorrow, the Kansas corporation commission will issue a complete shutdown order for not to exceed 15 days."

The positions of Michigan, Illinois, and Louisiana, which are members of the interstate compact, were not clearly defined.

P. G. Hoffmaster, Michigan director of conservation, was noncommittal on a shutdown in his state, but said conservation authorities would meet promptly and take whatever action they believed necessary.

Terms Illinois "Sympathetic."

Guy E. McGaughey, representing the governor of Illinois, declared he was "deeply sympathetic with your problems" and that they would be given "keen understanding and study."

Earlier, G. H. Blankenship, vice president of the Independent Oil Producers of Illinois, asserted that unless shutdowns were ordered by more states "we may look for a period of chaotic marketing and price conditions."

Gov. Earl Long of Louisiana telegraphed "You can count on us to cooperate in every reasonable way" and added the state was ready to take a "reasonable cut" in production and "do what we can."

25,000 Texas Homes Lack Gas.

Meanwhile, an estimated 25,000 east Texas homes were without gas for cooking and most of the state's 87,000 oil wells were choked off as the railroad commission's fifteen day shutdown went into effect.

Nearly all homes in oil producing areas throughout the state, except in cities, use residue gas from wells for fuel. When the shutdown order became effective, their supply automatically stopped.

All through the Texas oil fields, casinghead gasoline plants were closed down, and most planned to utilize the fifteen day period for overhauling and repairing. Many companies ordered men who have not yet taken vacations to begin them immediately. No estimates were available as to how many, if any, oil field workers had been thrown out of work. Railroad commission members have said the shutdown would cause little unemployment. They said closed wells need nearly as much care as active ones. There was some scattered defiance of the closing order.

Austin, Tex., Aug. 15 (AP).—Jerry Sadler, member of the Texas railroad commission, charged today the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey is operating in Texas in violation of state anti-trust laws. He asked Attor-

Oil Flow Dips in Nation; Goes Up in Illinois

Crude oil production in the United States averaged 3,550,100 barrels a day in the week ended Aug. 12, the American Petroleum institute reported yesterday. This was a decline of 9.2 per cent from the preceding week's total but represented an advance of 5.7 per cent over the corresponding week last year. Output in Illinois, however, set a new high mark for the second straight week with a daily average of 296,000 barrels.

The rate of refinery operations in the week ended Aug. 12 was little changed. The report showed refineries were operating at 84.7 per cent of potential capacity compared with 84.6 per cent the preceding week.

Runs to Stills Increase.

Runs of crude oil to stills for the industry as a whole were estimated at 3,460,000 barrels a day. This compared with 3,445,000 barrels the week before and 3,269,000 barrels in the corresponding week last year.

The institute's report estimated output in Illinois at 296,000 barrels daily, an increase of 16,500 barrels over the Aug. 5 week. According to the institute's figures the principal declines by states were: Texas, 381,800 barrels; Louisiana, 24,550; Kansas, 5,150, and New Mexico, 4,950. Illinois' increase for the week was exceeded only by a gain of 27,800 barrels for Oklahoma. California showed the third largest increase, 13,100 barrels, as estimated by the institute.

Oil Journal Issues Figures.

The Oil and Gas Journal also issued an estimate on oil production for the Aug. 12 week. It placed the Illinois average daily output at 295,742 barrels. This was an increase of 12,022 barrels over the Journal's Illinois figure in the preceding week, whereas the petroleum institute placed the gain at 16,500 barrels.

The Journal's figure compared with a daily average output of 283,720 barrels in the week ended Aug. 5 and an average of 276,000 in the week ended July 29. At the same time the total of oil wells in Illinois reached a new peak of 3,675 with the addition of 63 during the latest week. This compared with 3,612 wells in operation during the week ended Aug. 5 and 3,544 in the week ended July 29.

Fewer wells were completed in the Salem pool last week than in the Louden field. In the latter field one well produced more than 1,100 barrels a day. Four completed wells in Clay county average 576 barrels initially.

AMERICAN BANKS OWED BY FAILED DUTCH COMPANY

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 15 (AP).—American dollar creditors of the suspended banking house of Mendelssohn & Co. include the New York Trust company, $8,000,000, the Manufacturers Trust company, $4,000,000, the Chemical Bank and Trust company, $2,000,000, and the Chase National bank, $1,000,000, it was disclosed today.

Bank Loans Secured.

New York, Aug. 15 (AP).—Loans which had been made by New York banks to Mendelssohn & Co. were in all cases fully secured by stock exchange collateral, it was said at the various banks today.

While the amounts in the list of creditors given out at Amsterdam were as of last Friday, when the bank suspended, it was understood they since had been reduced in many cases.

Although the New York Trust company appears as the largest creditor, the entire sum was not advanced by that bank alone. It headed a syndicate of seven banks, six of which are located in other cities.

The indebtedness to the New York Trust company, it was learned, had been reduced to $3,000,000 and that to the Manufacturers' Trust company to $660,000.

BIG CLAIM FILED AGAINST BENDIX IN BANKRUPTCY

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 15 (AP).—The largest bankruptcy claim ever filed in the northern Indiana federal district court is on file today against the estate of Vincent Bendix, bankrupt president of the Bendix Aviation corporation.

The claim, for more than $2,500,000, was filed before Alvin F. Marsh of Plymouth, Ind., referee in bankruptcy, by Glen A. Lloyd, attorney for the City National Bank and Trust company of Chicago, which won the judgment as trustee.

The judgment grew out of a real estate company bond issue personally guaranteed by Bendix about ten years ago. Thad M. Talcott Jr. of South Bend has been appointed trustee in bankruptcy.

AURORA RAILWAY SEEKS WRIT IN LABOR ACT CASE

Counsel for A. A. Sprague, receiver for the Chicago, Aurora and Elgin railroad, yesterday petitioned for an injunction to prevent enforcement of the railway retirement and taxing acts, on the grounds the road is an interurban and not a commercial line.

The petition, filed with Federal Judge William H. Holly, was referred to Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson for hearing on Sept. 25, when a similar petition which the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee railroad is expected to file will also be heard.

The interstate commerce commission has ruled both carriers are subject to the retirement and taxing acts.

London Draws More Silver as Price Goes Up

An increasing movement of silver from America to London was reported yesterday as prices in the London world market continued to rise. Meanwhile the United States treasury's price, which until recently had been above the world price and had drawn silver to this country, was unchanged from the preceding day.

The London quotation for silver rose to the equivalent of 36.47 cents an ounce, nearly 1½ cents higher than the treasury price. The London price on Monday was 36.20 cents an ounce.

Leading bullion dealers in New York posted an advance of ⅛ cent an ounce for foreign mined silver as the London price rose. This raised the quotation at New York to 35¾ cents, and also extended to ¾ cent the premium quoted over the United States treasury's price.

250,000 Ounces Shipped.

The day's movement of silver to London was estimated at 250,000 ounces. A shipment of 750,000 ounces was scheduled for today.

The commerce department announced that silver exports in July increased to $639,773, compared with $302,506 in June, and $193,268 in July, 1938. Imports of silver declined to $5,530,688 in July from $14,769,900 the preceding month. In July, 1938, silver imports totaled $18,326,354.

Gold imports to the United States increased in July to $278,644,761, compared with $240,449,975 in the preceding month and $63,879,655 in July, 1938. Gold exports dropped to $8,651 from $19,482 in June and $65,070 in July, 1938.

$14,500,000 Gold Arrives.

An estimated $14,500,000 of gold arrived yesterday at New York from England. Of this amount an estimated $13,900,000 made up an official consignment to the New York federal reserve bank. The bank announced $775,000 of gold was engaged in India for shipment to this country.

In foreign exchange transactions at New York, Dutch currency moved higher in terms of the dollar. It closed at 53.67 cents, up 0.02 cent. Other major European currencies held steady.

JUDGE ASKS SEC FOR REPORT ON REO MOTOR PLAN

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 15 [Special].—A plan of reorganization for the Reo Motor Car company under a trusteeship with drastically reduced capitalization was presented to Federal Judge Arthur F. Lederle today by Theodore I. Fry, trustee. Judge Lederle said the plan is "worthy of consideration" and asked the Securities and Exchange commission for a report on it.

Under the plan, the capital structure would be cut to about 2 million dollars, but holders of all of the outstanding 1,800,000 shares would participate. The company would then seek a loan of $1,500,000 or $2,000,000 from the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

Col. Fred Glover, general manager, charged "poor management" was the cause of the company's loss of about 17 million dollars in the last nine years.

WIEBOLDT STORE SALES INCREASE OVER YEAR AGO

Wieboldt Stores, Inc., yesterday reported net sales for the second quarter ended July 29 totaled $5,630,292, an increase of 8.6 per cent over the $5,185,908 reported in the second quarter of last year. Sales for the first six months of the current fiscal year were 4.8 per cent larger than sales in the like period of 1938.

Sales of Union Premier Food Stores, Inc., in the four weeks ended Aug. 12, were $1,726,135, an increase of 37 per cent over the $1,259,908 in the comparable 1938 period.

FHA Accepts 20 Millions for Mortgage Appraisals

The federal housing administration reported yesterday that home mortgage applications totaling $20,896,480 were accepted for appraisal in the week ended Aug. 12. This compared with $19,149,300 in the preceding week and $23,371,942 in the corresponding 1938 period.

DR. LATHROP TO HEAD SEARCH FOR WAYS TO UTILIZE FARM WASTE

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15 (AP).—Dr. Elbert C. Lathrop, an authority on the commercial production of cellulose products, will be in charge of the work on industrial utilization of agricultural wastes at the department of agriculture's new research laboratory in Peoria, Ill.

Dr. Elbert C. Lathrop.

Dr. Lathrop's appointment was announced today by Dr. Henry G. Knight, chief of the bureau of agricultural chemistry and engineering. His job will be to develop new and improved methods for the production of cellulose products from such materials as stalks, straw, hulls and cobs.

The full name of the new Peoria laboratory, one of several provided for by congress with a view to finding new uses for agricultural products, is the northern research laboratory of the bureau of agricultural chemistry and engineering.

FEDERAL AGENCY ALLOWS PRICES OF EGGS TO DIP

The Federal Surplus Commodities corporation, which has supported cash wholesale egg prices since mid-June, yesterday allowed the price of current receipts in the Chicago market to drop 1 cent a dozen to 13 cents as country marketings continued liberal.

"Poor quality" was the reason advanced by one official of the government agency for its indifferent attitude. However, the FSCC bought 45,000 dozens of fresh graded firsts here and 68,640 dozens in New York.

October futures on the Chicago Mercantile exchange established another 6 year August low at 16.80 cents a dozen in mid-session, but pushed up sharply toward the close and finished as much as 0.30 cent a dozen above Monday's final at 17.25 to 17.20 cents. Short covering and replacement of holdings comprised most of the buying.

November butter gained 0.10 to 0.15 cent a pound, closing at 23.95 to 24 cents. A firm cash market inspired buying. The Dairy Products Marketing association bought 273,231 pounds of cash butter.

SECRET BALLOT AT HARVESTER PLANTS SOUGHT

Ernest S. Ballard, attorney for the International Harvester company, yesterday filed with a national labor relations board examiner a motion demanding that the board conduct a secret ballot among the 17,000 plant employés. In another motion filed before Harold Whittemore, the examiner, Ballard requested dismissal of charges that the company dominated an independent union and discriminated against a union affiliated with the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

Whittemore denied the motions but adjourned the hearing until Monday to allow Ballard to appeal to the labor board at Washington to overrule the examiner.

PICK FLORENTINE AS MANAGER OF CONGRESS HOTEL

The appointment of Frank Florentine as manager of the Congress hotel was announced yesterday by Ralph Hitz, president of the National Hotel Management company. Florentine, who has been associated with the Congress for the last twenty-seven years, recently as executive assistant to the manager, will replace John Burke, who resigned a few days ago after forty years with the hotel.

The management company has operated the Congress for the last three years under a contract with the receiver of the hotel. Officials of the Reconstruction Finance corporation said this arrangement probably would be continued if the RFC is the successful bidder for the hotel property at an auction scheduled for Sept. 14 to satisfy an unpaid loan to the RFC.

Illinois Acres Yield Bumper Crop of Corn

Government crop experts predicted yesterday that Illinois corn will yield an average of 48 bushels to the acre this year, equaling the previous all-time high per acre of 1937. Total production, however, will be below the 1937 figure due to a reduction in the probable acreage for harvest.

A. J. Surratt reports Illinois corn excellent.

Government programs for curtailment of planting, and low corn prices which have discouraged large planting were responsible for the acreage cut.

On the estimated 8,093,000 acres planted to corn in Illinois, the 48 bushel yield would produce a harvest of 388,464,000 bushels.

The yield prediction, made by the federal and state departments of agriculture, boosted the probable production 25,000,000 bushels over previous government estimates.

A. J. Surratt, agricultural statistician of the Illinois department, said in his report that the Aug. 1 condition of Illinois corn was "the highest in 34 years." The increased yield was due in part to favorable weather in July. Another factor was the more widespread use of the high yielding hybrid corn. It has been estimated that as much as 81 per cent of this year's acreage was planted to hybrid seed.

Acreage and Yields Shown.

Year.	Acreage.	Production in bushels.
1939	*8,093,000	*388,464,000
1938	8,430,000	379,350,000
1937	9,451,000	444,197,000
1936	9,266,000	217,751,000
1935	8,273,000	318,510,000
1934	7,805,000	167,808,000
1933	8,835,000	238,545,000
1932	9,817,000	422,131,000
1931	9,817,000	363,229,000
1930	9,175,000	243,138,000
1929	8,575,000	304,412,000
1928	9,231,000	350,778,000

*Estimated.

The favorable reports on the new corn crop and prospects that farmers will be forced to sell part of their reserve supplies from the 1938 crop to make room for new grain were responsible for losses of ½ to ¾ cent a bushel in Chicago Board of Trade futures prices.

Bumper Soy Bean Crop.

Surratt's report said that a large part of the Illinois soy bean crop has reached or passed the bloom stage, and the more advanced fields are podding. The present outlook is for a large crop on a record acreage.

December soy beans on the Chicago market dropped to a new seasonal low. Selling was due to increased country offerings of new crop beans for deferred shipment. Closing prices showed losses of ⅝ to ⅞ cent a bushel.

Wheat futures held within a range of 1 cent, and were ⅛ to ¼ cent lower at the finish.

Household Finance Files Issue to Acquire Ohio Unit

A registration certificate was filed with the Securities and Exchange commission at Washington yesterday for the Household Finance corporation of Chicago, covering 9,594 shares of common stock. The shares will be offered in the acquisition of the Household Finance company, an Ohio company, on the basis of 1.8 shares of parent company stock for each share of the Ohio company's stock.

WALLACE BARS EXPORT SUBSIDY FOR LARD, FATS

But Weighs Credits Through Bank.

BY JOHN FISHER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15.—Secretary of Agriculture Wallace ruled today that an export subsidy program on lard and other fats and oils is not waranted.

He barred this means of trying to boost low prices for lard and fats after making public an analysis by an economist of the department. This analysis predicted an improvement this year through a contemplated decline in imports and an increase in exports.

Wallace said that the department still is considering other proposals for relieving the condition of large stocks and low prices in fats and oils.

Study Diversion to Soap Trade.

Among these proposals, he said, are:

1. Domestic diversion of some of the surplus edible fats and oils to the soap trade.

2. The purchase of lard and possibly other pork products for distribution to the needy. This program, if it becomes necessary to undertake it, probably will begin late this fall.

3. Additional increases in exports of lard and soy beans through "the underwriting of sound credit transactions." Such a program, he said, "would be undertaken by the Export-Import bank and its possibilities are being discussed with bank officials."

Wallace said lard and cottonseed oil shortening soon will be made available through the surplus commodity stamp plan to persons receiving public assistance. Late this fall consideration will be given to including other pork products in the stamp plan.

Silent on German Barter.

The department remained silent on proposals for a barter deal with Germany whereby American lard would be exchanged for noncompeting German products. Wallace earlier had indicated his doubts that such a deal could be made. Observers say there are visible handicaps to completion of such arrangements.

Eager as the department might be to reduce accumulated stocks of lard and fats through increased exports, it is not considered likely that the administration would enter a barter deal with the Nazis after having assailed the Nazi barter principle, imposed countervailing [penalty] duties on German imports and taken other steps to chastise the Nazis for political and economic policies which have been frowned upon by the Roosevelt régime.

Embassy Reports Negotiations.

The German embassy has said that its first secretary, Dr. Wilhelm Tannanberg, has been conducting negotiations for a lard barter deal, but both the agriculture and state departments have denied such negotiations.

Midwestern packing and farm interests have backed such a deal and have suggested that farming implements and equipment such as fence wire might be accepted in exchange for lard. The agriculture department says, however, that it has found no German goods which could be accepted as noncompeting.

When the barter arrangement for exchange of American cotton for British rubber was completed state department officials said they had concentrated on that deal and had no time for consideration of a similar deal with Germany.

Deny Plans Are Similar.

Besides, they were particularly careful to deny any similarity between the American-British transaction and similar arrangements by Germany under its barter economy, although many observers say there was little difference.

Packers and farmers have more recently tried to get congressmen interested, but they have been unable to make much headway against the administration's reciprocal trade treaty program which makes concessions to some nations, but imposes penalties against German imports.

Treasury Buys More Bonds for Investment in July

Joint Hearings May Speed Up Coal Decisions

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15.—In an effort to expedite its hearings on proposed minimum prices, the bituminous coal division of the department of interior announced today it is considering the consolidation of hearings on individual protests against the prices.

Percy Tetlow foresees delay in hearings.

Hearings on proposed minimum rates for various marketing areas throughout the country began on July 24, starting with the eastern region. The piling up of complaints and formal protests so retarded the hearings that the division still is confined to the eastern area, although it originally expected to reach decisions on prices for the midwestern area by Aug. 7.

Southeast Is Next.

After completion of hearings on New England protests, the southeast will be heard. Percy Tetlow, technical adviser to the director of the division, said last night that he did not think the midwest could be heard before Aug. 22. Another reliable source said today, however, that it may be after Labor day before complaints on proposed prices for the Chicago area can be heard.

Soft coal producers, consumers, and transportation interests have arisen en masse to protest the government's attempt to fix coal prices, which they say is a revival of the powers which the old national recovery administration tried to exercise until it was killed by the Supreme court.

The division announced it has received 286 petitions or letters protesting against one or more of the proposed price quotations from the more than 11,500 producers whom the new prices will affect.

Consumers Join in Fight.

In addition to the protests from producers, the division said it has received 154 protests from consumers or representatives of consumers. The consumers sought changes in the mine prices proposed for coal delivery into their market areas.

Virtually all of the producers, the division said, want proposed mines prices raised or lowered in relation to those of their competitors in certain markets.

"Where a study of the protests, now under way, reveals the issues in individual protests to be identical, and where other conditions will permit, it may be possible to save considerable time by conducting the hearings by groups of protests," the coal division announced.

Personal Appearances Not Required.

The division also announced that it would not be necessary for all of the persons who have filed protests to appear in person at the hearings held here for them to be considered in making the final decisions on the prices.

Abe Fortas, general counsel for the coal division, said parties who intended to rely on arguments do not need to appear at the hearings, but may file briefs. He said their protests and briefs would receive the same consideration as if they appeared in person. After the final hearings are completed the division will establish minimum prices and marketing rules and regulations for the industry.

MEXICO CHARGES OIL FIRMS BALK TRUCE ATTEMPT

MEXICO CITY, Mex., Aug. 15 (AP).—Eduardo Hay, Mexican foreign minister, tonight assailed the "recalcitrant" attitude of expropriated oil companies and charged they had forced a suspension of negotiations looking toward a settlement.

His statement was a reply to one issued by Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state in Washington, D. C., who yesterday demanded an early settlement of the controversy.

Hay said the companies rejected the United States government's suggestion of a "mixed council" to operate the oil properties the moment the suggestion was referred to Mexico. He added the Mexican ambassador in Washington was obliged "to make the necessary rectifications, suspending the negotiations."

However, Hay said, "Mexico is willing, on the bases proposed by Mexico or other bases equally constructive, to renew conversations with the companies."

COTTON SUPPLY AUG. 1 LARGEST EVER RECORDED

Season's Exports at 60 Year Low.

The amount of cotton held in the United States on Aug. 1 was the largest for that date since the government began compilation of the statistics, it was disclosed yesterday. Exports of the staple from this country during the 1938-'39 season which ended July 31 were the smallest in sixty years.

The census bureau at Washington, D. C. reported the cotton carryover was 13,032,611 bales on Aug. 1. The department of agriculture recently forecast a cotton crop of 11,412,000 bales this year. That will be added to the carryover to make up the supply for the 1939-'40 season.

There was a carryover of 11,533,439 bales a year ago, and 4,498,848 bales two years ago. The average for the ten years, 1929-'38, was 6,744,800 bales.

11.6 Million Bales Stored.

Of the supply on hand at the end of July, 11,620,955 bales were held in public storage warehouses and at compresses. A large share of the holdings is pledged to the United States government as security for loans to planters.

Cotton exports for the season which began in August, 1938, and ended with July, 1939, totaled 3,327,000 bales, valued at $170,682,000, compared with 5,598,000 bales, valued at $306,585,000 in the preceding season. Exports declined 40.6 per cent in quantity and 44.3 per cent in value.

"The principal factor in the sharp decline in cotton exports to the lowest figure in the last sixty years," the announcement said, "was the drop in shipments to the United Kingdom, which fell 1,151,000 bales or 74 per cent as compared with shipments in the preceding season."

Notwithstanding the unprecedented carryover, 131,584 bales of cotton were imported into this country during the season just closed.

July Exports Smaller.

Cotton exports from the United States during July totaled 107,000 bales valued at $5,718,000, compared with 114,000 bales valued at $5,945,000 in June, and 196,000 bales valued at $10,141,000 in July, 1938.

During the last cotton season, France, Germany and Belgium took less than half of the supply acquired in the preceding season. Poland and the Netherlands bought substantially less. Exports to China were the largest since the 1934-'35 season, and exports to Japan and Sweden also were larger than in the 1937-'38 season, but the gains were not sufficient to offset the declines in shipments to Great Britain and other countries.

Predict Increase in Exports.

After the cotton figures were made public, associates of Secretary Wallace expressed confidence that the recently inaugurated export subsidy plan would stimulate exports during the current cotton season. Under this plan, the government will pay a bounty of 1½ cents a pound, or about $7.50 a bale, on all exports this season.

Wallace has expressed the hope this season's exports would reach 6,000,000 bales through the payment of 45 million dollars in bounties. Congress provided more than 50 million dollars for this purpose.

New York Stocks.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 15.—Continuing its recovery, the stock market today scored gains ranging from fractions to more than a point. Final quotations represented slight recessions from earlier tops, when advances running to two points were posted in two brief buying splurges. Today's rise was the third in succession.

Further apparent easing of the European tension on reports of a Danzig "appeasement" and favorable business developments at home were advanced by observers as reasons for the market's improved performance.

Reflecting the favorable half year report issued by the company, Chrysler spurted 1⅜ points on good buying. General Motors and other automobile stocks edged fractionally higher.

Steel shares, notably United States Steel and Bethlehem, advanced substantial fractions. Rubber shares marked time.

Formal absorption by the Tennessee Valley authority of the properties of the Tennessee Electric Power company was the signal for considerable activity in power and light shares. After substantial gains had been scored, however, demand died down and some concessions resulted.

Rails turned in a relatively poor performance. Oils ruled firm. Merchandising issues closed mixed in a narrow range. Most aviation issues gave ground.

Among the "blue chip" issues, Allied Chemical gained 2 points, Westinghouse, 1¼, and American Telephone and Telegraph, 2⅛ points.

Loft was all over the tape in the morning and gained modestly on the day. Marine Midland was another active issue but closed unchanged.

New York Bonds.

New York, Aug. 16 (AP).—Railroad loans rallied smartly today, touching off a general advance in all divisions of the bond market. The volume of transactions was light. Total sales were $4,169,000, face value, but this was far better than the $2,952,700 recorded yesterday, the smallest weekday turnover since July 3.

The boost in quotations was attributed to an improved peace outlook in Europe and to continued good business news at home.

Quotations on practically all the active United States governments increased, some as much as 11-32 point. Foreign dollar loans fell in step with the rest of the list, gaining generally under the leadership of the Latin American issues.

Chicago Stocks.

Midde West, the volume leader, set the pace for other issues on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday, rising ¾ point on a turnover of 5,050 shares. Commonwealth Edison, Marshall Field, and Noblitt-Sparks made smaller gains, the last named reaching its highest price of the year.

In less active trading, Central Illinois Public Service improved 3 points, Mapes Consolidated Manufacturing 2¾, and Gardner Denver ½, all setting new 1939 highs.

The day's turnover was 28,000 shares in 102 issues. Of these, fifty-two advanced, twenty-three declined and twenty-seven closed unchanged.

Bank Stocks.

Continental Illinois Shares were bid ½ point higher in yesterday's trading in Chicago bank stocks. Northern Trust was bid 2 points lower.

COTTON

Trading in new style cotton contracts was begun yesterday in the New York and New Orleans markets. Outside interest was smaller than anticipated in the new contract. The bulk of business was in the old style future. The basic delivery grade of cotton on the latter is ⅞ inch staple, while on the new it is 15/16 inches.

Cotton prices advanced about .10 cent per lb in the early trading on buying by mills and spot interests but reacted later on hedging pressure. Closing trades were .01c lower to .02c a lb higher. The new style contract in New York was .13c to .18c a lb premium over the old.

Commodities

Prices of rubber declined in trading at New York yesterday despite an increase in London. The rise abroad reflected reports that London and Liverpool rubber stocks total 54,250 tons and are considered "dangerously low" in view of the tense international situation. These supplies are only half as large as in September, 1938. German purchases, estimated at more than 3,000 tons since the first of August, have helped to deplete supplies considerably.

The Rubber Manufacturers association reported July consumption of crude rubber in the United States was higher than a year ago at 43,880 long tons. The year ago total was 34,219, and in June, 1939, consumption was 47,259 tons. Domestic stocks of crude rubber on hand July 1 were 174,240 tons, compared with the June 30 total of 181,794 tons, and 282,785 on July 31, 1938.

Sugar futures gained slightly as better business developed in American and London raw sugar markets. Philippine raw sugar, to be delivered this month, sold at 2.82 cents a pound, up 0.02 cent.

Hides led the group of commodities working into lower ground with a decline of 0.38 to 0.41 cent a pound. Others lower at the close included both coffee contracts and lead. Cocoa, copper, and silk moved upward. Wool tops were irregular.

NLRB ORDERS BETHLEHEM END EMPLOYES' PLAN

Upholds C. I. O. Complaint Under Wagner Act.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15 (AP).—The National Labor Relations board today ordered the Bethlehem Steel company and the Bethlehem Steel corporation, Bethlehem, Pa., to disestablish employé representation plans at ten plants in Pennsylvania, New York, and Maryland.

Premier King of Canada, who helped set up plan.

The board ruled that the representation plans, established by the steel corporation shortly after the world war, constituted "a company project" in violation of the Wagner act.

In announcing its decision the board said it found that, after the representation plan was installed at each plant, "Bethlehem engaged in a long course of interference designed to insure the fact that they [the plans] would remain the chief form of representation of its employés." The plans were designed, it added, to prevent any other form of labor organization from replacing them.

Complaint Made By C. I. O.

The attack on the Bethlehem representation plan was initiated by the C. I. O. steel workers' organizing committee. The C. I. O. union brought the issue before the labor board on a complaint charging that the plan violated the Wagner act and prevented self-organization of steel workers.

The labor board order affects representation plans at plants in six Pennsylvania cities—Johnstown, Lebanon, Bethlehem, Rankin, Leetsdale, and Steelton—and others in Lackawanna, N. Y., and Sparrows Point, Md.

In ordering Bethlehem to give up the employé representation plan, the board directed the steel concern to cease recognizing the plan any longer as a medium for dealing with employés' grievances, labor disputes, wages, hours of employment and working conditions.

Other Allegations Dismissed.

At the same time the board dismissed allegations that Bethlehem offered inducements to employés not to aid the C. I. O. union, conducted a "back-to-work" movement, or maintained armed guards to interfere with labor organizing and peaceful picketing.

The board reviewed the operations of the Bethlehem plan from the time it was set up in 1918 with "the advice and assistance" of W. L. Mackenzie King, now prime minister of Canada. It included among its exhibits a letter to the employés in 1919 from Eugene G. Grace, Bethlehem president.

"It is with keen satisfaction," Grace wrote then, "that the management offers you a voice in the shaping of policies affecting your conditions of employment."

But the board held that the structure and functions of the plans "made them peculiarly subject to the employer interference and that they were incapable of serving as genuine representatives of the employés."

Board Explains Action.

The board said no general meetings of the employés were ever held, and that the amendment clauses of the plan "prevented the employés from changing the plans in any vital respects without the consent of the company."

In holding that the representation plans were company dominated, the board said that whenever employés' representatives met as committees they were paid the same rate received at their usual work, and the meeting places were provided by the company.

"Under all of these circumstances," the board said, "it is idle to suggest that the employés' representatives served the will of the employés, or that the plans representatives self-organization of employés which is contemplated by the [Wagner] act."

ORDER TOWERS FOR NEW EDISON POWER PROJECT

The Commonwealth Edison company yesterday awarded contracts for 160 steel transmission towers to be built by the Blaw-Knox company of Pittsburgh and the Aeromotor company of Chicago. The towers will be used to transmit power from the company's Powerton station, near Pekin, Ill., to its Crawford avenue station in Chicago.

A total of about $16,500,000 will be spent this year and next to improve facilities at Powerton.

Sale of Midland United Subsidiary Is Approved

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15 [Special].—The Securities and Exchange commission today approved an application of the Traction Light and Power company, a subsidiary of the Midland United company, for permission to sell all of its utility assets to the Central Indiana Power company and the Public Service company of Indiana. The cost to the acquiring companies will be $475,000 and $127,000, respectively.

Illinois Insurance Bureau Asks Review of Court Case

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 15 (AP).—The Illinois insurance department today asked the state Supreme court to review the Peoria county circuit court ruling setting aside a department order which revoked the license of the Universal Discount company of Peoria. The department had revoked the license on charges of violations of the small loans act.

RAILS' JULY REVENUE SET AT 297 MILLION; PASS YEAR AGO LEVEL

Operating revenues of ninety-two class 1 railroads in July were $297,393,346, the Association of American Railroads estimated yesterday. This compared with $243,624,962 in July, 1938, and $368,989,094 in July, 1930. The association said the ninety-two carriers represented 81.3 per cent of total operating revenues of all class 1 roads.

July operating revenues were 22 per cent above those for the corresponding month last year, but were 19.4 per cent less than in July, 1930, the association said.

Freight revenues of the reporting railroads amounted to $210,091,963 last month, against $192,546,172 in July, 1938, and $281,034,323 in July, 1930. Passenger revenues in July totaled $34,084,007, compared with $31,486,314 in July, 1938, and $54,882,460 in July, 1930.

2 MORE STATES TO SHUT WELLS IN OIL WRANGLE

Action by Oklahoma, New Mexico Decided.

ney General Gerald C. Mann to investigate. The commission regulates the Texas oil industry.

A purported photostatic copy of a contract between the Standard Oil of New Jersey and the Humble Oil company governing the sale of oil was turned over to the attorney general.

"It is, of course, an open secret that the Humble is a subsidiary of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, and it occurs to me that the inclosed document is proof of that fact," Sadler said.

Farish Denies Part.

He made public a telegram from W. S. Farish, president of the Standard of New Jersey, stating that company did not operate in Texas, had no control over the Humble Oil company, and did not influence the Humble in crude price reductions the latter made last week.

Sadler had asked Farish to cut the retail prices of gasoline 5 cents a gallon or to restore crude price reductions.

In a statement, Sadler declared:

"The first thing we have got to do in Texas to clean up the oil business is to run the Standard Oil company out of the state."

FINANCING FIRM SELLS NOTES TO REFUND BONDS

The sale of 30 million dollars of ten year 2¼ per cent notes to four large insurance companies was announced yesterday by the Commercial Credit company of Baltimore, engaged chiefly in financing installment sales of automobiles. A. E. Duncan, chairman of the company, said the proceeds would be used to retire outstanding 3¼ per cent debentures due in 1951, which have been called for payment on Sept. 30. Earlier this year, the company through bank loans redeemed 35 million dollars of 2¾ per cent debentures.

Preferred stock holders of the National Gypsum company approved issuance of 5 million dollars in long term debentures which are to be sold to retire outstanding obligations and liquidate bank loans.

CAA Orders Hearing Dec. 4 on Air Line Merger Plan

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15 (AP).—The Civil Aeronautics authority today ordered a public hearing for Dec. 4 on an application by United Air Lines to acquire control of and merge with Western Air Express. Several western senators have expressed opposition to the proposed consolidation. They contended it would be a step toward monopoly in the air transportation industry.

COLUMBIA GAS REPORTS RISE IN 1939 PROFIT

Quarter Net $2,980,470; Homestake Earns More.

Columbia Gas and Electric corporation and subsidiaries yesterday reported higher net income for the quarter ended June 30 than for the corresponding period last year. Profit was $2,980,470, or 11 cents a common share, compared with $1,844,104, or 2 cents a share, in the June quarter of 1938. Columbia Gas and Electric operates principally in Ohio, West Virginia, and Pennsylvania.

The system's net income in the first half of 1939 totaled $8,513,145, or 43 cents a share, against $6,333,901, or 25 cents a share, in the six months ended June 30, 1938. For the twelve months ended June, profit was $12,409,991, equal to 49 cents a share, against $11,733,586, or 43 cents a share, in the preceding twelve months.

Middle West Unit Earns More.

Central and South West Utilities company and subsidiaries announced earnings of $704,117 in the June quarter, compared with profit of $509,913 in the second quarter of 1938. For the six months ended June 30 net income totaled $1,274,737, against $1,004,595 in the first half of last year. Central and South West is an investment holding company controled by the Middle West corporation.

Homestake Mining company, largest domestic producer of gold, had profit of $4,231,035, equal to $2.11 a share, in the first six months of the current year. This compared with $3,301,505, or $1.64 a share, in the first half of 1938. The company's principal properties are at Lead, S. D.

Operations of Vanadium Corporation of America in the six months ended June 30 resulted in profit of $380,095, equal to $1.01 a share. In the corresponding period last year the corporation had net loss of $5,794. It controls the world's largest vanadium deposits, in Peru, and has plants at Bridgeville, Pa., and Niagara Falls, N. Y.

ORDERS TWO LOCOMOTIVES.

The Maine Central railroad has ordered two Diesel-electric switching locomotives from the American Locomotive company, it was reported recently. They are 600 horsepower engines.

AAA WILL PICK CORN BIN SITES IN TWO WEEKS

State Committees to Meet in Capital.

Location of the 25,500 steel bins being built for the storage of surplus corn will be determined at a conference in Washington, D. C., within two weeks it was indicated yesterday. Chairman of Agricultural Adjustment administration committees from ten corn belt states concluded a two day meeting in the Morrison hotel and reported the final decision will rest with Washington officials.

Although the Commodity Credit corporation had requested corn belt railroads to provide free sites for the government owned bins, along with cheap rates for the handling of about 150 million bushels of corn, the railroads reiterated their refusal to grant the requests.

Discuss Farm Program.

The AAA chairmen, meeting with Harry N. Schooler of Washington, acting director for the north central region, discussed the corn resealing program and the entire agricultural program for next year. The government is having the steel bins built at a cost of $3,611,520 to store 43,279,000 bushels of shelled corn which farmers lack facilities for storing.

The government has advanced loans to farmers who have pledged 257 million bushels of corn as security for the loans, made at the rate of 57 cents a bushel. Farmers are expected to turn over about 150 million bushels of this grain is satisfaction of their loans, but the storage bins now being built will handle only about one-third of the corn expected to be turned over to the government.

County Agents to Report.

Delivery of the steel bins is expected to begin in about three weeks, according to Schooler. The locations will be determined after county AAA agents have forwarded to AAA officials at Washington their recommendations on the number needed in the corn belt, and after they have been pro-rated to the various districts.

Schooler said the railroads' refusal to give the Commodity Credit corporation special consideration in the matter of sites and freight rates was not discussed at the meeting here.

In an effort to keep this corn on the farms and out of commercial channels, the government has invited farmers to extend their loans for another year and reseal the grain on the farms, offering as an inducement to pay a storage fee of 7 cents a bushel.

BRITISH IMPORTS DECLINE IN JULY; EXCEED YEAR AGO

LONDON, Aug. 15 [Special].—Preliminary figures were issued today by the British Board of Trade showing the trends in British foreign trade in July. They showed imports were less than in June but more than in July, 1938. July exports were larger than a month and a year earlier.

[In thousands of dollars.]

	July, 1939.	June, 1938.	July, 1938.
Imports	$363,348	$384,578	$345,735
Exports	188,862	186,710	185,340
Re-exports ...	17,434	20,160	21,317

Exports of yarn cloth from the United Kingdom in July were valued at $20,830,680, compared with $17,505,720 in June. Imports of iron and steel products into Great Britain totaled 22,746 tons last month, against 199,933 in June. Exports of iron and steel products amounted to 177,226 tons, against 162,289 in June.

OIL DEALER SUES BIG COMPANIES FOR CONSPIRACY

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 15 (AP).—Counsel for Charles E. Austin, Inc., independent oil distributors of Detroit, filed a $2,700,000 damage suit in federal court today charging five major oil companies with conspiracy to destroy competition. Named defendants were the Socony-Vacuum Oil company, the Sun Oil company, the Pure Oil company, the Shell Oil company, and the Hickok Oil corporation.

The suit, brought under the Sherman anti-trust act, charged that the companies and several officers entered into a conspiracy to operate Puritan Stations, Inc., as an independent company to destroy competition by the Austin organization. The Puritan company, the complaint alleged, opened stations near Austin establishments and sold gasoline at prices below cost.

SEVERAL TRADE GROUPS INDICTED UNDER TRUST ACT

New York, Aug. 15 (AP).—A special federal grand jury today returned two sweeping indictments charging violations of the Sherman anti-trust act by several trade association firms.

One indictment charged the Kraft Paper association, thirty-five corporations and fourteen individuals with conspiring to restrain interstate commerce by limiting the production of kraft paper and artificially maintaining the price of the commodity.

The second bill charged that the National Container association, twelve regional container associations, twenty-seven corporations and twenty-eight individuals conspired to restrain interstate commerce in corrugated and solid fiber board shipping containers by limiting production and fixing prices.

Hearing on German Bond Issue Postponed by SEC

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15 (AP).—The Securities and Exchange commission's hearing on the German government's alleged failure to give full information on its $70,000,000 bond issue was postponed today to Sept. 18. The SEC has charged that the German government, in a registration statement covering the intended issuance of $70,000,000 of securities, failed to report required facts relating to the government's financial condition. The hearing was scheduled to begin today.

TVA NOW ONLY POWER PRODUCER IN TENNESSEE

$78,600,000 Paid Over to Private Utility.

New York, Aug. 15 [Special].—Control of the properties of the Tennessee Electric Power company was transferred today to the Tennessee Valley authority and its associates, thirty-eight municipalities and rural electric coöperatives. As a result, the government becomes the sole producer and wholesaler of power in Tennessee.

David Lilienthal, chairman of TVA.

The transaction was completed when Wendell L. Willkie, president of the Commonwealth and Southern corporation, of which Tennessee Electric Power was a subsidiary, accepted checks for $78,600,000 and handed over deeds for the property. The buyers took possession at midnight tonight.

TVA Pays 45 Millions.

One of the checks, for forty-five millions of dollars, was handed over by David Lilienthal, chairman of TVA; the rest came from the representatives of the local Tennessee governments. Gov. Prentice Cooper was present and spoke enthusiastically of the New Deal acquisition of the power properties, although the sale will deprive Tennessee of several million dollars of taxes collected annually from the private utility.

Although Willkie smiled and joked today, his surrender to the TVA was not a willing one. For nearly six years he had fought to retain Tennessee Electric Power.

But TVA, backed up by the federal government's millions, started duplicating or planning to duplicate facilities and his company was forced to sell at what he called a secrifice price.

Ads Tell of Sacrifice.

In full page newspaper advertisements today Willkie reiterated his contention that the sale had been made at about 80 per cent of the properties' real value, "because we could not stay in business and compete with virtually tax free and heavily subsidized plants."

Earlier he had referred to the government's ruthless opposition to utilities in Tennessee as "one of the most outrageous pieces of state socialization of private enterprise ever proposed in democratic America."

Today, accepting the 45 million dollar check as movie and newspaper cameras clicked in the hot office of the First National Bank of New York, he remarked:

"This is a lot of money for a couple of Indiana boys to be kicking around." [He and Lilienthal are from Indiana.]

Total TVA costs now exceed a half billion dollars.

SPIEGEL LOANED $5,000,000.

In July Spiegel, Inc., borrowed $5,000,000 on 1¾ per cent promissory notes due June 30, 1941, from sixteen banks and trust companies which it did not name. The sum renewed earlier borrowings at the same interest rate.

Day by Day on the Farm

By Homer C. Neisz

Vegetables Thrive.

August 15, 1939.

VEGETABLES are maturing rapidly in the sample garden at the farm since rains last week soaked the ground thoroughly for the first time in nearly a month. Soil in the garden had dried out and cracked open and the vegetable crops were suffering, but they made quick response to the needed moisture.

The list of vegetables now being gathered regularly includes tomatoes, cucumbers, peppers, string beans, eggplant, cabbage, beets, carrots, potatoes, sweet corn, parsley, and green onions.

Some of the vegetable soy beans are expected to be ready for the table by the end of this week. The plants are well loaded with bean pods and the pods are filling. This is the first year since edible soy beans have been grown at the farm that some were not ready to pick by Aug. 15. The first to mature have been Giant Green, an early variety. None of this variety was planted this year.

Cucumber Vines Die.

Part of the cucumber vines died during the dry weather early in August. The gardener says there still are plenty of vines left to supply all the cucumbers needed.

About fifteen kinds of annual flowers are blooming around the borders of the garden. There are blooms of many sizes, shapes, and colors. Some of the flowers are in rows; others were planted in irregular shaped beds to give a more natural effect. There are a number of varieties of the more common kinds, such as zinnias, petunias, and marigolds.

Cultivation of the garden now is confined to hoeing the late vegetables and other row crops where the plants are not too large. The vine crops cannot be cultivated because the vines have covered the ground between the rows and taken full possession. Good sized squashes, pumpkins, cantaloupes, and watermelons are plentiful.

There has been lots of sweet corn for use each day since the first ears were ready to pick. Both hybrid and open pollinated strains were planted. The gardener thinks the hybrid strains are better than the ordinary golden bantam variety. He says the ears on the hybrid corn are larger and sweeter.

More Suckers on Corn.

More suckers than usual grew out from the bases of the sweet corn stalks during the rainy weather early in the summer. The suckers were removed from some rows and allowed to grow on others. Stalks that were suckered produced the largest ears.

The potato crop has been disappointing. The early potatoes made poor yields and most of the plants dried up soon after the first potatoes were large enough to dig. The plants apparently were affected with blight. The late potatoes are more promising, but yields are expected to be poor.

AUTO INDUSTRY HELD EXAMPLE OF PRIVATE EFFORT

Studebaker Head Warns of Federal Control.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 15 [Special].—The great progress made by the automobile industry in the ten years since the start of the depression in 1929 is the direct result of private enterprise when allowed freedom of action, Paul G. Hoffman, president of the Studebaker corporation declared here today.

Paul G. Hoffman.

Hoffman spoke at a meeting at the company's proving grounds here to discuss plans for the 1940 models. Public announcements of the new cars will be made in several weeks.

He said the public has only to look at the sorry plight of the railroads, hamstrung by governmental regulation, to get an idea of what might happen to the automobile industry shoud it fall into the control of the politicians.

Manufacturers Use Wits.

Hoffman declared that the depression, which started about ten years ago, had one fortunate result so far as the motoring public is concerned. It forced the manufacturers to use their wits to the utmost to produce automobiles to attract a public whose combined annual income had fallen from about 81 billions to 40 billions.

"Our industry either had to build automobiles with improvements sufficiently enticing to cause sales or fold up," he said as he mentioned the many casualties in the automobile business.

Despite the better cars now on the market as compared with the 1929 models the public actually pays much lower prices than ten years ago. Labor also is faring much better, he continued.

Cites Increase in Wages.

Studebaker employés now get an average hourly rate of 98½ cents as compared with 70 cents in 1929. Although their actual working hours have been reduced, their average annual earnings have risen, he said.

"The public has gained and the workers are in better position than in 1929—the banner year for the industry," Hoffman said, "but what about the manufacturers? Here is a situation that it would be well for the public to ponder. In 1937—a good year for the industry—the average net profit per automobile in this country was just under $30. The net profit of Studebaker fell from $83.32 per car in 1929 to $8.48 in 1937."

R-K-O REORGANIZATION.

I hold a Radio-Keith-Orpheum 6 per cent bond due in 1941. Will you tell me if this bond has any value? It has paid no interest for years.—I. N.

Answer: Radio-Keith-Orpheum debenture 6s of 1941 are listed on the New York bond market. They are currently selling for about 75, or $750 a $1,000 bond.

This company went into receivership in 1933. Since then various interests have been working on a reorganization plan which has now been confirmed by the court. Articles of incorporation for a new company of the same name have been filed in Delaware.

The reorganization plan provides that holders of the debenture 6s of 1941 will receive one share of new 6 per cent $100 par preferred and five shares of new no par common stock for each $100 principal amount of debentures. When the plan is finally consummated, securities may be transferred through the trustee, Central Hanover Bank and Trust company, New York.

SYLVANIA INDUSTRIAL.

I would appreciate information on Sylvania Industrial. What does the company do?—R. E.

Answer: Sylvania Industrial corporation ranks second only to du Pont Cellophane Company, Inc., in the manufacture of cellophane wrapping material. It distributes its product under the trade name "Sylphrap." Related cellophane products are also manufactured.

Incorporated in 1932, Sylvania Industrial has reported earnings in each year. Dividends have been paid annually on the no par common stock, which is the sole capitalization. There is no funded debt. Net income, earnings a share, and dividends paid a share in recent years:

1934	$996,469	$2.37	$1.00
1935	971,504	2.31	1.00
1936	1,161,560	2.67	2.05
1937	598,431	1.38	0.95
1938	662,106	1.55	0.50

Earnings for the first six months this year were $516,350, or $1.21 a share, against $185,904, or 43 cents a share, in the same 1938 period. Three quarterly dividends of 25 cents each have been paid or declared so far this year. The company had current assets of $2,437,430 and current liabilities of $704,307 at June 30, 1939.

BENTON HARBOR FRUIT PRICES.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

A further narrowing of the price range in the hog market occurred at the Chicago stockyards yesterday when top grades fell slightly while other stock ruled strong to higher.

The day's top of $6.15 established a new low for more than five years and showed 5 cents loss from the preceding session. Prices for the day averaged $5.10, up 10 cents and highest since the middle of last week.

The trend of the lamb market was reversed yesterday when buyers balked at recent advances in costs. Prices broke mostly 15 to 25 cents.

Live costs of most steers and yearlings slumped 10 to 25 cents yesterday in one of the draggiest markets of the season. Many kinds reached the lowest levels of the year.

Save the Difference
Commonwealth's rate is less on all loans than the maximum rate permitted by law. You do not have to be an "executive" or have a "special" OUR reduced rate. Commonwealth's monthly rate of 2½% on loan balances of $150 or less and only 2% on loan balances above applies to ALL TYPES AND CLASSES OF LOANS. Any one who can make regular payments can qualify; there is no discrimination. EVERYBODY GETS THIS SAME RATE. Of course, persons whose incomes are above average can afford to make larger payments and thus make substantial reductions in their loan cost.

No credit inquiries of friends or relatives. Applications received by personal call, letter, or telephone will receive immediate attention.
